HEAD OF KLAN AT TIPTON SAYS NELSON NEVER WAS A MEMBER

Dan Chapman Also Ascertains B. L. Morris and F. A. Collins Do Not Belong to Lodge There.

C. S. BURNS DROPPED FROM ROLLS, HE SAYS

Burns Reiterates He Saw Nelson Initiated and Declares He Cannot Be Mistaken of the Fact.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

TIPTON, Mo., Oct. 22.—Dan Chapman, "exalted cyclops" of the Tipton lodge of the Ku Klux Klan, today declared that Dr. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for Governor, is not and never was a member of that lodge.

Chapman said also that B. L. Morris and F. A. Collins, who have made a joint affidavit that they saw the name of "A. W. Nelson, Bunceton," on the membership book of the Tipton lodge, are not members of that lodge, and therefore could not have had access to its membership book.

As to C. S. Burns, who has made an affidavit that he saw Dr. Nelson initiated into the Klan at California, 14 miles from here, Chapman said that he was formerly a member of the Tipton lodge, having taken the oath two years ago, but that he had been dropped for nonpayment of dues. The word "denied" now appears on the roll beside Burns' name, Chapman said.

And as to the open-air meeting held at California in June, 1923, which was the occasion described by Burns in his affidavit, Chapman said that the persons initiated then were made members of the lodge at California, not of the Tipton lodge, and therefore that the name of a person initiated at California would not be on the Tipton lodge book.

Chapman also made it known that he has signed three affidavits, which are in the hands of the Democratic State Committee at its St. Louis headquarters. The affidavits set forth (1) that Dr. Nelson is not and has not been a member of the Tipton lodge; (2) that Morris and Collins are not members of the Tipton lodge; and (3) that Burns is a "denied" member of the Tipton lodge.

"Dr. Nelson's name was never on our records either as a member or an applicant for membership," Chapman said to the correspondent.

"I visited that open-air meeting at California, as a visiting Klan officer," Chapman continued. "It was all under the auspices of the California lodge, and the 35 or so who were initiated became members of that lodge and not of the Tipton lodge or any other."

"There was a crowd at the general meeting, which came first. But at the initiation, within the enclosure, only Klan members were permitted to stay. The place was well lighted, and if Dr. Nelson had been there, I believe I would have seen him, as he is well known in that section. I did not see him. I don't remember seeing Burns, either."

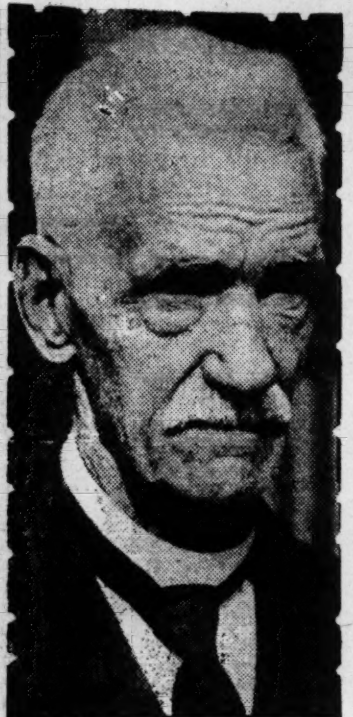

Asked whether he believed that Burns and the other affidants had violated Klan obligations by their statements, Chapman said, "I certainly do." He said he did not suppose any action would be taken, as Burns had been dropped anyway, and the Tipton lodge of the Klan would have no jurisdiction over the two others.

Burns repeated to the correspondent, earlier in the day, the charges made in his affidavit. He said he talked the matter over with H. O. Olney, cashier of the Citizens Bank of Syracuse, Morgan County, before making the affidavit, which Burns said was made as a means of helping Dr. Nelson's Republican opponent, Sam A. Baker.

Burns is a farmer, living on a 140-acre tract about two miles east of Syracuse. He is 41 years old, and has a wife and five children. The oldest is 18. He is a member of the Tipton lodge of the Klan. Morgan County all his life. The correspondent saw him at the farm. Chapman said Nelson was a Klansman, he said in reply to questions, "I have known him for 15 years."

TURN IN STAR HE WORE FOR HALF A CENTURY

PATROLMAN JOHN QUIGLEY.

WOMAN GASHES HER ARM FOR BLOOD TO FEED CHILD

Both Found Alive After Three Days in Mountains of California; Husband Killed in Auto Wreck.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 22.—T. C. Kelly, missing since Saturday, was found dead at the foot of a precipice of the State highway in the San Bernardino Mountains today. His wife was alive, but injured, and Meredith Waterbury, 5 years old, also was alive, but dropped from death by thirst and starvation by blood from Mrs. Kelly's arm, which she had gashed to save the child.

The automobile, for which poses have been searching since Sunday night, was found crushed at the foot of a 900-foot drop off the highway. Kelly, who had been driving, apparently was crushed to death in the fall.

Mrs. Kelly and the child, a daughter of Mrs. Meredith Waterbury of Hollywood, were found about 200 feet farther down in the chasm where they had been thrown when the automobile plunged from the roadway.

The woman and child were injured and it was said by physicians they probably would live. Mrs. Kelly, nearly delirious, told how she had opened a vein in her arm and had fed the blood to the girl to keep her alive throughout the chill mountain nights.

Kelly's son was attracted to the spot where he found his father's body by the bark of his father's dog. The dog had been a companion of the elder Kelly.

HOARDED FORTUNE FOUND IN HOME OF VIRGINIA WOMAN

Guard Placed at Residence of Late Miss Shumate, Who Hid Gold in Every Nook of House.

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 22.—A bonded caretaker has been placed on guard at the residence here of Miss Martha Shumate, wealthy spinster, who died last week, leaving a hoarded fortune.

The guard was established when crowds, lured by the reports of hidden treasure, threatened to overrun the premises. Bank officials said the woman had drawn several thousand dollars from her account recently to distribute in bequests among her friends. It also became known that hardly a receptacle in the house has failed to disclose money. Clocks, picture frames, covered plates and cracks and crevices poured out old gold and bank notes. Much of the gold coin is said to be of old mintage, many pieces being from the California mint, coined while the gold rush was at its height.

Miss Shumate was the last of a prominent Frederick County family that had conserved riches through a century.

Naboth's Vineyard

We all know the old story of how Ahab coveted Naboth's vineyard, and how he schemed to get the property. Naboth, you see, had a vineyard, and he was a good fellow, and he possessed himself of it.

To own real estate is a laudable ambition, but envy of your neighbor's home is not only foolish, but unnecessary.

There are homes and home sites for sale in and around St. Louis as beautiful and as well located as those already occupied.

OFFICER QUIGLEY SPURNS EASY JOB AND QUITS AT 79

"My Hour Has Struck," He Tells Police Board When Offered Place as Turnkey.

ON FORCE FOR HALF CENTURY

Will Get $3000 Retirement Benefit but No Pension Because He Was Dropped for Infirmities.

John Quigley's hour has struck. His day has come. At the age of 79, after 49 years on the police force, he has turned in his star.

Since April 16, 1875, John Quigley has been a policeman. There is no demerit mark on his record. There is nothing against him now except his age and the infirmity that comes with age. But age and infirmity are disqualifications for a policeman. So Quigley has been dropped from the rolls.

Quigley's first service was in the Angelica Street District, North St. Louis. Later he was brought downtown. When he became old, as age is counted among policemen, he was assigned for years to an easy job in the corridor of the customhouse until Postmaster Colin M. Selph, in 1920, complained that he was too old and asked that the younger man be assigned there. Quigley was sent for a while to the City Treasurer's office and then to the Carondelet "sticks."

Summoned by Board.

The past year he reported on and off duty, according to his physical condition. Finally yesterday, reluctantly, the Police Board summoned him. He stood before the board, a policeman to the last, his uniform neat, his buttons shining, but standing at erect attention cost him a painful effort. "Officer Quigley," said President Brookman, "you have served a long time. You are getting old and infirm. We don't want to drop you from the force, but you are no longer able to walk a beat. We are willing to make you a turnkey or a prison guard. Will you accept?"

"No, gentlemen," said Officer Quigley. "I understand your position perfectly. It's all right. You can put a younger man in my place. I thank you for your courtesy in offering to make me a turnkey, but I'm too old to walk a beat. I'm too old to handle prisoners. I only hope you're not dissatisfied with my record."

"Record Absolutely Clear."

"No. Your record is absolutely clear. You had better reconsider and take an easy job as turnkey for the rest of your days."

"No. It takes a young and vigorous policeman to combat young and vigorous criminals. I'm too old to combat them on the streets. I'm too old to handle them after they're brought in. My hour has struck. My day has come. I will retire. You can drop me from the rolls."

So the entry was made: "Dropped because of physical incapacity." There is no pension for the policeman who becomes physically incapacitated in the service. Several times the public has been asked to provide for this by voting for an amendment to the Constitution, but it has failed to do so. There is a retirement benefit of $3000 from the Police Relief Association.

Quigley lives in his home at 4138 Castlemore avenue. A daughter keeps house for him. Of the 350 men who were on the force when he joined it, he is the only survivor as far as he knows.

SPECULATION WRECKS A BANK

VIENNA, Oct. 22.—The private bank of Breiviller & Co. of one of the oldest and best known firms of Vienna, founded in 1802, was declared insolvent today. The liabilities were estimated at $500,000. The assets are said to be considerable, but are not realizable at present.

Franc speculation by clients was declared to be responsible for the failure.

Government to Retain Bat Cave.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Discovery of mineral deposits in Bat Cave, in Arizona, has prompted the Interior Department to retain for the Government the site, embracing about 500 square feet, which was sought by the Santa Fe Railroad. Miners in the form of ruin, it was explained today, is reported to be present in large deposits, and the original rock debris in the cave appears to be saturated with minerals. The mineralization is ascribed to the fact that the cave for many years has been the breeding place for millions of bats.

BANK ROBBERS GET ABOUT $4000 AT BETHALTO, ILL.

Men in Auto Hold Up State Institution There and Flee in Direction of St. Louis.

WOMAN ASSISTANT CASHIER IN CHARGE

Miss Luna Bowman, a Man Working on Safe and a Customer Compelled to Lie on Floor.

Robbers held up the State Bank of Bethalto, Ill., eight miles east of Alton, about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and escaped with between $4000 and $5000. They drove in an automobile in the direction of St. Louis.

Miss Luna Bowman, assistant cashier, was in charge in the absence of Harry Kelsey, the cashier, when two men entered the bank. They compelled her and George R. Ward of St. Louis, who was working on the safe, and J. V. Apple, a customer, to lie on the floor.

Mistaking Ward for a bank employee they asked him where the bonds were. He said he did not know. One of the robbers kicked him in the face.

The money was taken from the counter and from the open safe. No bonds were taken. From Miss Bowman and Ward the robbers took watches and from Ward $250 in currency. Apple was not robbed. As the robbers were leaving, Charles Schoenewald entered. They did not molest her.

The automobile in which the robbers entered the town had not proceeded direct to the bank, but had been stopped two blocks away. Two men got out of it and two remained in it. After the first two entered the bank the others drove to the north side of the building and waited for them to come out.

LOCUSTS DEVASTATE FIELDS AND EAT STRAW HOUSES

Burning Oil Used on Mexican Railways to Clear Tracks of Grasshoppers.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—Ten thousand inhabitants of Tlaxcala, in the State of Vera Cruz, are being terrorized by a swarm of locusts over four miles long. The straw-roofed houses are being eaten up and one dispatch says a farmer, while engaged in a field, had his feet eaten off by the pests.

Southern Mexico has suffered a grasshopper plague for three months and many trains have been derailed by masses of them. In some cases burning oil has been used to clear the tracks. Some trains have been equipped with pipes through which the flaming liquid can be blown while passing through the grasshopper district.

Millions of dollars of damage, especially in the sugar and coffee plantations, has been done.

SHENANDOAH RESUMES FLIGHT FROM SAN DIEGO

Stop to Be Made at Fort Worth in Following Southern Route to Lakehurst.

By the Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 22.—The navy dirigible Shenandoah began its flight from San Diego to Lakehurst, N. J., via Fort Worth at 11:13 o'clock this morning, when it cast loose from the mooring mast at the North Island naval training station.

Father and Son Slain.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 22.—Revival of feud of long standing between the Jones and Wines clans resulted in the deaths of Frank Jones and his son, William, 18 years old, Hobart Wines in the county jail in connection with the shooting while Arthur Ray, with two wounds in his left arm, is under guard in a Charleston hospital.

Farmer and Wife Bankrupt.

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 22.—Charles Tomlinson and his wife, owners of a farm near Rossville, have filed a bankruptcy petition stating that Tomlinson owes $77,000 and his wife $66,000. The principal creditor is Mrs. Elizabeth Cannon, a sister of Tomlinson, to whom he owes $34,000, and the wife $24,000.

S. W. FORDYCE'S PRIVATE LIQUOR VAULT DYNAMITED

Ten Robbers Get Stock Valued at $500 at Summer Home.

A private stock of pre-prohibition liquor, valued at about $500, was hauled away early today from the summer home of Samuel W. Fordyce, on the Graham road, three miles north of the Natural Bridge road, in St. Louis County, by 10 men, who drove to the place in a touring car and truck and dynamited their way into a stone liquor vault.

Every room in the house was ransacked by the thieves, who first bound the caretaker of the place and his wife in a woodshed. Few articles of value besides the liquor were taken.

The liquor was kept in a basement vault, about 25 by 15 feet. The walls, two feet thick, were of stone and the door was fitted with a combination lock. Several quarts of liquor remained in the vault after the robbery and a number of empty champagne bottles were on the floor.

The caretaker, Paul Waldon, said the robbers remained about the place for several hours, leaving about 3 a. m., after complying with his request that they take him and his wife into the house. Several hours later, Waldon said, he freed himself and telephoned to the police from the home of a neighbor, the wires from the Fordyce residence having been cut.

Fordyce's home, known as "Hazelwood," is a large white brick structure which stands back from the road in spacious grounds. It was formerly the home of Mrs. Fordyce's father, D. M. Frost, and was built in 1807. Fordyce, who is an attorney, and his family reside at 25 Vandeventer place during the winter.

FINAL REGISTRATION HERE FOR NOV. 4 ELECTION IS 303,284

Four Years Ago the Corresponding Figure for St. Louis Was 315,018.

The final St. Louis registration for the 1924 presidential election, as computed by the Election Board today, is 303,284. In 1920, the corresponding figure was 315,018. This means that the number of registered voters is 11,734 less than four years ago. The decrease is believed to be due largely to the apathy of women voters who registered in 1920 because voting was a new experience, but who did not care to repeat the experience.

The number of persons who were sick or out of the city on the regular precinct registration days, and who were enrolled by the board in the period ending at 9 o'clock last night, was 1572. In 1920 the corresponding number was 3572. This year, the names of five persons who were refused by the precinct officials, because of questions as to naturalization, were enrolled by order of court. In 1920, there were 36 such additions.

Of those registered, 29,141 were foreign born. They gained the right to vote by naturalization, or by act of Congress. Germany with 10,681 supplied the largest number of foreign-born voters. Others were: Austria, 3409; Ireland, 3231; Russia, 2088; England, 1802; Italy, 1138; Canada, 601; Poland, 456; France, 381; Turkey, 98; Hungary, 87; Syria, 73; Scotland, 71; Mexico, 18, and various other lands.

Jerusalem is represented by 2, and Cuba and East India by 1.

Daughter of Former Governor and Head of Art Department Struck on Delmar.

DRIVER SAYS HE WAS UNABLE TO STOP

Salesman Tells Police Woman Stepped in Path of Machine—Is Released on $1000 Bond.

Miss Lillian Mason Brown, 65 years old, head of the Art Department of Soldan High School and a daughter of the late Gov. Benjamin Gratz Brown of Missouri, died at 5 a. m. at Barnes Hospital of a fractured skull suffered last night when struck by an automobile as she was crossing Delmar boulevard a few feet east of Clara avenue.

Miss Brown had attended a meeting last night in the Chemical Building of the St. Louis Stamp Collectors' Society, of which she was president, and she is thought to have alighted from a street car at Delmar and Clara to go to the home of a sister, who lived in that vicinity. Miss Brown lived at Hanley and Lynn roads, St. Louis County.

Driver Gives Bond.

Donald McGovern, 22, a salesman, 3856 West Florissant avenue, told police he was driving east in Delmar at a moderate rate of speed, when Miss Brown stepped directly into the path of his machine. He was unable to stop in time to avoid striking her, he said.

After taking Miss Brown to the hospital, he reported to Page Boulevard Station and was released on $1000 bond. With him in the car at the time of the accident were Miss Ruth Carroll, 6108 Plymouth avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Willey, 5106 Northland avenue.

Daughter of Former Governor.

Miss Brown's father was Governor from 1870 until 1872. The Liberal Republican convention of 1872, which nominated Horace Greeley for President, nominated Brown for Vice President, and afterwards they were ratified as the nominees of the Democratic party. However, the Republicans won. Brown died in 1885 in Kirkwood.

Miss Brown has been the head of the Soldan High School Art Department since 1910, one year after the school was opened. Prior to that she held similar positions at Central and McKinley High Schools, having been a teacher in the high schools here since 1897. She organized the art department of McKinley High School. She was a past president and active member of the St. Louis Artists' Guild and her paintings have been exhibited at each annual exhibition of the organization. She maintained a studio in Provincetown, Mass., during the summer months.

Miss Brown is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Leslie Dana of Brentmoor; Miss Margaretta Brown, 421 Lake avenue; Mrs. Presley Carr Lane, 5642 Kingsbury place, and Miss Violet Brown of New York, and one brother, Robert Brown of New York.

Her death was the 142d automobile fatality of the year, as compared with 107 during the same period last year.

Joseph Burhardt, 22 years old, of 4221 North Twentieth street, died at his home today of a fractured skull suffered yesterday afternoon when he fell from a truck on which he was riding at Angell street and North Florissant avenue.

FRENCH TROOPS BEGIN EVACUATION OF RUHR

Zones of Dortmund, Remscheid, Wehwinkel and Limburg Left Without Incident.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—News of the Franco-Belgian evacuation of the Ruhr is being strictly limited to the barest announcement of a few facts. A semi-official dispatch from Mayence this evening says that French troops yesterday evacuated Mannheim, Karlsruhe and Reims, while the Belgians left Emmerich and Wesel.

The French evacuated the zones of Dortmund, Remscheid, Wehwinkel and Limburg, the departure of the troops being effected without incident. Following these evacuations the French Fourth Division re-entered France, being replaced at Coblenz by the Thirty-eighth Division, which has been withdrawn from the Ruhr.

German Residents of Dortmund See Former Foes Depart.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

DORTMUND, Germany, Sept. 22.—Evacuation of the Ruhr by French troops got under way in earnest today, when they departed from the city of Dortmund. French and German flags were flown when the French garrison forces began leaving at 10 o'clock. There was neither cheering nor hissing.

Dortmund is an important railway, mining and industrial city on the northeast corner of the Ruhr. German residents, massed to see the departure of their former foes, maintained complete silence as the troops paraded from their barracks through the streets of the quiet little city to the railroad station, flying. There was no untoward demonstration.

French and Belgian citizens bared their heads as the colors of the armies of occupation passed, but the Germans remained stolidly inactive.

NELSON CALLS KLAN CHARGE "SCURRILOUS"

Democratic Nominee for Governor Reiterates Formal Denial of Membership in the Order.

ADDRESSES LARGE CROWD AT LEBANON

Knew the Republicans Had Been Planning for Weeks to Produce Such Affidavits, He Says.

BY CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

LEBANON, Oct. 22.—A Law-rence County citizen, who asked that his name be withheld, today gave newspaper men, accompanied by Dr. Nelson, a Ku Klux Klan card in refutation of the statement issued last night by Chairman Phares of the Republican State Committee in the attempt to connect Nelson with the Klan membership.

Phares stated there was no card to be signed by anybody attending a Klan meeting which contained any declaration of principles. Phares gave out a copy of what purported to be a Klan application card and said there was no other card to be signed, leaving the inference that the card of admission to the meeting which Nelson admitted he signed, was the card Phares referred to.

Nelson, when shown the card, said it resembled the card he signed, but that as he could not remember the wording on the card, he could not make the positive statement that he believed it to be the same.

The Lawrence County man denied he was a member of the Klan but said the card was given to him by a traveling salesman last summer with an oral invitation for him to sign it and attend a Klan meeting in Joplin. The complete printed content of the card was:

"No alpha sed author. 'Your friends state you are a 'native born' American Citizen having the best interests of your community, city, state and nation at heart, owing no allegiance to any foreign government, political party, sect, creed or ruler, and engaged in legitimate occupation and believe in, viz: The tenets of the Christian religion, white supremacy; protection of our pure womanhood, just laws and liberty; closer relations of pure Americanism; the upholding of the Constitution of these United States; the separation of our state rights; the separation of church and state; freedom of speech and press; closer relations between capital and American labor; preventing the cause of mob violence and lynchings; preventing labor agitators; prevention of fires and destruction of property by lawless elements; the limitation of foreign immigration; the much-needed local reforms law and order."

Dr. Nelson denounced as false one of the affidavits used by Phares in support of his statement, that of a Morgan County man who swore that he witnessed the initiation of Dr. Nelson into the Klan in California, Mo., in June, 1923. The candidate said he had attended, as a spectator, a meeting of the Klan near California, and that he had signed a card necessary to such attendance, but that the card bore no indication of being an application for membership.

Decides on Statement.
From the time when the officers of the State Committee were able to get into touch with him in Waynesville yesterday afternoon, to inform him of the publication of Phares' statement and the affidavits, Dr. Nelson received many telephone messages, urging him to hurry to St. Louis for conferences and to issue a statement in reply to the allegations. His decision, however, was to stand on the statement issued yesterday afternoon, and to continue his speaking dates in Southern Missouri. His position, as explained to persons here, is that he had never been connected with the Klan in any way, and that he never knowingly attended a Klan meeting, save on that one occasion, and then only as a curious spectator.

On another occasion, Dr. Nelson said several klansmen appeared in their costumes at a party at which he was attending at Carthage. He has said that, in a frank statement, he had explained everything he knew about the Klan, and that he could do no more. He said he was not certain that he knew any of the individuals who signed the affidavits, though he knew men of those names. Until certain of their identity, he said, he could not comment on their motives or the influence which brought about the making of the affidavits, except that he knew the Republican State Committee had been planning for weeks to produce affidavits shortly before the election.

Catholic Swears He Saw Nelson Leave Klan Meeting Before Conclusion.
An affidavit that Dr. Nelson was merely a spectator at a Klan gathering at California, Mo., in June, 1923, and did not join the organization, was made public today by the Democratic State Committee at the instance of Leo N. Felton of Buncheon, a Catholic, who attended the meeting.

Felton says in his sworn statement that he attended the meeting to see who would join and that he saw Dr. Nelson there. Dr. Nelson remained, Felton said, until a speaker told those members of the crowd who believed as he did to subscribe to his expressed principles to leave. Felton says that he personally saw Dr. Nelson leave the grounds at that time.

Felton says he has attended all open air meetings of the Klan in and around Buncheon and has never since seen Dr. Nelson in attendance. The affidavit includes a statement that Felton has been a member of the Knights of Columbus for 16 years and has two sisters who are nuns. It was taken in Cooper County.

Republican State Chairman Replies to Nelson and Barbee.
W. F. Phares, chairman of the Republican State Committee, after reading Dr. Nelson's statement last evening, issued a statement replying to Dr. Nelson and to Joshua Barbee, State Democratic chairman, who has charged an attempt to take an unfair advantage of the Democratic nominee.

As to the charge of unfairness, Phares says, "This is not so very late in the campaign—I could have withheld the affidavits until too late for Dr. Nelson to make his answer." He also "wonders" whether Dr. Nelson would be willing to put his statement in the form of an affidavit.

Origin of the Charges.
The charge of Dr. Nelson's klansmanship, Phares says, originated in the Democratic camp, and he recalls that George H. Moore, who was opposing Nelson for the nomination for Governor, charged re-

Phares gave out a copy of what purported to be a Klan application card and said there was no other card to be signed, leaving the inference that the card of admission to the meeting which Nelson admitted he signed, was the card Phares referred to.

Nelson, when shown the card, said it resembled the card he signed, but that as he could not remember the wording on the card, he could not make the positive statement that he believed it to be the same.

The Lawrence County man denied he was a member of the Klan but said the card was given to him by a traveling salesman last summer with an oral invitation for him to sign it and attend a Klan meeting in Joplin. The complete printed content of the card was:

'Your friends state you are a 'native born' American Citizen having the best interests of your community, city, state and nation at heart, owing no allegiance to any foreign government, political party, sect, creed or ruler, and engaged in legitimate occupation and believe in, viz: The tenets of the Christian religion, white supremacy; protection of our pure womanhood, just laws and liberty; closer relations of pure Americanism; the upholding of the Constitution of these United States; the separation of our state rights; the separation of church and state; freedom of speech and press; closer relations between capital and American labor; preventing the cause of mob violence and lynchings; preventing labor agitators; prevention of fires and destruction of property by lawless elements; the limitation of foreign immigration; the much-needed local reforms law and order."

Dr. Nelson denounced as false one of the affidavits used by Phares in support of his statement, that of a Morgan County man who swore that he witnessed the initiation of Dr. Nelson into the Klan in California, Mo., in June, 1923. The candidate said he had attended, as a spectator, a meeting of the Klan near California, and that he had signed a card necessary to such attendance, but that the card bore no indication of being an application for membership.

Decides on Statement.
From the time when the officers of the State Committee were able to get into touch with him in Waynesville yesterday afternoon, to inform him of the publication of Phares' statement and the affidavits, Dr. Nelson received many telephone messages, urging him to hurry to St. Louis for conferences and to issue a statement in reply to the allegations. His decision, however, was to stand on the statement issued yesterday afternoon, and to continue his speaking dates in Southern Missouri. His position, as explained to persons here, is that he had never been connected with the Klan in any way, and that he never knowingly attended a Klan meeting, save on that one occasion, and then only as a curious spectator.

On another occasion, Dr. Nelson said several klansmen appeared in their costumes at a party at which he was attending at Carthage. He has said that, in a frank statement, he had explained everything he knew about the Klan, and that he could do no more. He said he was not certain that he knew any of the individuals who signed the affidavits, though he knew men of those names. Until certain of their identity, he said, he could not comment on their motives or the influence which brought about the making of the affidavits, except that he knew the Republican State Committee had been planning for weeks to produce affidavits shortly before the election.

Catholic Swears He Saw Nelson Leave Klan Meeting Before Conclusion.
An affidavit that Dr. Nelson was merely a spectator at a Klan gathering at California, Mo., in June, 1923, and did not join the organization, was made public today by the Democratic State Committee at the instance of Leo N. Felton of Buncheon, a Catholic, who attended the meeting.

Felton says in his sworn statement that he attended the meeting to see who would join and that he saw Dr. Nelson there. Dr. Nelson remained, Felton said, until a speaker told those members of the crowd who believed as he did to subscribe to his expressed principles to leave. Felton says that he personally saw Dr. Nelson leave the grounds at that time.

Felton says he has attended all open air meetings of the Klan in and around Buncheon and has never since seen Dr. Nelson in attendance. The affidavit includes a statement that Felton has been a member of the Knights of Columbus for 16 years and has two sisters who are nuns. It was taken in Cooper County.

Republican State Chairman Replies to Nelson and Barbee.
W. F. Phares, chairman of the Republican State Committee, after reading Dr. Nelson's statement last evening, issued a statement replying to Dr. Nelson and to Joshua Barbee, State Democratic chairman, who has charged an attempt to take an unfair advantage of the Democratic nominee.

As to the charge of unfairness, Phares says, "This is not so very late in the campaign—I could have withheld the affidavits until too late for Dr. Nelson to make his answer." He also "wonders" whether Dr. Nelson would be willing to put his statement in the form of an affidavit.

Origin of the Charges.
The charge of Dr. Nelson's klansmanship, Phares says, originated in the Democratic camp, and he recalls that George H. Moore, who was opposing Nelson for the nomination for Governor, charged re-

AURORA, Mo., Oct. 22.—A Lawrence County citizen, who asked that his name be withheld, today gave newspaper men, accompanied by Dr. Nelson, a Ku Klux Klan card in refutation of the statement issued last night by Chairman Phares of the Republican State Committee in the attempt to connect Nelson with the Klan membership.

Phares stated there was no card to be signed by anybody attending a Klan meeting which contained any declaration of principles. Phares gave out a copy of what purported to be a Klan application card and said there was no other card to be signed, leaving the inference that the card of admission to the meeting which Nelson admitted he signed, was the card Phares referred to.

GOULD ESTATE'S COTTON BELT STOCK KEPT IDLE

In Books 26 Years at Same Price but Edwin, an Executor, Says He Sold Personal Holdings.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—George J. Gould's disputed assets in administering the estate of Jay Gould were approved in detail by the other trustees and himself, Edwin Gould testified today, in the continued hearing of the $32,000,000 accounting suit brought by Frank J. Gould.

In a searching cross-examination by Samuel Seabury, Frank J. Gould's counsel, the witness said all of George J. Gould's transactions went short cuts to the end desired by the trustees and fully in harmony with their ideas.

"You know that George Gould sold Manhattan Electric Railway stock to the value of $1,000,000 for cash and substituted for the estate a debt of Missouri Pacific for an equal amount," Seabury asked him.

"I don't believe there was anything unusual in that," Gould replied. "It was merely a short cut, for had George turned the cash into the estate it would immediately have been applied to the Missouri Pacific anyhow."

Cotton Belt Stocks.
Questioned on his connection with the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) stock, Gould admitted that large blocks of the stock remained dormant in the possession of the estate 26 years on the books at the same price but his personal holdings were used to his own advantage.

He said he sold 14,000 shares of Southwestern at prices ranging from $30 to $38 a share and that he sold 90,000 shares of the preferred stock at $60 to $62.

Gould scolded the suggestion that his transactions were manipulation. He said he took advantage of rising prices and thought this a benefit to the railroad company. What benefits the company, he held also benefits the estate.

Value Was Enhancing.
Asked if the estate could have disposed of the stock held at the time, he said he disposed of his personal holdings, but he did not think it advisable for the estate to do so. "I thought the estate was enhancing the value of its principal with the advance in the stock," he said.

Demand that Howard and Frank Gould be produced at the hearing for examination were upheld by Referee O'Gorman today. Both are now in Europe. Howard Gould is said to be a trustee and executor of the estate. Frank, also a brother, is the principal objector in the accounting.

Reply to Questions. It was: "We had heard and read Dr. Nelson's statement that he did not belong to the Ku Klux Klan. Our own investigation was to let the voters of Missouri know the truth and we made the affidavit without a suggestion from anybody."

At the same time Ed Patterson, manager of a farm near Buncheon, said he was told by Dr. Nelson's companion when the doctor, out of curiosity, attended the open-air night meeting near California in June of last year, said that he had been permitted by Klan authorities to inspect the books of Tipton Lodge yesterday and that the name of Dr. Nelson did not appear in the roster. He was corroborated in this statement by Walter I. Wilson, station agent at Buncheon, and a friend of Dr. Nelson.

Ben F. Schutz, the Jefferson City notary who witnessed the signatures of Collins and Morris to the affidavit, said he was not vouched for by Joseph Thompson. Schutz said that Morris and Collins said to his office Friday last that they did not recall. Morris and Collins asked him to acknowledge the signatures without reading the affidavit and he declined to do it until after they had told him Secretary Thompson would vouch for them. He said that he called Thompson on the telephone and that Thompson said they "were reliable."

Denied by Thompson.
Thompson denied he had vouched for the men and said he knew nothing of the affidavit. He said Schutz telephoned him last Friday and asked him if C. P. Anderson was "all right." "I told him he was and that is all I know," Thompson said. Anderson, a Republican, and Grain Inspector for the State Marketing Bureau, resides in Kansas City.

BARTHOLOTO BACK LAFOLLETTE FOR PRESIDENT

St. Louisian, Republican Congressman 22 Years, Expected to Make Announcement Tonight.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Former Congressman Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis, who as a Republican served 22 years in Congress, is expected to make an announcement here this evening that he will support Senator La Follette for President.

At La Follette's quarters here there was smug satisfaction as to the forthcoming statement, the leaders having in mind that Bartholdt is influential in the German-American circles in St. Louis and throughout the nation.

Back From Germany.
Bartholdt arrived here today from New York, where he disembarked yesterday after a three months' visit in Germany.

"German people have hope, where two years ago they had only despair," said Bartholdt. "No man, no country, can live without hope, and since the acceptance of the Dawes plan, the German people have begun to see some light."

"When I was in Germany two years ago despair was everywhere. Now there is something of a busy spirit."

"Asked Too Much."
"The Dawes plan is not the last word in international harmony, for deep down the Germans feel they have been asked to do too much, but they also feel that it is a step in the right direction. Of course, what they want is revision of the Versailles treaty—that document of hate—as Senators La Follette and McNamara are endeavoring to revise it, but that is only a faint hope."

The statement regarding the revision of the Versailles treaty was the only indication Bartholdt would give of his political views. He had been made chief of the engineering bureau as soon as he received his appointment.

This friend of the Dohneys, Roberts continued, then met in conference with Fall, also a friend of the Dohneys, and "adopted an informal program" whereby, with the approval of Secretary Denby, the Elks Hills naval reserve was turned over to the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co. under an "oil swapping" arrangement whereby the Government was to receive Pearl Harbor storage in return for Elks Hills oil.

Roberts pointed out as significant the fact that "almost immediately after Roberts stepped into the office, the fuel oil bureau," which had been created in 1920 to supervise the operation of the oil reserves, "was abolished and Robison assumed responsibility for the fueling of naval vessels."

Court Is Crowded.
The opening session flooded Federal Judge J. C. McCormack's court with crowds that outnumbered those attending sensational criminal trials in Los Angeles in the past several months.

The Government's amended bill of complaint charges conspiracy between Fall and Doheny, involving the payment of $100,000 by Doheny to Fall which followed the granting of oil leases in the case of the naval reserve to the Doheny interests whose values in possible profits have been estimated by Doheny at $100,000,000.

The defendant welcomed the change venue and expressed great satisfaction that the case was out of the Senate and before a Federal tribunal, according to Hogan. "We are indeed pleased to have the suit removed from partisan politics," Hogan stated. "There is a wide contrast between the way this case is presented to this court and the way it was presented to the Senate Investigating Committee."

Hogan declared that "we purpose to expose an almost inconceivable story of the deliberate misrepresentation of known or easily ascertainable facts and the unblinking distortion of the truth which have made as we work day and night the case heretofore presented to the public and the case now to be submitted to this court."

SECURITY IN FALL'S OIL LEASES TO DOHENY WAS PATRIOTIC, DEFENSE SAYS

But Government Charges Profiteering Plot on Opening of Trial to Cancel Deals.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 22.—Testimony in support of the charge that a profiteering plot lay behind the granting to Doheny interests in 1922 of certain contracts and leases involving naval oil reserves in California is scheduled for presentation at today's session of the trial in Federal court here of the Government's suit against the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co. for cancellation of these contracts and leases.

According to the opening statement yesterday of Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for the defense, there was no profiteering back of the oil lease transactions; rather were they based on the highest and most patriotic motives, a desire to protect the United States in the Pacific by providing at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, a hoard of oil huge enough to fuel the country's oil-burning dreadnaughts in a possible war of defense against foreign aggression.

Fair-minded oil officials, not Secretary of the Interior Fall, planned this move to transform the hidden oil supply of the Elks Hills Naval Reserve into an instantly available supply of fuel oil in the middle of the Pacific, Hogan declared.

Edwin Denby, then Secretary of the Navy, and Admiral J. K. Robison, chief of the navy's engineering bureau, he told the court, were the real prime movers in the lease transactions, and their motive was to "convert crude oil thousands of feet underground into fuel oil available for instant use in war time."

Owen J. Roberts, special counsel for the Government, in opening the case for the plaintiff, also stressed the connection of Admiral Robison with the case, but declared that Robison was "an intimate friend of Doheny Jr. and that he had been made chief of the engineering bureau as soon as he received his appointment."

This friend of the Dohneys, Roberts continued, then met in conference with Fall, also a friend of the Dohneys, and "adopted an informal program" whereby, with the approval of Secretary Denby, the Elks Hills naval reserve was turned over to the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co. under an "oil swapping" arrangement whereby the Government was to receive Pearl Harbor storage in return for Elks Hills oil.

Counsel for the defendant declared that the part played by Fall in making contracts with the Doheny companies was so slight as to be almost negligible, and the part played by Doheny, while not quite so slight, "was really unimportant."

He characterized as "without foundation" the charge that the executive order transferring the administration of the Naval Reserves from the Navy to the Interior Department was induced by misrepresentations made to the President by Fall, Hogan "bassinet." Hogan asserted, was the accusation that Fall and Doheny had conspired to defraud the Government.

Secrecy Admitted.
A ready admission that secrecy to safeguard national defense plans was used in the negotiation of leases held by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co. in the Elks Hills Naval Oil Reserves was made by Hogan.

the part of the Government officials who sought at the time negotiations for the oil leases were first taken up to keep confidential national defense plans being formulated.

The attorney contended, however, that there was no secrecy or conspiracy in the actual granting and contracts, offering in support a telegram from Fall to Edward C. Finney, acting Secretary of the Interior, instructing him to award the contract to the Pan-American interests if approved by Admiral Robison and Secretary Denby, and make public the closing of the contract in "the fullest and completest manner."

Hogan contended that the main issue of the litigation would hinge around an interpretation of the legal authority vested in the Secretary of the Navy under the Congressional act of June 4, 1920, which placed the naval oil reserves under the control of the Secretary of the Navy.

Seeking to disprove the charge of conspiracy between Fall and Doheny, Hogan declared that it was Secretary of the Navy Denby, and not Fall who sought transfer of naval oil reserve lease control from the Navy Department to the Department of the Interior.

Roberts, in reviewing the history of naval oil lands in California and the transactions between Doheny and Fall, including the giving of $100,000 by Doheny to Fall, charged this was a part of an alleged fraud and conspiracy through which the contested leases were granted.

Roberts pointed out that in the spring of 1920 the Secretary of the Navy created the fuel oil office to supervise operation of oil reserves. Before the leases were awarded to the defendant company, however, he continued, "a change occurred in the engineering bureau of the Navy Department."

"Rear Admiral J. K. Robison was placed in command of that office. Robison was known to be an intimate friend of Doheny Jr. and Doheny Jr., and notified them he had been made chief of the bureau. Soon afterward the fuel oil office was abolished and Robison assumed responsibility for fueling of naval vessels and matters pertaining to that branch."

"Robison and Fall met regarding the oil reserves and adopted a program of expansion, deciding royalty oil should be used as fuel for warships. The excess to be applied to credit for construction of storage tanks at Pearl Harbor."

A letter was then prepared by Robison, Roberts declared, for Secretary Denby's signature, authorizing Fall to proceed with the program. Leasing of Elks Hills oil lands to the Doheny interests followed, Roberts said.

Secretary Wilbur As Defense Witness Unlikely, He Says.

HERBERT PARSONS TO VOTE FOR DAWES

Former G. O. P. Leader Says "Dishonest Should Be Turned Out."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Democratic National Committee last night made public a statement by Herbert Parsons, former Republican member of the House from New York and former chairman of the New York County Republican Committee, announcing that he would vote for John W. Davis in the presidency.

Parsons said election of Davis offered the only possibility for the United States to share in the winning out of a plan of continuing world peace and asserted that people could only insist on honesty in office "by turning out the guilty of dishonesty."

Parsons resigned from the New York County Republican Committee four years ago when Warren Harding, the Republican nominee for the presidency, defeated the Democratic presidential nominee, St. Louis was in the city.

DISPUTE BETWEEN MID-CONTINENT OFFICIALS AIRED

Gonterman Accused Secretary-Treasurer of Misconduct, but Later Made Retraction in Contract.

"JIPPING WHOLE OF SOUTHERN ILLINOIS"

Rochester Says He Told Directors President Sold Subdivision Before He Owned It.

The receivership suit against the Mid-Continent Finance Corporation, in depositions taken yesterday, resolved itself into a dispute between Courtney J. Gonterman, president of the company, and Nesbit Rochester, secretary-treasurer, both real estate promoters.

In a directors' meeting Sept. 12, it developed, Gonterman charged Rochester with misconduct of the business, and Rochester replied by denouncing Gonterman and threatening a receivership action to "protect his good name and the company's assets" if a retraction was not made. Subsequently, according to papers introduced, a contract was drafted in which Gonterman formally apologized and whereby Rochester and Robert S. Mitchell, vice president, were to sell their interest in the company. This sale was not consummated, as Rochester chose rather to begin the receivership action.

It has previously been testified that the Mid-Continent Corporation was organized by Gonterman, who owns the C. J. Gonterman Real Estate and Investment Co., with Mitchell, Rochester and L. B. Porter as stockholders; that $339,000 in stock was sold; that the proceeds were used by Gonterman to open Madison County (Ill.) subdivisions; and that notes of real estate purchasers were deposited with the Mid-Continent company in lieu of cash. Promissory notes, which constituted the investment of Rochester and Mitchell in the company, were paid off from profits. Rochester and Mitchell are the plaintiffs in the receivership suit.

President's Report Read.
Yesterday Gonterman's attorney, O. M. Hill, read into the record report by the president to the directors submitted at a meeting Sept. 25. In it Gonterman charged that Rochester took commissions to which he was not entitled; issued stock certificates to himself and Mitchell to which they were not entitled; quoted a letter in which E. J. Brennan, attorney for the company, declared that Rochester's method of conducting stock issues constituted embezzlement; and asserting that perhaps Rochester was trying to obtain control of the company.

"You got very angry, didn't you?" Attorney Hill asked Rochester.

"You bet I did. I branded the whole report as a dirty lie," Rochester replied. He explained that he and Mitchell each received an aggregate of about $7000 in shares and cash from Gonterman who, he said, "had promised to take care of us." The items were recorded in "Surplus Commission" account.

"What did you say to the directors when you were angry?" asked Attorney Hill.

"Jipping Southern Illinois," "In the first place, I called Gonterman a dirty, infamous liar and challenged him right there to deny it," Rochester replied. "I told them he was 'jipping' the whole of Southern Illinois. I told them he had taken farmers' money, or titles in return, that he had sold a subdivision of 450 lots at $750 apiece before he had purchased it. I defied him to make a financial statement. I told them that he had taken notes from the finance company for his own use. I demanded an investigation."

The next day, Rochester testified, he confronted Gonterman and gave him 30 minutes in which to retract, and threatened to telegraph the securities departments of Illinois and Missouri, asking that stock sales be stopped.

Hill introduced the contract, which provided that Rochester sell out for $5705 in notes and Mitchell for $6390 in notes, and in which Gonterman repudiated the charges and admitted the issuance of stock to Rochester and Mitchell was proper. Hill also introduced a directors' resolution, dated Sept. 29, in which they voted confidence in Gonterman and approved the repudiation "to protect the business from the unfair and underhanded action of Rochester."

Consented With Attorney.
Rochester testified he consulted Attorney R. Young, his present attorney, and was advised to refuse delivery of his shares in the company. "I went to him just in time," he said.

Mitchell, who is chief special agent of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, testified last night. He said he knew little about the business, being guided almost entirely by the recommendations of Rochester and Gonterman. He received shares the Pittsburgh district.

Grundy, who identified himself as a worsted yarn manufacturer, with a company doing a business of $5,000,000 a year, said he had been collecting political funds since he had attained his majority.

Asked if any other organizations were collecting funds for the Republican party in Pennsylvania, Grundy said the Union League Club was doing so. It was brought out that the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia was doing likewise.

Gratitude and Self-Interest.

Caraway read from Grundy's published letter that "gratitude and an intelligent self-interest are two of the fundamentals of civilization."

"Was 'gratitude' for the enactment of the tariff act?" asked Caraway.

"Oh, no. It was for the wonderful opportunities given to all the people by the beneficial legislation enacted by the Republican party."

"Was Pennsylvania particularly grateful for the Volstead act?" asked the Senator.

The audience laughed and Grundy was silent.

Caraway wanted to know if the letters were not to solicit funds, holding out the hope of more benefits to come through legislation.

Grundy denied it.

"Oh, then these remarkable letters were simply educational bulletins?" "Yes."

Grundy insisted that the word "gratitude" referred to all the acts of the Harding administration.

"That administration gave some oil to Harry Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny, did it not?" asked the Senator.

"We don't know anything about that," he witness replied.

"Reference was to the wise things of the Harding administration."

Untermeyer took over the cross-examination and read from a Grundy letter, dated Oct. 16, as follows:

"The Republican National Committee has asked and appointed me to raise every possible dollar in Pennsylvania, outside of the Pittsburgh district. Will you send all you can? Will you send it at once? Not a day should be lost."

Letters to 70,000 Persons.

The witness conceded that this was an appeal for funds.

"We have in La Follette and Wheeler a Lenin and Trotsky," Untermeyer continued reading from the letter, "with a formidable band of followers made up of the vicious, ignorant and discontented element."

"Do you subscribe to that sentiment?" Untermeyer asked. "I do."

Grundy said the letters had been sent to 70,000 persons in Pennsylvania. He added that he could not say how many manufacturers in his State were "beneficiaries" of the tariff.

Caraway asked if Grundy had been interested in tariff duties on wool.

"I have been coming to Washington for many years to look after matters of interest to the woolen industry, and incidentally tariff matters."

Asked if he was one of the authors of the famous schedule K in the Payne-Aldrich tariff act, the witness said he was not.

"Was any of the money collected in your State to be spent outside of Pennsylvania?" asked Senator the square," O'Connor said.

"Was your meeting on the square?" Caraway asked. "It was."

"All right then tell us the purpose since it was on the square."

O'Connor finally said he had consulted a White House staff man on the subject.

"I brought the men down to meet the President of the United States and hear him deliver a talk," he added.

"Did they ask for that privilege?" "No, they did not."

Not Paid to Hear President.

Pressed by Caraway, O'Connor said the labor men were not paid to come here to hear the President.

Borah interrupted to say that both the Republican and Democratic parties did things of this kind. Caraway then challenged Borah to cite an instance where the Democrats ever had paid anyone to attend political meetings.

When that argument had died out, the inquiry went back to the question of funds from Russia.

After another fiery passage with Untermeyer, O'Connor said he did not believe Senator La Follette and cash from Rochester, he said, with the understanding that Gonterman was "keeping his promise to take care of them." He joined the receivership suit largely on Rochester's advice.

Attorney Young today visited Belleville, Columbia, Waterloo and Millstadt, Ill., to get depositions of stockholders. About 150 persons near those towns, mostly farmers, were sold stock in the finance company by Gonterman's salesmen.

crews of boats running into Russia," replied the witness.

"Do you have any information that money has been sent here by Soviet Russia for political purposes?" "I could not say positively."

"Do you believe such is the case?" "I believe it in my own heart, yes."

Senator Caraway (Dem.), Arkansas, insisted that O'Connor had been undertaking to state a fact in asking his question, but O'Connor again denied it.

No "Fishing Expedition."

Untermeyer took over the questioning and subjected O'Connor to a grueling cross-examination, again covering the same ground. In the midst of it O'Connor protested that if this was to be a "fishing expedition" he had some facts he wanted to present.

Borah interrupted to say that there would be no "fishing expedition."

O'Connor continued that Thomas Healey of the Maine Engineers' Association had told him at New York that he had been told by ships' crews that money was coming from Russia. That was about all the information he had on the subject.

Untermeyer switched the inquiry back to who paid the expenses of the Labor delegation that called on President Coolidge.

"Had you heard that Mr. Frank P. Walsh's office had been making inquiries at the Hamilton Hotel as to who had paid the hotel bills?" asked Untermeyer.

"Yes, I heard about it at noon today. I told them to tell them I had paid the bill of $350 myself, probably from cash which I had in my pocket."

"Who paid the railroad fare?" "Mr. Ryan of the International Longshoremen's Association. I am informed that Mr. Ryan collected from each man he brought over amounts to cover the expenses, but Mr. Ryan was glad to come here and testify. They were brought here at my invitation."

He followed a long and heated colloquy between O'Connor and the New York lawyer, which Caraway interrupted.

"Was the delegation brought here for political purposes?" the Senator asked.

"You can draw your own conclusions," retorted O'Connor.

"Oh, you know what they were brought here for," said Caraway. O'Connor then said he had not been asked either by President Coolidge or Secretary Stimson to bring the labor leaders here. He added that the questioning was a "smoke screen" to cover up "what is being done on the other side."

WORLD FLYERS TO MAKE VISIT TO ST. LOUIS SOON

Six Men Who Circled Globe Expected to Come Here in Planes Used on the Trip.

The six world flyers of the United States Army aviation service, who completed their historic feat at Seattle Sept. 28, will visit St. Louis within a short time. They will come and go by air, it is expected.

W. Frank Carter, chairman of the St. Louis Air Board, which conducted the 1923 International Air Races here, today received a telegram from Major-General M. M. Patrick, head of the Army air service, stating that the flyers would be in St. Louis soon. While the message did not say that they would fly here, it is Carter's understanding that they will cross the country in the planes used in the world flight.

Gen. Patrick's telegram sent from Washington to Carter, in reply to an invitation to the flyers to stop here, was:

World flyers expect to visit St. Louis en route to Dayton, O. Impossible to give exact date of their arrival at this time. Your interest much appreciated.

A request that St. Louis be included in the westbound itinerary of the actual world flight was made last summer by the newspapers and business organizations of St. Louis. The army officials who mapped out the route decided that it would not be feasible to include St. Louis.

Vaughan said. The American Economic League, Walsh said, told the committee, was the successor to the railroad institute.

"What was that for?" asked Walsh. "It was to protect the railroads against improper legislation."

"Where did it go?" "I do not know."

Vaughan said the money was to be used to influence legislation.

"I turned the money over to Mr. Kruttschnitt," Vaughan said. He was referring to Julius Kruttschnitt, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

"Did you agree to raise $100,000 for the economic institute?" "No," Mr. Kruttschnitt wrote me that he had turned over the money to me. I can't recall the name."

"Did you know how the money was to be used to influence legislation?" "No, but I had confidence in the men in the organization."

Views on Use of Money.
"Do you think it fair for the railroads to expend money that way?" "I think it is perfectly proper to hire people to look after their interests, but not

CITY SANITARIUM PATIENT, BEATEN BY ANOTHER, DIES

Coroner's Jury Finds Death Was "Possibly Due" to Injuries Suffered in the Attack.

A Coroner's jury, after hearing testimony regarding the death at the City Sanitarium yesterday of a patient who had been beaten last Sunday by another patient, today returned a verdict holding that the patient died of a hemorrhage of the brain "possibly due" to the injuries suffered in the attack.

The patient who died was Wallace Paxton Lenson, 46 years old, formerly of Meramec Highlands, who had been a patient at the sanitarium for several years. His assailant was Edward Elsen, who was described as violent and dangerous. Dr. H. V. Pessant, acting superintendent of the sanitarium, testified Lenson was a sufferer from a severe form of dementia parietalis, had to be forcibly fed and was in a stuporous condition before and after the attack. He said he was not certain the injuries suffered, when beaten by Elsen, directly caused death. The injuries were described as a possible skull fracture, fractures of several ribs and bruises about the head.

Attendants testified Elsen was considered dangerous, even when handcuffed, and often attacked fellow patients trying to push them over chairs and beds and against walls and kicking them. Last Sunday afternoon he was visited by relatives and his handcuffs were removed for the duration of the visit. As the visitors departed and passed from a hall to a porch, Elsen followed and came upon Lenson, whom he knocked down and kicked until attendants pulled him away.

Lenson was treated at once for his injuries, but became unconscious Sunday night, remaining in that condition until he died at 7:30 a. m. yesterday. He is survived by a sister and two brothers. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon, with interment in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Six cases of violence or harmful blundering, four of which resulted in deaths of patients, were reported from November, 1923, to June, 1924, at the Sanitarium. In one case a 15-year-old inmate died after being scalded when placed in a hot bath by another patient. In the other cases attendants were accused of brutality. Several attendants were discharged.

to influence legislation. "Then you think that big interests have a right to employ people to manufacture sentiment in their interest?" "I do."

BRYAN CONCLUDES ILLINOIS TOUR AND GOES TO OHIO

Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee Assails Leaders of the Republican Party.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Gov. Charles W. Bryan, Democratic vice presidential nominee, left here this morning for Norwalk, O., where he will speak tonight, after a trip by automobile and train from Robinson, Ill., where he completed his tour of Southern Illinois last night.

En route to Chicago from Marshall, Ill., Bryan's drawing room was broken into by passengers of the car and led them to believe the candidate's quarters had caught fire. Investigation disclosed a porter had filled the heater with waste, which smoldered.

The speech at Robinson was the last of six addresses made during the day at outdoor meetings of coal miners and farmers.

By the Associated Press.
ROBINSON, Ill., Oct. 22.—Speaking here from an outdoor platform before a large crowd that shivered in a cold atmosphere, Gov. Bryan last night denounced those who have been driven out of office and are still leaders of the Republican party, being allowed to sit in conventions and help nominate the leaders of the Government.

Having met many friends from his former home town, Salem, Bryan told his audience here that he had all day been holding reunions.

Strong appeals were made by him for the election of John W. Davis, Democratic standard bearer, and Judge Norman L. Jones, Democratic candidate for the governorship.

CONFESSION CLEARS THREE OF 6 MEN SENTENCED TO HANG

Leader of Canadian Robber Band Asserts Only Three, Including Himself, Are Guilty of Murder.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—Louis Morel, one of six robbers sentenced to hang for the $50,000 robbery of the Bank of Hochelaga collection car, in which the driver was killed, has made a confession absolving three of the doomed men of any direct part in the holdup and murder. It was learned today. The three men, who Morel declared were not directly involved, are Frank Gambino, Mike Valinto and Tony Frank, who are sentenced to hang Friday with the three other robbers.

The cabinet, which will meet in Ottawa today to consider the case, will have before it a copy of Morel's confession. Morel, in a confession made earlier, had absolved another of the convicted men, Le Davis, of taking part in the robbery.

Morel was the leader of the band which committed the robbery and killed Henry Cleroux, the driver. The confession regarding the three other men was written in the form of a letter to the wife of Gambino.

St. Louis Flyers Arrive Home.
Roy Wilson and Billy Summer, St. Louisans, arrived at Lambert-St. Louis Field last evening in Wilson's airplane, having been on the way here from Los Angeles, since Sept. 4. On the way they stopped to visit friends and to carry passengers for short flights at various places.

SEEK ARBITRATION COURT FOR STATE, TO SPEED JUSTICE

New York Attorney and Government Official Here to Explain New Legal Plan.

DELAYS CITED

Arbitrator, Familiar With Question at Issue, Would Be Named to Hear Testimony.

Seeking to establish a court of arbitration in Missouri as a means of avoiding legal delays and to do away with the indirect tax placed upon every article of common use by the invisible overhead of litigation, Judge Moses H. Grossman, a New York attorney and vice president of the Arbitration Society of America, and A. J. Wolfe, chief of the Division of Commercial Laws, United States Department of Commerce, visited St. Louis today.

They spoke at a luncheon in which the Chamber of Commerce and the St. Louis Bar Association joined in the former's dining room. Chamber of Commerce Building, and each was to address students of Washington University Law School this afternoon.

Adopted in New York.
Judge Grossman represents a group of New Yorkers who brought about the passage of an arbitration law in that State and who are seeking to interest other states, particularly at this time Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and Wisconsin, in similar legislation.

Wolfe, as representative of the Department of Commerce, is co-operating in the effort to arouse sentiment for arbitration rather than litigation, because, as he told a Post-Dispatch reporter, Secretary Hoover, while Food Controller during the World War, found that arbitration had saved millions of dollars' worth of foodstuffs that might have rotted while litigation pended, and at the same time had left contending parties friendly.

"It is inevitable in a complex commercial civilization," Judge Grossman said, "that under a complex and traditional judiciary system there should arise many conflicts in which law and justice are at variance. One of these must give way. It is our purpose that justice shall never yield. Arbitration is the method to protect it."

Cites Law's Delays.
"For centuries justice has been reproached. Lawyers have mocked at it. Judges and the bar have been impotent to prevent its delays. Shakespeare knew it. The scorpion's tongue, the law's delays; he makes Hamlet say. It takes three years for an ordinary case to reach trial in New York."

"Now a delay in justice is a denial of justice. Witnesses disappear, documents are lost, memories fade and debtors become insolvent. The man who seeks justice must have justice now. Justice three years from now means no more than liberty three years from now."

"So in New York we obtained the passage of an arbitration law to give immediate justice. An arbitrator is selected from a list of men of character and standing who are familiar with the industry which is subject of litigation. He is placed upon oath and has power to issue subpoenas and compel submission of records. He hears the facts of a suit over a matter in which he has technical knowledge. His decree is recorded as a decree of the court, lower or supreme, according to the previous agreement of parties to the arbitration. The law enforces that decree as of the court."

Provision for Appeal.
"There is provision for appeal only when fraud, corruption or malfeasance can be shown."

"The jury system was established to get the greatest possible amount of law knowledge and common sense to bear on questions of fact in litigation. It is impossible to get 12 men under our jury system who completely understand a highly technical industry such as is often the basis of litigation. The result is that the bulwark of our justice gives us a travesty of justice. The lawyer's job is often to befuddle the jury. Experts are at variance and who is to judge? But if the litigants agree upon an expert to decide the facts, justice will be done."

"Our plan is not founded upon disrespect for law. It is based upon the highest respect for law. But we don't worship petrification in the courts. We want judicial machinery to keep pace with industrial machinery so that justice, as originally contemplated, can be achieved."

"What we seek is swift, direct and inexpensive justice. Millions of dollars each year are spent in litigation. Court costs and attorneys' fees must necessarily go into the overhead charges which every manufacturer or dealer includes in the price of what he sells. There is, then, in the United States, an indirect and invisible tax included in the price of everything we buy which we, as purchasers, must pay because of costly, clumsy and often

DR. BEEBE HELD ON WIFE'S CHARGE THAT HE BURNED AUTO

Physician Says Allegation Is Spite Work Resulting from His Divorce Suit.

Dr. Bert P. Beebe, who was arrested at his office and home, 1821 South Broadway, yesterday, on a charge of burning his automobile, made by his wife, Mrs. Doris Beebe of 5330 Pershing avenue, declared today that the charge was spite work resulting from a divorce suit he filed last month. He denied the charge.

A warrant sworn to by Mrs. Beebe alleges that Dr. Beebe burned his seven-passenger, $2000 Rickenbacker car on North and South roads, St. Louis County, April 15 last, to collect $1000 insurance. The alleged offense is third-degree arson. Dr. Beebe was taken to Clayton by Deputy Sheriff Goldsmith and released on bond.

Dr. Beebe is 44 years old and his wife 22. She is his fourth wife, the other three having divorced him. Last June she had him arrested for wife abandonment after he left on what his divorce petition called "a short trip to get relief from her persistent nagging." Dr. Beebe formerly had his office at 4009 Chouteau avenue.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 22.—Orders discontinuing publication of Ku Klux Klan weekly newspapers have been received in Texas cities. High Klan officials are said to be behind the move, which has for its object the centralizing of the publications. The American Citizen, which has been published in Fort Worth since the advent of the Klan, made its last appearance last week. The editor said he had sold his interests. The plan, according to local klansmen, is to merge eventually all of the papers in one big central publication at Washington, D. C. For the present, it is said, only one Texas Klan paper will be issued.

SYNAGOGUE NOT A CHURCH, WEST END RESIDENTS SAY

Distinction Between Edifices Drawn in Amended Petition to Prevent Building on Skinker Road.

Distinction between a church and a Jewish synagogue is made in an amended petition filed in Circuit Court yesterday by residents of Ellenwood subdivision, who are seeking to prevent the erection of a synagogue at 205-25 Skinker road.

The petition, directed against the United Hebrew Congregation, asserts that the subdivision is protected by restrictions which provide that no business buildings except churches, libraries, and doctors' offices may be erected within its confines. "A church is a place of assembly erected for the use of persons who live within the boundaries of a community limited in size, which building is specifically set apart for Christian worship," the petition maintains.

Synagogues do not meet with these requirements, in the words of the petition. "Such grand edifices as are commonly called synagogues or temples, used by persons outside of a limited community for non-Christian worship on some other day than Sunday are not churches." The defendants, in an answer to the petition, contend that a synagogue, being a place of worship in the word, is a church in the real meaning of the word. The suit, which seeks to enjoin the contractor from starting work on the synagogue, will be heard by Judge Killgren.

BEWARE THE
THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Have Color in Cheeks

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels, cleanse the system, and remove the cause of skin troubles.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid argon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

MANAGER OF BANK,
AT $1800 A YEAR,
STOLE $80,000

Employee of Brooklyn Institution for 17 Years Said to Have Admitted Theft After Arrest for Forgery.

TELLS POLICE HE PAID BACK $30,000

Wallace L. Conner, Always Elegant in Dress, Says He Could Not Live on Small Salary.

By Bureau of the New York
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—For 17 years the beaming personality of Wallace L. Conner greeted depositors just inside the revolving doors of the Sumner Savings Bank, Brooklyn.

All those years Conner was manager of the bank; in fact, to the depositors he personified the bank itself. He was elegant in dress, solicitous in manner and successful in appearance, on a salary of $1800 a year.

Three months ago the Sumner Savings Bank was absorbed by the Lincoln Savings bank and became a branch of the bigger institution. Conner stood inside the revolving doors no more. Depositors missed him.

Yesterday, returning to the bank for a visit, Conner was arrested. He was taken, protesting, to a police station. There he was told he was charged with forging drafts for $4000 with the name of Jacob Knispel, hardware dealer.

Admits Taking $80,000 in Cash. It is the police story that Conner, in the detectives' room of the station house, lost his composure and confessed that since May 7, 1933, the date of the Knispel check, he had taken from the Sumner Savings Bank by various means $80,000 in cash, $30,000 of which he had paid back.

Last night Conner, his immaculate clothes a little rumpled, was in police headquarters being questioned, police said, about the whereabouts of the remaining $50,000.

Two years ago, Conner told officers of the Sumner Savings Bank, including Arthur S. Somers, its president, he had received a large inheritance from his mother, who had died. It brought no change in his habits. It seemed only, if that were possible, that his clothes were even more impeccable than before.

In the confession, the police charge, Conner said to have explained: "I found that I could not live on $1800 a year longer."

He lived with his wife in an imposing apartment house in Brooklyn. A man at the apartment last night said no member of the Conner family was at home, and he knew nothing of the affair.

Conner is 50 years old. When the Lincoln Savings Bank took over the Sumner Savings Bank, he was one of many old employees let go. Conner, according to Nathan H. Jones, who had been vice president of the Sumner Savings Bank, went to work for the Manufacturers' Trust Co., as did Jones. Conner left the trust company recently, Jones said.

Charles Froeb, president of the Lincoln Savings Bank, said that two weeks ago expert accountants, examining the books of the Sumner Savings Bank incidental to the amalgamation, found a shortage which pointed to Conner. The matter was turned over to the American Surety Co., which had bonded Conner. "I was told today that he confessed," said Froeb, "but that is all I know. The amount is only $50,000. It does not affect the Lincoln Savings Bank in any way."

JURY TO DECIDE WHETHER HIGHT, WIFE SLAYER, IS SANE

Judge Kern, at Mount Vernon, Ill., Grants Defense Motion for Hearing Oct. 29.

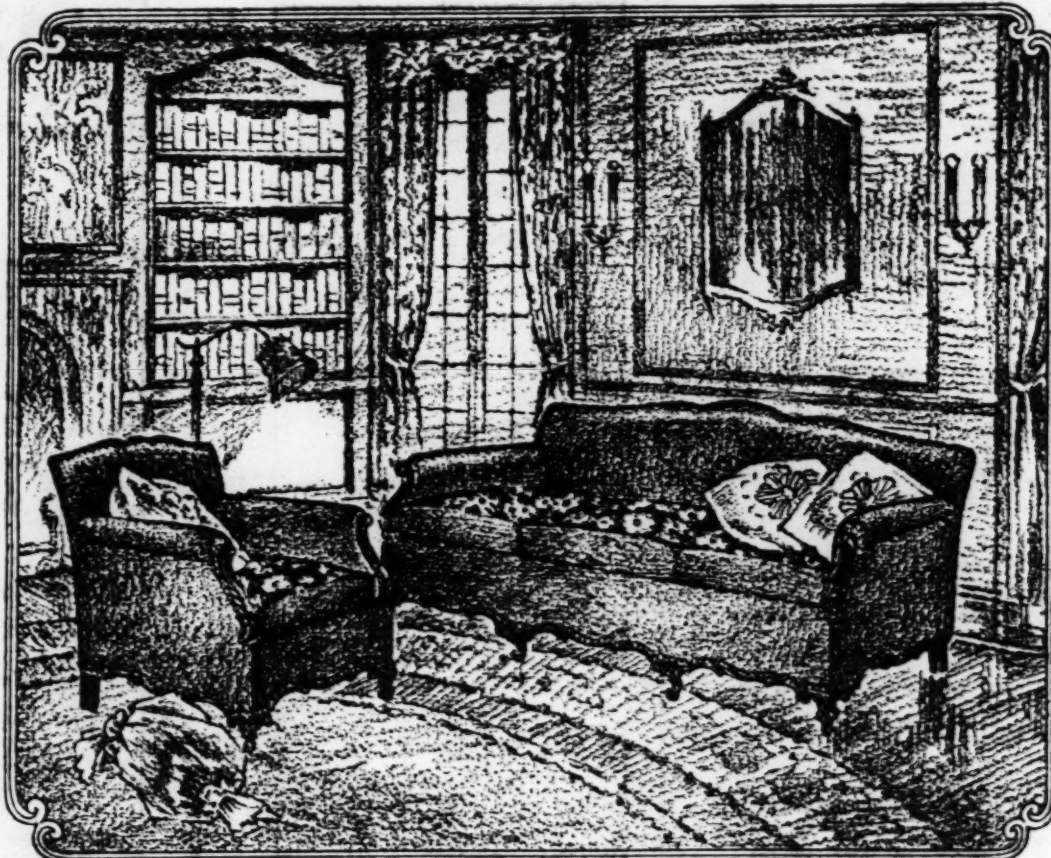

By the Associated Press. MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Oct. 22.—Circuit Judge J. C. Kern today granted a motion made by the attorney for Lawrence M. Hight, former Indiana clergyman, for an inquiry into his sanity before he pleads to the indictments charging him with the murder by poison of his wife and Wilford Sweeten.

The State's attorney did not oppose the motion, asking only that there be no unnecessary delay in calling a jury to hear evidence as to Hight's sanity.

Attorney Nelson Layman, representing Hight, asked for a hearing by medical experts, but Judge Kern ruled that under the Illinois law the question of sanity must be determined by a jury. The sanity trial was set for Oct. 9.

It was announced no further proceedings would be taken in the case of Mrs. Elsie Sweeten, indicted jointly with Hight, until the sanity trial was concluded. A hearing was scheduled this morning on the motion of Mrs. Sweeten for a separate trial, but before it was called, Judge Kern asked Hight's attorney whether his client was ready for arraignment. Layman then offered his motion for a sanity hearing.

Milk of Magnesia Users Try This!

Science combines Milk of Magnesia with Mineral Oil to fight constipation and acidosis.

Modern civilization with its heavy overeating and its lack of exercise has brought two great foes of human health: constipation and acidosis (sour stomach). Your indigestion, heartburn, that dark brown taste in the morning—all are symptoms of this condition.

Milk of magnesia is fine for neutralizing harmful stomach acids, but milk of magnesia alone, only goes half way. Therefore Science has combined pure mineral oil with this splendid agent.

Haley's Magnesia-Oil is the name of this perfect emulsion upon which the U. S. Government has granted a patent.

The milk of magnesia counteracts and neutralizes the acids and the mineral oil lubricates the intestine, overcoming constipation naturally without forming a habit. Haley's M-O can be taken safely by young or old. It is non-habit-forming and contains no drugs or other harmful agents.

Stop at your druggist's today and get a bottle of Haley's Magnesia-Oil. Take some tonight before going to bed and get up tomorrow morning feeling like a new person. All druggists—trial size 50¢ family size $1.00. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

SEARLES LURE FOUND WORKING IN LAUNDRY

Young Woman Said to Have Confessed She Was Bait in Blackmailing Plots.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—After confessing, the police say, that she was the lure by which a "Boston blackmail ring" of lawyers lured Albert Victor Searles, millionaire artist, of $65,000 in 1920, and the bait in other blackmailing plots that netted the plotters more than $600,000, a beautiful young woman, with chestnut hair, was taken from her work as a clothes sorter in a Jersey City laundry and locked up yesterday as a fugitive from justice.

She described herself as Helen Pelrose, 24 years old, of 64 Sipp avenue, Jersey City, employed for the last two years in the Brunswick Laundry, 220 Tonnell avenue, but the police say she is Eleanor Barnes, alias Sheila Barton, and a half dozen other names, wanted in Boston on four indictments charging conspiracy and statutory offenses.

The girl was arrested by detectives after her likeness to handbill descriptions sent out by the Boston police had been noted.

Protesting that "the gang" would shoot her if they got her back in Boston, she was arraigned today and confined in jail in default of $25,000 bail. She collapsed at the mention of extradition proceedings. She declared she had come to Jersey City to live down her past and make a new start in life.

Confession to Police.
According to Jersey City detectives, Miss Pelrose made a full confession to them of her part in operations of a blackmail gang in New England.

With Mrs. Blanche Paul, the police say she told them, she occupied an apartment in Boston to which Searles was inveigled. His fleeing there by the badger game when he exposed it in court led to the disbarment of William J. Corcoran, at that time the District Attorney of Middlesex County, and Corcoran's subsequent indictment for extortion with six others, including two lawyers.

Following the expose, Eleanor Barnes and Mrs. Paul fled from Boston, and for a time were reported to be receiving $30 a week from the headquarters of the blackmail gang, whose operations were not stopped by the indictments.

Fake Lodging House Raid.
The Barnes girl became acquainted with Abraham Levy of Hartford, a Yale student, and is alleged to have accompanied him to a lodging house where a fake raid was staged which Levy paid $800 to hush up.

Arrested subsequently on complaint of Harris Levy, the youth's father, on charges of bigamy and blackmail, the girl was released in Hartford under $100 bail and fled to Springfield. Upon her recapture there soon afterward, she attempted to end her life and was near death in a hospital for several days.

The Jersey City police said last night that, while Miss Pelrose freely admitted her share in blackmail schemes, she denied receiving more than $200 for her service, despite the immense hauls made by her accomplices. She said that among the victims were a prominent concert tenor and two motion picture financiers.

TRADE OUTLOOK IN ENGLAND FOR THE WINTER IS GRAVE

C. S. Pearson Tells American Meat Packers of Unemployment in Home Country.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Charles S. Pearson, of Liverpool, England, member of the wartime allied purchasing commission, told the members of the Institute of American Meat Packers here yesterday that the trade outlook in England for the coming winter "is grave."

He cited statistics to show that when he left home a month ago "there were unofficially 1,200,000 unemployed and unfortunately those figures are mounting weekly as the winter advances."

"With these figures of unemployment before you," Mr. Pearson continued, "you do not want to be told that trade is bad: in fact, the outlook for the coming winter is grave. Financially, England has made great sacrifices and since the war has become a comparatively poor nation, but only temporarily, we hope, as I believe our recuperative powers will again make good."

"The greatest hindrance to trade in England is the crushing taxation, which is a legacy from the war. Anyone earning $10,000 yearly pays from 24 to 30 per cent of it back in state taxation alone. In addition, his city or municipal rates and taxes are practically 75 per cent of the full amount of his rent, so when you take office and home into consideration, you can imagine what this means. 'I believe that conditions in England will gradually improve. The recent steadiness in sterling exchange is a hopeful sign, which I hope will materialize much further.'"

Revenue Cutter Meets Miss Mellon
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A United States revenue cutter bearing several representatives of Secretary of Treasury Mellon, met the White Star liner Olympic at Quabbin yesterday and escorted ashore Miss Alice Mellon, daughter of the Secretary. The Misses Craigie Mackay and Alice H. Sylvester of Washington, D. C., disembarked with Miss Mellon.

FORMER FEDERAL MARSHAL LYNCH'S ACCOUNTS SHORT

Discrepancy, Said to Be $10,000 or More, Laid to Laxity in Collecting Dry Law Fines.

SON WAS ACTIVE
HEAD OF OFFICE

Situation Attributed to Acceptance of Fraction of Fines on Promises to Settle in Full Later.

A shortage, said to be $10,000 or more, has been discovered in the accounts of the United States Marshal's office here under the incumbency of John E. Lynch, former Marshal, it was learned at Federal Building today.

The shortage, it is understood, resulted from laxity in collection of fines imposed for violation of the Volstead act, and does not represent any actual conversion of money from the Government.

Son Was Active Head.
Lynch, who resides in Moberly, Mo., and is an influential Democratic politician in the State, was not active in the conduct of the office. His son and chief deputy, George T. Lynch of 4488 McPherson avenue, was the active head of the office. George Lynch, who is in the road contracting business here, could not be reached for a statement in repeated efforts by the Post-Dispatch.

It is understood that the way the shortage was incurred was by allowing defendants, who had been fined sums of perhaps several hundred dollars each for violating the Volstead act, to pay a fraction of their fines upon imposition, with promises to pay the rest later. They would plead at first that they did not have the money to pay in full, but they would fail to keep their word about subsequent payments. The Marshal's office did not have the heart to refuse some of these requests, it is believed at Federal Building.

Probably several scores of defendants benefited in this way. When a defendant is fined in Federal Court he is ordered to stand committed until the fine is paid, and it is the Marshal's duty to collect or place the defendant in jail. One who thus goes to jail for lack of money may obtain liberty after 30 days by swearing to a pauper's oath. The clerk of the court does not have immediate knowledge of whether fines are paid or defendants are jailed.

Audit Disclosed Shortage.
The shortage was discovered by H. C. Argo, an examiner of the Department of Justice, in a routine inspection and comparison of the Marshal's books and the court clerk's books. The discrepancy was found between fines collected and jail terms served for failure to pay fines. The audit was made for a period of years. Argo was not here today and other authorities were unwilling to discuss the matter.

At the Department of Justice in Washington it was said: "The department is making an investigation in St. Louis and any statement at this time would prejudice the Government's case."

John Lynch, a banker, was Marshal here for a term under President Cleveland and for two terms under President Wilson, the latter being from 1912 to June 30, 1923, when he was succeeded by former Congressman T. W. Hukriede. George Lynch remained as chief deputy for about six months after Hukriede took over the office.

DAVIS TO SPEND LAST WEEK OF CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK
Final Address Will Be Made at Carnegie Hall, Saturday, Nov. 1.

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22.—When John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the presidency returns to New York City Friday evening, from his second Middle Western tour, it will be to remain there, or in the close vicinity, until the campaign is concluded.

It was announced upon the candidate's arrival here that the expected trip into Massachusetts had been abandoned in favor of an intensive drive in Greater New York and environs. The itinerary, while tentative in form, shows that the closing week of the campaign will be started Saturday, at a women's meeting and be concluded Saturday evening, Nov. 1, with a final address at Carnegie Hall.

Between the two engagements Davis will speak at a Staten Island meeting late Saturday afternoon, and at the Mount Morris High School, the Bronx, that evening. Sunday will be given over to rest at Locust Valley and Monday to a rally in Jersey City.

The Ways of a Cosmopolitan

by Shirley Deane

It is said that everyone has a hobby. And certainly the smart cosmopolitan, no matter how inconspicuously she goes about it, is a pastmistress in the art of collecting. She assembles a wardrobe that meets all the requirements of an exacting social life and which is conspicuously individual. I wonder how many know how their task of selection would be simplified by shopping at Sonnenfeld's. The new Costume Salon has all those different things that delight those who seek the unusual.

An Evening Gown at $125

Black-tipped ostrich feathers spray from the tunic hem of a brilliant Ballroom Gown of white chiffon that is elaborately flowered with crystal and pearl embroideries. At its shoulder it wears a rose of Parisian inspiration.

A Street Dress at $85.00

An artist in color and design doubtless fashioned the duvetyne vest of this stunning Coat Frock. Its colorful embroideries are in vivid contrast to the navy Poiret twill which fashions it. The fur collar is of the richest beaver.

A Dinner Dress at $49.50

The gaily embroidered red Georgette tunic front of this new Dinner Dress has cleverly allied itself to a black velvet foundation which fashions the front hem and the entire back. The silver of the braid reasserts itself in tassels and embroidery.

A Dance Frock at $35.00

A circular flounce, edged with wide gold lace, lends the new lines to a dainty Dance Frock of Nile green Georgette. Gold lace also adorns the bodice of its satin slip. A soft green rose nestles in green ostrich tips which flutter down a golden stem.

A Sport Frock at $25.00

Simply belted in the back, a smart Sport Dress accentuates its slender lines with white pencil lines on a flannel ground of shutter green. A linen collar and vest are strictly tailored, buttoning to the Frock with matching green buttons. Narrow white cuffs finish the long, tight sleeves.

The Lanoil Permanent Wave

by Shirley Deane

I wonder how many women who entrust their hair to the heat of a permanent waving process first investigate the different methods to learn which one is the safest for the hair and gives the most natural wave.

I am convinced, after much investigation, that the Lanoil Process is the gentlest, the most effectual, the most natural, and is given in the shortest possible time. The hair is wrapped in flat waves, which prevents kinking; the heat is applied for only seven minutes and the oil process keeps the hair soft and preserves its glossy texture.

REFERENDUM ON BRIDGE APPROACH TO GO ON BALLOT

Supreme Court Rules Ordinance Will Be Up for Decision of People at November Election.

MEASURE IS HELD TO BE LEGISLATIVE

Chamber of Commerce Loses Application for Permanent Write to Prevent Referendum.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—The referendum on the St. Louis bridge approach ordinance will go on the ballot in St. Louis for the people's decision at the Nov. 4 election, under a decision of the Supreme Court here yesterday.

The ordinance had been passed to stop plans for the northeastern railroad approach of the municipal bridge over the Mississippi River.

An item of the 1933 St. Louis bond issue provided $1,500,000 for this approach, but city officials declared the structure would cost about $5,000,000 and also that there was no assurance railroads would use it. A group of citizens who think the approach ought to be built anyway invoked the referendum process, an ordinance which directed the City Counselor to drop condemnation proceedings for land for the approach in East St. Louis, Ill.

Chamber Opposes Referendum.

A group of 600 persons, comprising leaders of the Chamber of Commerce, recently began efforts to keep the referendum from the ballot, thus assuring the effect of the repeal or "cease-proceedings" ordinance.

Yesterday's decision, by the Supreme Court en banc, denied the application of the Chamber of Commerce representatives for a permanent writ of mandamus preventing the referendum.

The application for the writ contended that the ordinance was administrative in character, rather than legislative, merely giving directions to a public official, and, therefore, not subject to referendum. It maintained that the city of St. Louis was not privileged to act as a municipal corporation in the State of Illinois.

Holds Ordinance Legislative.

The decision, which was written by Judge David E. Blair, held the ordinance to be legislative in character. Under former court decisions, it held, the original ordinance directing the condemnation was of legislative nature, even though it involved land outside the city.

"It needs no argument," Judge Blair wrote, "to demonstrate that a legislative act cannot be repealed in whole or in part by an administrative order. Such an act can be repealed only by a later legislative act."

A temporary writ against the St. Louis Election Board was dissolved by the decision. Judges J. T. Blair, White and Ragland concurred. Chief Justice Graves, who dissented, will file a separate opinion.

Judge Walker was absent and Judge Woodson did not vote.

Voters Urged to Scrutinize "Yes" and "No" on Bridge Referendum.

Voters were urged to scrutinize "Yes" and "No" on the bridge referendum in a statement today by John J. Hill, chairman of the Anti-Toll Referendum League, which invoked the referendum. This vote would favor building the northeastern approach. Hill's organization maintains that this approach would help break the "arbitrary" charge for hauling freight across the river, while others assert there would be no such effect.

K. K. FIGHTS SENATOR GLASS

Opponent of Virginian Is Strong Supporter of Coolidge.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 22.—United States Senator Carter Glass of Virginia was one of the anti-klan leaders at the Democratic National Convention in New York and should be defeated. This is the order being broadcast throughout the State by Ku Klux Klan organs. One published in Washington gives the endorsement to the 19 Virginia Democratic Congressmen, who are candidates for re-election, but takes no pains to call attention to the fact that the same Klan newspaper are attacking John W. Davis for his stand against the hooded order. W. N. Doan of Roanoke, a strong supporter of President Coolidge, is Glass' opponent.

Democratic leaders are hoping for a reaction in Virginia and elsewhere from the attacks being made on Davis and Glass by the Klan.

Chauffeur Held Up and Robbed.

D. C. Patrick, a chauffeur for the Waco Candy Co., 223 Market street, was held up and robbed of $30 at 7:50 p. m. yesterday, at Ridge avenue and the Southern Railroad tracks, East St. Louis, by two armed men. They then forced him to drive to Ridge and Twentieth street, a distance of about four blocks, and escaped.

Are You as Well as You Should Be? You Can't Be Happy When Every Day Brings That Nagging Backache and Finds You Tired, Weak and All Worn Out.

To be well is to enjoy life—to share in the happy times of those around us. But to be constantly ailing is to miss life's pleasures and to envy the health and joys of more fortunate friends and neighbors.

Are you one of the countless folks to whom every day is a backache day? Do you feel older and slower than you should; get up lame and aching; suffer stabbing pains at every sudden move? And does evening find you too tired, nervous and depressed to rest or relax? To get back in trim, then, you must first find out what is making you feel so miserable and try to correct it. All too often weak kidneys are to blame.

You may have only backache—a lameness, soreness, stiffness, or sudden, stabbing pains when lifting or stooping. Or there may be headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. These are common symptoms of kidney weakness—usually easy to correct if treated promptly, but dangerous if neglected! Begin using Doan's Pills before some serious kidney sickness develops. Thousands have won back good health through Doan's. They should help you, too. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These St. Louis Folks:

MRS. MARY PFIFFER, 4219 Fair Ave., says: "I suffered from pains in my back and limbs. I felt tired and depressed, with but little energy. My kidneys didn't act right and I knew they were the cause of my trouble. Doan's Pills were advised and they were what I needed. Doan's strengthened and regulated my kidneys and freed me from the aches."

WHEAT POOL BILL REJECTED
Australian Legislative Council Votes Against Measure.
By the Associated Press.
MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 22.—The legislative council by a vote of 17 to 13 has rejected the bill passed by the legislative assembly Oct. 14 providing for a compulsory wheat pool.

A dispatch from Melbourne, Oct. 14, announcing the passage of the wheat pool bill by the assembly said the latest estimate of the Australian wheat crop was approximately 119,000,000 bushels, or about 4,000,000 bushels less than the 1933 crop.

COL. EMERY SHOT BY TYPIST'S HUSBAND

Former Commander of Legion Wounded in Shoulder When Arguing With Man.

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 22.—Col. John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion, was shot and slightly wounded this morning in his real estate office by Chedell Simpson, 44 years old, husband of Col. Emery's stenographer. A divorce action is pending against Simpson. Col. Emery was shot in the left shoulder.

Mrs. Simpson, who is 26 years old, has been in Emery's employ for two weeks, going to his office in response to an advertisement.

Emery's version of the affair was as follows: "Mrs. Simpson applied for work about two weeks ago and was given a position as stenographer. I never had seen her or her husband before that time."

"She said something to me a day or so ago about having trouble with her husband and having filed a bill for divorce. Simpson had been calling at the office every day recently to see his wife."

"This morning Mrs. Simpson came to the door of my private office and said, 'Mr. Emery, my husband is here again in a very intoxicated condition and I am afraid of him.'"

"I told her to slip into my office and I would talk to Simpson. I then walked into the outer office where Simpson stood. I asked him what he wanted and he said, 'My wife works here, doesn't she?'"

"I said, 'Yes, she works here and is very satisfactory.'"

"Simpson then asked to talk with me in my private office, but I kept my hand on the gate in the railing and refused to let him in. Then he put his hand in his pocket and pulled out a gun. He leveled it at me and shouted, 'You're a dirty dog and everybody knows it. You're trying to break up my home.'"

"Then Simpson fired the gun. The bullet hit my left arm just above the elbow and passed through the flesh to the shoulder, where it stopped."

Second Shot Misses.
"As he fired I shouted to others in the office, 'Grab that man.' Simpson fired a second shot at me before they could get him, but the bullet went wild. He tried to fire again as they seized him, but without success. He was aiming at my heart and I am confident he would have killed me if he could."

Mrs. Simpson applied for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and non-support. She charged her husband was addicted to liquor and when intoxicated was cruel and unmanageable. Her attorney obtained an injunction last week restraining Simpson from visiting her pending proceedings. This injunction was violated, she charged, and her attorney sought the arrest of Simpson, but this was denied.

SECRETARY DAVIS ANSWERS ATTACK ON HIS UNIONISM

Declares Labor Move Criticized Him for Supporting Candidacy of Dawes.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, made public a statement upon reaching Chicago last night, in which he attacked the sincerity of members of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who have proposed that his standing as a labor unionist be investigated.

He said the move "apparently criticized me for supporting Charles G. Dawes," in explanation of which he said that both he and Dawes were Republicans and "therefore I am supporting him." The statement also contained a record of correspondence with John R. Alpine, formerly international president of the United Association of Journeymen Plasterers and Steamfitters. Alpine's letter declared that he, Alpine, had found Dawes friendly to labor unions and that Dawes had at one time assisted his organization in a financial way.

The secretary's statement said that "the resolution criticizing me was presented by one Thomas McCabe," who, the statement continued, was foreman of the painters engaged in the construction of Mooshart, the town built for the dependent children of the Loyal Order of Moose. McCabe was found to be blowing up the work "to prolong the job, and was promptly discharged." The statement gave this as the reason for McCabe's attitude toward Davis, who is director-general of the Loyal Order of Moose.

GIRL SWALLOWS POISON

Sees Sweetheart With Another Woman and Tries to End Life.
Miss Adeline Pace, 20 years old, a telegraph operator, is at City Hospital suffering from poison, which she drank at her home, 3638 Finney avenue, yesterday, after meeting her sweetheart with another girl.

Miss Pace told hospital attendants that she and Cleb Moser, 21 years old, of 3819 Delmar boulevard, had planned to be married next month. Yesterday she saw Moser downtown with another young woman. Miss Pace followed him home and drank poison. Following her arrival at the hospital, she asked that Moser be notified. He came to the hospital, begged forgiveness, and Miss Pace announced today that the wedding would take place as soon as she recovers. Her condition is not serious.

UKRAINIA SETS ASIDE 8,000,000 ACRES FOR JEWS

Purpose Is to Relieve Congestion of Population—American Commission Advances Loan.

By the Associated Press.
KHARKOV, Russia, Oct. 22.—The Ukrainian Government has set aside 8,000,000 acres of land in the district of Ekaterinoslav to be developed by Jewish settlers in order to relieve the congested living conditions in the Jewish areas of the Ukraine.

Three thousand Jewish families from the smaller trading towns will move to the new area and the American joint committee has advanced to the Government a loan of $100,000 for the improvement of the land.

There are about 400,000 Hebrew families in the Ukraine, and the Ukrainian Commissariat of Agriculture has approached the authorities of the Russian republic with a request for the apportionment of land in the Crimea and Volga districts for some portion of these families. It is thought likely that the request will be granted and that the Simferopol district will be chosen for the new settlement.

WHITE WOMAN OBTAINS DIVORCE FROM NEGRO

She Married Him in England Where He Posed as Cherokee Indian.

Mrs. Annie K. Horton, 35 years old, of Hayes, Middlesex, England, who temporarily made her home at the Wild Cherry Farm, Clayton and Lay roads, St. Louis County, was granted a divorce at Clayton yesterday by William Horton, a negro. She testified he won her hand and the admiration of the English village where she lived, by posing as a full blooded Cherokee Indian.

"The whole village worshipped him," she told reporters after the divorce was granted. "It was a tiny little place and we had never seen an Indian or a negro. The farmers would come to the village from miles around to hear him tell of his life in America. They would buy him drinks and he would talk for hours about the queer life in America. He would tell them of the wild life of his old grandfather in the mountains of Kentucky."

"All the girls thought he was wonderful. Then there weren't very many young men of the right sort there, you know. One day when my grandmother and myself were working in the fields he came and said he wanted to talk with me. He said he wanted to take an English girl back to his people."

"We were married on Aug. 6, 1916, and the marriage was the event of the country side. Everyone was there. After the wedding he refused to take me back to his people in America. I urged and urged him but he said he liked England pretty well. In 1921 he consented to return to America."

"When we arrived in St. Louis County he suddenly quit going with white people. When I asked him the reason he said the negroes were better than white people, anyway. This, with talk I heard, aroused my suspicion. I went to his sister and she said although they were just a light brown and a very intelligent family they were full blooded negroes."

"I left him on Aug. 13, and applied for divorce, alleging indignities and cruelty. I am going to return to England just as soon as I can."

MAN HELD IN AUTO ACCIDENT TAKEN TO KANSAS CITY

Will Be Questioned in Connection With $3500 Robbery of Swope Park State Bank.

Harry Murphy of Kansas City, who was held by the authorities here because he was in the automobile which struck and seriously injured Simon Van Raalte of 34 Washington terrace, money lender and real estate dealer, last Wednesday, was taken back to Kansas City yesterday for questioning in connection with the $3500 robbery of the Swope Park State Bank, Kansas City, Oct. 16.

Vernon J. Barnes, who drove the car that hit Van Raalte, is being held here, pending outcome of Van Raalte's injuries. Circuit Attorney Sidener having refused to turn him over to the Kansas City police in the bank case.

The Swope Park State Bank last night served a writ of attachment on the Kansas City police to obtain property of Murphy, who is 26 years old. This includes $457, a watch and a diamond pin. It bery.

26 CHILDREN ARNING THEIR WAY ON EDUCATIONAL TOUR

Inmates of Home in State of Washington Travel in Motor Caravan and Give Concerts.

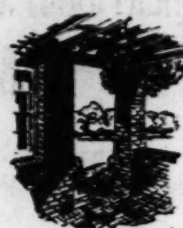

Twenty-six children, ranging in age from 5 to 19 years, from the Children's Home of Des Moines, Wash., are in St. Louis this week on a self-financed educational tour of the United States from the Pacific Coast to Florida. Traveling in a motor caravan of four trucks and one advance car, they are under the supervision of H. M. ("Daddy") Draper, superintendent of the home.

The children are defraying the expenses of the tour by giving concerts in the cities and towns they visit, and since starting on the trip June 8, have cleared enough to pay off $1500 of indebtedness on the home. Yesterday they serenaded Mayor Kiel and Chief of Police O'Brien. All are being taught both instrumental and vocal music, and a teacher who accompanies them holds classes daily in other regular school work. The pupils range from the first grade to high school and are required to spend five hours daily in study.

Their traveling equipment, which is valued at $7000, was purchased through a loan made by the people of Seattle. One truck is equipped as a school room and another is built so as to provide a 16-foot stage when the sides are let down.

Killing Frost at Dixon, Ill.

DIXON, Ill., Oct. 22.—A heavy killing frost visited this section last night. The mercury dropped to 35 degrees above zero.

The home-builder of limited resources should build with Face Brick. The savings in repairs, maintenance and depreciation effected by this permanent, enduring material will amount to large sums as the years pass, far overbalancing the extra initial cost. MISTAKEN FOR ROBBER,
KILLED BY HIS FATHER
Virginia Prohibition Agent Fired in Darkness, Hitting 9-Year-Old Son.
The Associated Press.
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 21.—A victim of mistaken identity, a 9-year-old son of Philip Calder, Prince William County, was killed by his father, who mistook him for a burglar, when the tragedy occurred Sunday night. The child had gone outside to get a drink of water from a spring before going to bed, and when he returned found the house dark and everything quiet. His father, a prohibition agent, had returned early, but was awakened by the footsteps of the boy upon the stairs. Fearing burglars, he seized his gun and, at the head of the stairway, called to know who was there. When no one answered, he says, he fired. Then he turned on a light and was horrified to learn that he had killed his child.

CHARCOAL GAS AS MOTOR FUEL REPORTED SUCCESS

Experiments Carried Out at Swedish Factory for Use in Autos and Boats.
By the Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, Oct. 22.—Experiments in the use of charcoal gas instead of oil as a motor fuel for automobiles, boats and even trains, have been carried out successfully by the Scania-Vabis Works in Mal-mo, it is announced. The gas, derived from ordinary charcoal and produced at only a fraction of the cost of gasoline or alcohol, can be carried in containers conveniently placed in motor cars and can be piped via a generator to the motor.
Another development in connection with the use of cheap motor fuel is the announcement from the Sala-Gefle Railroad that its passenger cars are being converted for the use of coal gas instead of steam.

MISSING CASHIER ARRESTED, DENIES HE LOOTED BANK

Frank Seabaugh of Daisy, Mo., Says He Trusted Relatives and Friends to Make Overdrafts Good.

"CAN SHOW WHERE THE MONEY WENT"

Declares Directors Knew
the Institution Had Been in a Bad Condition for Last Three Years.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PERRYVILLE, Mo., Oct. 22.— Frank Seabaugh, cashier of the closed Farmers' Bank of Daisy, 20 miles south of here, who had been sought since his disappearance, Sept. 29, on the eve of an audit by Bank Examiners, and who was arrested here yesterday, denies taking any money from the bank. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Arnold Schumacher after George Herron, a truck driver, discovered him emerging from a wood near the outskirts of town.

The arrest was made at the home of Floyd Johnson, a brother-in-law of Seabaugh's, where the latter's daughters, Prudence, 16, and while attending school here.

Officers of Cape Girardeau County were notified and arrived here shortly after noon. They took Seabaugh to the Cape Girardeau County jail at Jackson, where he will be held to await trial.

Seabaugh, whose accounts have disclosed a shortage of $50,000, took his arrest calmly. His greeting to the deputy was a hearty
"Hello, Arnold."

"You may as well consider yourself under arrest," the deputy announced. "Well, I won't cause you any trouble," was the reply.

Says Friends Deserted Him.

"They want back on me, my relatives and friends that I had known and trusted for a lifetime," Seabaugh said. "They would go out and write checks and then come to me and tell me about it, saying they would have the money in a few days. The checks would be presented and I would cash them, but the folks who wrote them never brought in the money to make them good."

"One man went out one day and bought $1000 worth of cattle when he didn't have a cent in the bank.
He came to me and told me to cash
the check. I did so. I trusted him.
He never brought another cent to the bank."

"If all the men who have overdrawn their accounts in this manner paid up, the bank would be about even and the stockholders would lose very little. It's all there, every cent. If they would let me go into the bank I could show them every penny. Even the $20,000 in Liberty Bonds, which they say I have stolen, are accounted for. I can show them to the examiners."

According to Seabaugh's story,
he has traveled over three states since he disappeared. For a few days he worked in the Ozarks, gathering corn for some of his relatives. Then he went to Para-gould, Ark., where he found employment digging a cellar. While there, he said, he became uneasy about his wife and family. He wanted to know if they were standing by him, so he decided to return home and then leave again.

He took a train for Chester, Ill., that would enable him to reach Perryville shortly before daylight.
The train was late, however, and he did not reach here until morning. Lying in the brush, almost within a stone's throw of his daughter, Prudence, he said he could not resist the temptation to see her. He was seen and recognized as soon as he left the shelter.
"The last three years have been a hell to me," he said, on leaving Perryville. "Yes, it has been going on that long. The trustees knew it all along—that the bank was in a bad shape. Many is the time that I thought of killing myself."

The bank was capitalized at $10,000 and had deposits of about $60,000 at the time of the closing.

GOV. SMITH DENIES CHARGE Says Statements Like Roosevelt's Feed Fires of Bigotry.

By the Associated Press.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 22.—
Gov. Smith, in a speech here last night, denied that he was endeavoring to get control of the Department of Education, and said he regretted that Theodore Roosevelt, his opponent, had made this charge without ascertaining the facts.

"Statements of this kind," he said, "feed the fires of religious and racial bigotry. Let my distinguished young opponent just chop out the bunk and forget all about the desire of Tammany Hall to grab the schools. If you hear any more talk of this you will know it is willful, cold-blooded, deliberate propaganda intended to misrepresent the whole situation."

Gas Workers Re-elect Murphy.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Timothy ("Big Tim") Murphy, Chicago labor leader and politician, serving a term in the Leavenworth penitentiary for participation in the Dearborn street station mail robbery elected president of the Gas Work-three years ago, yesterday was re-ers' Union whose activities he has directed for more than a year from also been active in managing the his prison cell. Murphy's wife has affairs of the union.

ISSUE BEFORE THE
OF ONTARIO

Province to Ballot on Qu
Dry Statute for Liquor Government C

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TORONTO, Oct. 22.—All eyes in Canada are focused on the fight in Ontario on prohibition at the election tomorrow. Everywhere, in trains and street cars, drawing rooms and kitchens the outcome is the topic of speculation.

C. D. Boyce, secretary of the Moderation League, the official organization of the "wets," had occasion the other day to speak over the telephone with the Rev. Ben Spence, leader of the Ontario Prohibition Committee, as the "dry" army is known. Business concluded, Boyce remarked:

"If suppose you realize that we are going to have 100,000 majority."

"Tut, tut," said Spence. "But you a new silk hat," pressed Boyce.

"Oh," laughed Spence, "I'm not a betting man. But the real trouble is I don't look well in a silk hat."

Drys Offer Powerful Front.

The issue lies in the lap of the gods. The wets entered the fray greatly encouraged by recent victories in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. They were heartened also by the discussions where they and their friends gathered. This optimism was reflected as soon as the date of the plebiscite was announced by a boom on the stock exchange—stocks which would be favorably affected by a wet victory. Industrial Alcohol, National Breweries, Dominion Glass and other issues have had sharp advances.

But the Prohibition organization was not asleep. It has jumped into the fray backed by substantial business interests and great church organizations and it presents a powerful front.

Dry forces profess to see a "turn of the tide." The wet provinces, they say, are examples to be shunned; in witness whereof they display masses of statistics purporting to show that the substitution of government sale for prohibition has increased drunkenness, bootlegging and crime.

The statistics may or may not be fair, may or may not tell the whole story. The point is that the temperance cause, after several years' trial of prohibition, decided the time had come for a change. Prohibition was not living up to the prophecies of those who had advocated its adoption. It was creating evils as great as those it pretended to subdue—and much more difficult to deal with.

"Prohibition does not frighten the bootlegger and the moonshiner. It created him and keeps him alive. The decent, self-respecting, law-abiding citizen has been penalized, but the orgies of the other class, provided they are conducted with sufficient secrecy, have remained unchecked."

The Moderation League emphasizes the fact that wherever prohibition has been enacted strong movements have grown up against it, and that the longer the experiment of prohibition has been tried in any place the greater the opposition it has created.

Under Government Control. "It is highly significant that, to take one example only, the Province of Saskatchewan which, for years, had voted strongly, when over opportunity arose, in favor of prohibition," the Moderation League declares, "should last year have voted decisively against it. The significance of this increase when it is taken into account what the people of Ontario have been told regarding Manitoba. The people in Saskatchewan have, by their close geographical proximity, a much better opportunity to know the conditions in Manitoba than have those in Ontario, and it will not be questioned that they had a much better opportunity of knowing the conditions in their own province than people residing elsewhere."

"The prohibition system in Manitoba had been in operation many months before the people of Saskatchewan voted on this question. The conclusions are irresistible. A lamentable failure in Alberta and a lamentable failure in Saskatchewan. In place of their prohibition laws these provinces adopted a policy of Government control. Prohibition has been a lamentable failure in Ontario."

Taxes Growing Higher. "On the other hand, after less than 12 months, the revenues of the Province of Manitoba have been . . ."

Mr. Davis' Labor Record.

I HAVE carefully reviewed the labor record of John W. Davis and it is surprising. I find he is not a radical, but a progressive; not in favor of Government ownership of railroads, as that would destroy collective bargaining and bring about a state of affairs more intolerable than the Esch-Cummings law; would require the wages of railroad men to be fixed by statute and place the railroad men in the same position as the postal service men are now placed, and if Congress increased their wages by enactment it was not satisfactory to the President, he could veto it.

The Government ownership of railroads would be another insurmountable obstacle in the way of the railroad men. I. e. in case a man was discharged, having many years seniority and had followed railroading so long that he was virtually incapacitated for any other work, the question arises, where would he railroad in the future? Possibly he might go to Canada or Mexico or Europe. It is a well known fact, he would not railroad again in the United States, as the railroads would all be owned by the Government, and so it should be readily seen that this Government ownership, advocated by Senator La Follette, is a fallacy, and would do irreparable injury to the railroad men.

With regard to Mr. Davis' labor record, I find he was a member of the West Virginia Legislature and that he worked hard in hand with Mr. B. W. Connolly, a labor leader, who was a member of the Legislature, and also Ralph McCoy, a bricklayer and a member of organized labor, also a member of the Legislature. Mr. Davis voted for a bill to conserve health, life and limbs of the factory workers; a child labor law; a law requiring the ventilation of mines; an eight-hour work day for public works in West Virginia; and making Labor day a legal holiday in that State.

While a member of the Sixty-second and Sixty-third Congress, seventeen (17) bills were before that body relating to labor and Mr. Davis voted for twelve (12) as labor desired and was absent on five (5).

This record is furnished over the signatures of H. E. Willis of the B. of L. E., A. J. Lovell of the B. of L. F. and E. W. N. Clark of the O. R. C., and W. N. Book of the B. of L. E. They say that the foregoing is a copy of the digest of the voting record of Hon. John W. Davis as it is compiled from the Congressional Record and kept in this office.

As Solicitor General of the United States, Mr. Davis argued the Adamson eight-hour law before the Supreme Court and gained a decision favorable to the law, and it is said that the argument he made was one of the most conclusive and effective arguments ever made before the Supreme Court on a labor measure.

Therefore, I see no reason why any Democrat should desert his party at this election with a candidate for President with the extraordinary record of John W. Davis.

Rest Day for Oil Salesmen.

TO THE Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
WHEN I was in Texas during the war I was agreeably surprised to find they sold no gasoline on Sunday. The automobile owners filled their tanks on Saturday afternoon and kept a gallon can on hand for extra occasions. There was as much gasoline and oil sold as at the time they used to sell on Sunday. The employees of the various oil companies were ordered to have no Sunday with their families, and to go to church. Why not try this plan here?

Unit Streets.

TO THE Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I NOTICE on your editorial page a reference to the unit streets in St. Louis, and as I am interested to some extent, will ask your paper to investigate our case.

I am living on Wanda avenue, near Kingshighway Southwest, and for two years or more have asked the city for three street lamps to light our street (Kansas) that we all use in coming to and from the Cherokee car line. This street runs through a dark section and is unlighted and so dark we use hand lamps to light our way at night.

There have been three attacks on persons on this street in two years. We are told we will get lights when the rest of the city is supplied.

I have seen Cleveland avenue, Flad, Flora, Chouteau and numerous other streets that had lights on them fitted with new standards and the old ones removed but we are still without lights. Why, I ask, does the city spend out of their slender board when so many need lights so badly? I am a member of the "Boulevard Heights Improvement Association" consisting of 100 members representing about 500 people. We have constructed over 1000 feet of board walks so our children could go to school and we have made over 2000 feet of roadway at our own expense, but the city can't give us a half dozen street lamps to light our way home at night.

DR. NELSON DENIES.

The public should think straight in forming a judgment on the charge made by Chairman Phares of the Republican State Central Committee, supported by the affidavits of three men, confessed klanmen, that Dr. Nelson joined the klan at California, Mo., and that his name was on the klan books as having been "demitted."

Dr. Nelson makes a specific denial of the charge, repeating what he has reiterated in reply to every such charge, that he is not a klanman, that he has never joined the organization, that he has never had any connection with it as a member and has never applied for admission. He brands the statement that he is a klanman or has ever been a klanman, as false. He says the charge that he has ever represented himself as a klanman in any part of the State is "deliberately false." He says he has reiterated his statement that he stood with John W. Davis on the klan issue. He declares unequivocally that he has never "sought the support of any person on the ground of religion, race or color, or by reason of their affiliation with any organization." He pledges himself, if elected, not to consider religious affiliations or the accident of birth in making appointments.

Although Dr. Nelson has not fought the issue with the vigor and frankness and courage that we would have liked, it is wholly untrue, as his enemies intimate, that he has not made specific and conclusive statements with regard to his relations with the klan, and has not defined his position. Chairman Phares and Gov. Hyde have grossly and falsely misrepresented him in that respect. The Globe-Democrat, which printed the Phares statement and the affidavits, affirms that Dr. Nelson has denied that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, and has declared that any organization of its aim "does violence to the spirit of American institutions, and must be condemned by all those who believe, as I do, in American ideals."

Chairman Phares, in his statement published this morning, tries to support his own statement and the affidavits by saying that no cards had been distributed by the Ku Klux Klan except applications for membership. That is untrue. Cards have been distributed in which the persons receiving them were asked to answer certain questions relating to the Constitution, law and order and other points, and suggesting that if they desired to become members or desired further information, to send to a specified address. Many persons have been admitted to klan lectures without requiring membership applications.

The hostile motive of all those concerned in this effort to convince the public that Dr. Nelson has klan affiliations must be considered, along with the character of the men who make it, and their sources of information. It is an effort not merely to make the voters think that Dr. Nelson has klan affiliations, but it is an effort to utterly discredit him as a man of integrity and veracity, and to destroy his campaign by branding him as a maker of false statements, and dishonest in both thought and act. The effort was started by Gov. Hyde, who is himself heavily tainted with klan affiliations and klan appointments, and whose secretary, says Notary Schutts of Jefferson City, vouched for two of the men who made the affidavits. It is supplemented by Chairman Phares, whose hostile object in attempting to discredit the Democratic candidate for Governor is obvious.

It must be borne in mind that Dr. Nelson is a man whose high character, integrity and veracity have been recognized. He is a man of culture and standing, hitherto without stain. All of this must be taken into consideration in weighing evidence brought as this charge is brought, by his political enemies and by confessed members of the klan.

If the charges are untrue, they constitute about the vilest and most dastardly conspiracy to ruin a man in political life that has ever been attempted in the history of Missouri, and the perpetrators should be exposed and punished. If they are supported by convincing evidence, which has not yet been supplied, then Dr. Nelson must suffer the consequences. But there must be a thorough investigation and a complete cleaning up of the situation, to the end that the guilt may rest where it belongs and the public may have full information upon which to base a sound judgment.

CONGRESS AND MR. COOLIDGE.

When Chairman William M. Butler appeals for the election of a Republican Congress "to support Mr. Coolidge" he cannot mean that many Republicans serving in the Sixty-Eighth Congress should be re-elected to the Sixty-Ninth. For during the short period that Mr. Coolidge has been President he has been all the time at loggerheads with the Republicans of both House and Senate. They have regularly slighted, rebuked and overruled him.

During the campaign Mr. Coolidge has manifested his gratitude to the Republicans in Congress for their loyalty to him by not saying a word in their behalf. He is not supporting them any more ardently than they supported him during the last session. On the bonus and the World Court Lodge and other Republicans turned against him just as readily as Norris and Brookhart on any issues.

Mr. Coolidge could not hold the support of stand-patters or insurgents of his own party. And if he should be re-elected it would be the same thing over again. It is no more possible to elect a Republican Congress "to support Mr. Coolidge" than to make the present Republican Congress support him.

CAPACITY POPULATION.

Those of us who have smugly rested in the belief that human emigration to the tropics need not be looked for until the encroachment of irresistible glaciers of a hypothetical ice age some 3,000,000 years hence, have received a rude jolt. Prof. Albert Penck, noted German geologist, has dragged that epoch out of the blackness of future ages to a point only 300 years away. For by that time, says Prof. Penck in a scientific report, the earth will have reached the feeding limit of the increased population.

Then, he contends, the tropics will come into their own. Great emigrations will take place, the United States and Great Britain will have to take back seats and the tropical regions will be the most densely populated. America will have the mere 600,000,000 she will be able to nourish. The future, declares Prof. Penck, belongs to Africa and South America, and while Europe and Asia today house four-fifths of the world's population, 300 years hence they will boast only one-fourth.

But man is a perverse animal. His development and achievements no longer depend solely upon external stimulus, and his increasing ingenuity has made unnecessary his reliance on his inherent adaptability. Studied in the light of present conditions, mankind would be in a sorry plight today with a five-fold increase in population, but within 300 years, if science continues its progress at the rate it has maintained during the last century, we need not trouble ourselves about the comfort of future generations.

EVENTS CONTRADICT GOMPERS.

Samuel Gompers' general appeal to organized labor to support the La Follette ticket is rather pale in the light of recent events. It comes at a moment when labor is rejoicing at a signal victory won in the Supreme Court, whose powers La Follette wishes to curtail, and by grace of a law which John W. Davis helped to write and which he defended in Congress 13 years ago, thus indicating a just, sympathetic attitude toward labor long before he became a presidential possibility.

The act of which we speak is the Clayton law, which is aimed at the abuse of the injunction and directs that Federal courts shall not refuse jury trials in contempt cases arising out of labor disputes. The lower courts held the law unconstitutional and ruled that men on strike ceased to be employees and forfeited their rights as such. Both of these holdings were reversed by the higher court.

In championing the Clayton bill in 1911 Representative Davis said:

The right to strike has won its way against the judicial opposition of a hundred years. I denounce as a libel upon American citizenship the assertion that the laboring men of this country are ever ready at the word to break into lawlessness or that they sympathize with those who do. And I pity the man who takes such counsel of his fears as to be unwilling to recognize and accord to them by statute and in practice the full use of every legitimate weapon of offense or defense in all trade wars and the untrammeled exercise of every human right.

In another instance events themselves contradict the words of Gompers. He says the Democratic party is controlled by the same "sinister influences" that control the Republican party. Why, then, are the banking and manufacturing interests pouring rivers of gold into the Republican hopper to put Coolidge over while the Democratic campaign fund is relatively insignificant, probably smaller than that of La Follette? If the interests wanted Davis he would be their best bet, for he alone controls a solid block of states and has a united party against a divided Republican party with a record of reaction and corruption.

"Shall the oil scandals and the little green house of K street with its occupants be forgotten?" asks Mr. Gompers. They will be forgotten by the Government if labor pulls enough votes away from Davis to elect Coolidge. Also let it not be forgotten that the hero of the oil investigation was a Democrat. Gompers' appeal for a "protest" vote for La Follette takes on an ironical hue when it is recognized that the effect of the "protest" may be to defeat the only candidate who has a chance to drive corruption and the barons of privilege out of power.

BECKER'S POLITICAL GRAFT.

The fact of precedent or custom does not make political graft any the less political graft. The Post-Dispatch has checked up the practices of Secretary of State Becker, in rewarding and subsidizing the country press, with the law. The law and its application leave no shred of defense for the Secretary. He says the law needs interpretation and that he is only following precedent. Nothing could be plainer than that the statute points specifically at the practice in which he indulges at the expense of the taxpayers.

Secretary Becker's campaign for re-election is costing him not his party but the taxpayers of the State $36,000. That is the difference between the amount which Becker passes out for official advertising of propositions to go on the election ballot and the amount which a private business would pay for the work and which the State would pay if the law were observed. The rates allowed are three times the normal rates. The law demands that the most advantageous terms possible be obtained.

There is more than one way to buy an election. If Secretary Becker passed out $36,000 of his own money for the support of small newspapers he would be regarded as an enemy of the public interest. He does worse than that. He uses thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money for his own political benefit. This is one of the grafts which Hyde, as a candidate for Governor, explicitly promised to abolish.

DRESS AND SUCCESS.

"Dress Well and Succeed" is the slogan of a campaign launched by the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers to persuade the American man to wear better clothes.

These clothiers are convinced that what the American woman has done the American man can do. Consider what the American woman has done. The chafel has become a chateaufort. It is a sartorial triumph. She has silked, plumed and furred herself into pre-eminence.

The American man is in a slovenly rut. He has got to snap out of it. The snapper the better. Many a generalissimo is today a noncom, we are reliably advised, because of his drab, depressing externals. Many a fellow is playing a subordinate role who, properly decorated, might be Rudolphing across the silver screen of events. Upholster a moron in a Byzantine coat, a cloisonne waistcoat, rocco trousers and an ejaculatory tie, and no boss, however hard-boiled, can ignore him.

Your tailor is the architect of your fortune. The ancient song is as true now as when Suetonius sang it:

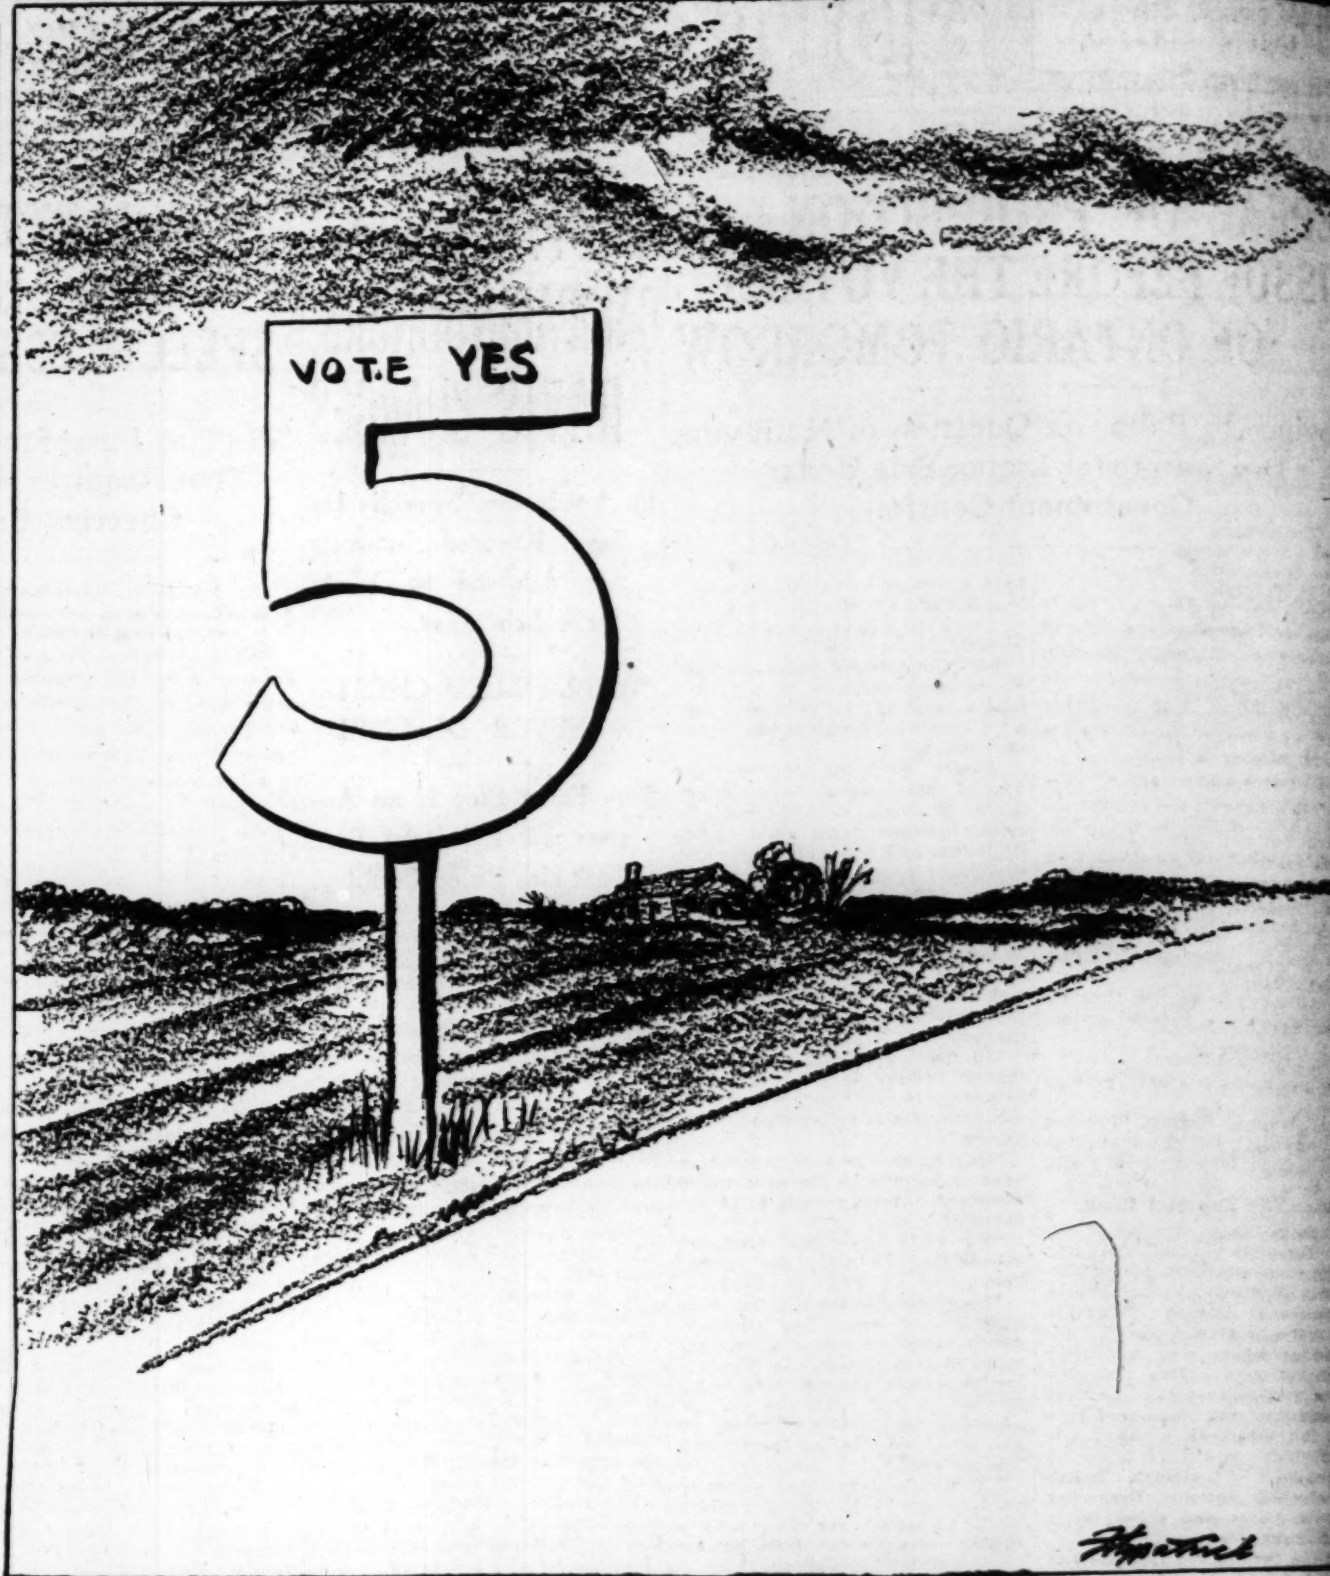

It's not the rhythm of the swing.
The timing, nor the stance.
It's socks and shoes and belt and cap
And shirt and, lastly, pants.

"Dress Well and Succeed" is an inspiring battle cry. It ought to evoke a surging response from our red-blooded hundred per centers and our hairy-chested he-men.

COOLIDGE ON CORRUPTION

Speaking of official corruption and the betrayal of the people during the Republican administration, President Coolidge, in his speech to the Associated Press in New York, on April 22, said:

"BUT THE WONDER IS NOT THAT THIS (CORRUPTION) IS SO MUCH AND SO MANY (CORRUPTIONISTS); RATHER THAT IT IS SO LITTLE AND SO FEW."

THE GOOD ROAD SIGN.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the Post-Dispatch

THE OLD FISHERMAN.

Now battered by wave and weather he was—the old fisherman.
And how soft and beautiful the Mississippi was—how wide and ranging.
Now he would look down the river mile upon mile, and far beyond the last shining bit of water still ran the hills.

Around us were fishing boats.
Live boxes.
Tar pits.
And all the odds and ends of fishing.

"There are no fish in the river now," said the old fisherman.
"You would think to look at all that water it would be full of fish."

"It used to be.
"Fine place for fish.
"Deep holes.
"Bars.
"Mud flats.
"Reed.
"Everything a fish wants."

So it did seem—that wonderful river.
If a fish did not like it one place, all it had to do was swim to another.
It could go South in the Autumn and North in the Spring.
Back and forth.

Is there any more fun than going back and forth?
Apparently not, if one may judge by ourselves or the bugs on a spring.

But here was the old fisherman saying there are no fish.
"I can remember when we used to ship from this point a carload of fish every day," he said.

"There was a fishing boat hit this dock every seven minutes.
"Everybody caught fish.
"You could make money fishing."

"Now there won't be a carload of fish caught in 30 days by all the fishermen within 25 miles of this place."
"More fishermen and fewer fish."
"More fishing and less money."

"Every day a fisherman lays his rig on the bank and starts inland looking for work. "Fishing is done for."
So that was that.

Maybe the old fisherman had become pessimistic.
Maybe fishermen, like a lot of other people, have forgotten how to do a day's fishing.

But there was the testimony of the empty fish dock.
The fishing boats rotting upon the bank. The nets in decay.
The bits of broken oars.
And rusty anchors.

Thrust pulled-out live boxes cracking and warping in the sun.
Not much left of fishing, you would say, looking upon that desolate scene.
Yet there is the river, waiting for us to do something about fishing.
Waiting for conservation.

"Do you think we will ever do anything to save fishing?" we asked of the old fisherman.
He took a puff at his pipe and corrugated his brows.

"Esa, we'll do something; but I'll never see it."
"I'll never see anything but just this," he said, looking around dimly.

Which is about what he will see, in our opinion.
Anyway, we are a provident people.
Or as the old fisherman says:
"Like hell."

Alarm upon the part of Republican leaders lest the presidential election be thrown into Congress is rendered rather hollow by the Literary Digest poll, which still shows Mr. Coolidge receiving more votes than both his opponents together. It is unlikely that the Republicans feel the least alarm about the outcome. They have the betting in New York and the judgment of almost every political correspondent to quiet any uneasiness they may have felt. They are merely raising a great clamor because while they are pointing out the possible perils ahead nobody is going to get our ears with anything about what has happened in the past. The Republican party is not in the campaign on its record. It is participating solely as the bearer and enunciator of that dreadful cry "Look out for the reds!"

This was to have been a campaign of education, but Samuel O. Dunn, editor of The Railway Age, is apparently among those who never heard or else did not agree to it. Mr. Dunn has just made a speech about public ownership of railroads in which he invites comparison of peace-time figures under private management with war-time figures under Government control. We do not know of any respects in which war and peace are comparable, but they are perhaps less so economically than in any other way. Perhaps we don't want the Government to own the railroads, as the Progressives do. It is entirely likely that the railroad owners have the better of the argument. If so, they ought to avail themselves of it and not ask us to do something that is against reason. If they want us to compare private and public management of railroads there are plenty of systems under Government ownership and control in foreign countries without digging up what happened under Federal management over here in the stress of war.

Maybe the La Follettees are introducing a new practice in American politics. The whole family is out working for the Progressive ticket, and at the close Mrs. La Follette and the boys and girls are just as happy in the consciousness of having handed predatory wealth a few lusty wallop as the Senator himself is always more or less beaming in that usefulness. The La Follettees will not get to the White House, and the people who look out from pink teas and bridge whist in some amusement at this spectacle while the heads of their own families battle alone would be scandalized if they did. Nevertheless, the La Follettees are only pointing the way to true happiness for us all—that is in having something worth doing and doing it together.

A correspondent with Mr. Davis tells this story:
At a point in the West an old timer was aroused from the past by questions as to what he thought of the general political layout this day of poles.

"Well, I don't mind Bryan running again; but I don't see how this fellow Jefferson Davis has any license to come back," he said.

While knowing nothing of the issue itself, there are still a good many people who would like to see the klaners named Burns and Collins who have so blithely affiliated Dr. Nelson into the Klan. There may be somewhere a man named Collins who is a klanman, or even a man named Burns who is thus affiliated, but most Missourians will have to be shown.

Anyway, it cannot be said that either of the opponents of Mr. Coolidge is tilting at a windmill.

THE MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to represent without bias the latest comment by leading publicists, newspaper editors and columnists on the questions of the day.

PAWNS IN A TERRIBLE GAME.

From the Detroit News.
TEN mighty bonfires on the Virginia coast will soon burn as funeral pyres for the wooden ships. When the embers of the beach have cooled, expert junk men will poke around in the ashes, estimating the value of the iron, copper and other salvageable metal. If their estimate is accurate, there will be 200 more great fires on shore. And the wooden ships, products of one of those strangely brilliant ideas winning the war, will be no more.

A salvage company has tentatively offered $25,000 for the 215 ships which are rotting on the decaying fleet. During the war the Government paid $235,000,000 for the ships.

But in the true sense, the mistakes involved in building wooden ships were mistakes of war itself, of all wars and economic affairs we will work with Europe, but in her political alliances we will not become entangled. "In foreign affairs we promised to adopt an American policy. Based on American traditions, upholding American ideas. This does not mean isolation from the rest of the world or refusal to do our part in promoting civilization. Economic isolation is an impossibility. It is our duty that we will do our part, but in our own way, at our own free will and not at the dictation of other nations. We will assist and co-operate with them, but we will not surrender our own free independence. In moral and economic affairs we will work with Europe, but in her political alliances we will not become entangled."

The errors and offenses of these last years, multiplied a thousandfold by the mightiness of war, must be paid for by blood and treasure of other men, pawns in a terrible game. The wooden ships will soon burn on the Virginia shore incidents in a cataclysm. No man is to blame. But all men are to blame for permitting such a useless and costly waste as war to exist.

THE GERMAN LOAN.

From the New Republic.
A YEAR ago no one would have imagined that American investors would be scrambling for a share in any kind of German loan. It seemed then that Germany could endow any promise of the Government with international value.

reparations charge, with its capacity to absorb every mark of revenue Germany could raise, lay with crushing weight upon the Government's credit. This change has been effected sufficiently to permit the Government to issue bonds for the redemption of the German nation to be good for all time. This is a purely artificial means of covering the loan a priority over reparations. Any additional credit requirements of the German Government are in the same category as before. Nor can it be said that the private credit of Germany has been materially improved by the arrangement for a loan from Germany more than she can pay, so long as this condition obtains. Germany always is danger of internal dissension.

It is, of course, possible that after the Dawes plan has been put into operation the Allied Governments will see a realization of the necessity of a lightening of the reparations burden. Germany today has the prospect of a substantial payment by Germany after the proceeds of the current loan have been exhausted.

DWIGHT DAVIS SPEAKS HERE FOR COOLIDGE

Assistant Secretary of War Assails Democratic Nominees and La Follette.

John W. Davis was termed "the lost leader of a lost cause, waging a mud-slinging campaign," and Charles W. Bryan was mentioned as one "from whom may Heaven preserve us." In the speech of Dwight F. Davis, Assistant Secretary of War, at Swiss Hall, Iowa avenue and Arsenal street, last night, the meeting was under the auspices of the Tenth Ward Republican organization. The speaker is a St. Louisan.

Speaking of the Democratic nominees and of Senator La Follette, Assistant Secretary Davis said:

"Mr. Davis, of legal and diplomatic training, but no executive experience, has disappointed his admirers by waging a mud-slinging campaign. He has searched in vain for an issue. He is the lost leader of a lost cause. La Follette, of long legislative but not executive training, has resorted to wild statements, vituperation and the advocacy of certain theories which would be destructive of our American institutions. The American people do not want a mud-slinging President. Neither of them can be elected by the vote of the people. The best they can hope for is to throw the election into the House, which means that the President will be elected not by a vote of the people, but by a political deal in Congress. It probably means the election of Bryan, from which heaven preserve us. A vote for Davis or La Follette may well mean a vote for Bryan."

The speaker characterized President Coolidge as "that big, simple, quiet man of the people, whose character, ability and strength are a guarantee of success." Of his record as President, he said, "Economic and tax reduction were given the right of way, with the result that the financial record of this administration has never been equaled in the history of this country."

"Our taxes," he continued, "have been twice reduced by a total of over one and a quarter billion dollars, our public debt has been cut down about $3,000,000,000, saving some $120,000,000 a year in interest alone, and our annual appropriations are $2,000,000,000 less than they were three years ago."

"In foreign affairs we promised to adopt an American policy. Based on American traditions, upholding American ideas. This does not mean isolation from the rest of the world or refusal to do our part in promoting civilization. Economic isolation is an impossibility. It is our duty that we will do our part, but in our own way, at our own free will and not at the dictation of other nations. We will assist and co-operate with them, but we will not surrender our own free independence. In moral and economic affairs we will work with Europe, but in her political alliances we will not become entangled."

DWIGHT DAVIS SPEAKS HERE FOR COOLIDGE

Assistant Secretary of War Assails Democratic Nominees and La Follette.

John W. Davis was termed "the best leader of a lost cause, waging a mud-slinging campaign," and Charles W. Bryan was mentioned as one "from whom may Heaven preserve us," in the speech of Dwight D. Davis, Assistant Secretary of War, at Swiss Hall, Iowa avenue and Arsenal street, last night. The meeting was under the auspices of the Tenth Ward Republican organization. The speaker is a St. Louisan.

Speaking of the Democratic nominees and of Senator La Follette, Assistant Secretary Davis said:

"Mr. Davis, of legal and diplomatic training, but no executive experience, has disappointed his admirers by waging a mud-slinging campaign. He has searched in vain for an issue. He is the lost leader of a lost cause. La Follette, of long legislative but not executive training, has resorted to wild statements, vituperation and the advocacy of certain theories which would be destructive of our American institutions. The American people do not want a mud-slinging President. Neither of them can be elected by the vote of the people. The best they can hope for is to throw the election into the House, which means that the President will be elected, not by a vote of the people, but by a political deal in Congress. It probably means the election of Bryan, from which Heaven preserve us. A vote for Davis or La Follette, may well mean a vote for Bryan."

The speaker characterized President Coolidge as "that big, simple, quiet man of the people, whose character, ability and strength are a guarantee of success." Of his record as President, he said, "Economy and tax reduction were given the right of way, with the result that the financial record of this administration has never been equaled in the history of this country."

"Our taxes," he continued, "have been twice reduced by a total of over one and a quarter billion dollars, our public debt has been cut down about $3,000,000,000, saving us some $120,000,000 a year in interest alone, and our annual appropriations are $2,000,000,000 less than they were three years ago."

"In foreign affairs we promised to defend an American policy, based on American traditions, upholding American ideals. This has not meant isolation from the rest of the world or refusal to do our part in promoting civilization. Economic isolation is an impossibility. We mean that we will do our part, but in our own way, at our own free will and not at the dictation of other nations. MANISH MONARCHS WELCOME
PRINCE AND AMERICAN BRIDE
The Royal Family at Copenhagen Station to Receive Viggo and Princess.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—Prince Viggo and his American bride arrived in Copenhagen today, where they were enthusiastically received at the station by the King and Queen and the entire royal family. Among those present at the station were two admirals and a number of officers from the Prince's regiment, who presented the Princess with a bouquet of flowers.

When the couple left the train they were first greeted by Prince Valdemar, who kissed the bride and introduced her to the King and Queen and to the other members of the royal family. The Queen welcomed the Princess heartily, giving her a smiling welcome and a kiss. The King shook hands with the new arrivals.

After the reception the Prince and Princess drove to Bernstorff Palace, some miles out of Copenhagen, where they will live with Prince Valdemar. Tonight a family dinner will be given at the palace, at which the royal family will be present.

Prince Viggo will join the army.

A BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Antoinette Miller.

MRS. MARSHALL HODGMAN of 5379 Waterman avenue and her daughter, Miss Eunice Hodgman, have departed for Virginia, where they will visit Mrs. Hodgman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold Randolph, and the Randolph estate near Charlottesville, for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Hodgman's daughter, Mrs. William M. B. Freeman, whose marriage to Mr. George Arnold Randolph was an event of the past fortnight, are in the East on their wedding trip. They will go to Hot Springs, Va., and Washington, and later will visit Mr. and Mrs. Randolph before taking possession of their new home in Boston.

Miss Katherine Dobner of St. Paul will arrive Friday to be the guest of Miss Dorothy Wray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wray of 310 Skinker road. Miss Wray will give a dinner party for her that evening, and the visitor will attend a number of functions in honor of Miss Marion Lane and the latter's fiancé, Myles Hagall, whose wedding will take place Nov. 12. Saturday Miss Virginia Price of North Kingshighway will give a luncheon for the bride-elect, and Sunday night Miss Wray will entertain the bridal party at a buffet supper. Tuesday Miss Eleanor Atkins will be hostess at a bridge luncheon for Miss Lane, and the following Friday Miss Eleanor Klein will give a similar affair.

Mrs. George R. Wendling of 4509 Pershing avenue has departed for Louisville to spend three weeks with her mother, Mrs. John A. Haldeman. Mr. Wendling will join her late this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Barstow of 5401 Cabanne avenue returned Monday from Chicago, where they visited Mrs. Barstow's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Behr. They attended a stephens at the Onwens Club in Lake Forest, which was won by Mr. Behr.

Miss Florence Elizabeth Foley, daughter of Mrs. William Foley of 4332 McPherson avenue, is entertaining Miss Margaret Bury of St. Paul, a former classmate. The visitor arrived yesterday for a two weeks' visit, and will be entertained informally. Miss Foley, while not making a formal debut this season, is being identified with the younger social set.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bernard Behr of 414 Union boulevard have returned from their summer trip. They spent the late summer at Point-aux-Barques, Mich., and the early fall in New York.

The debutantes were feted at a luncheon given today by Mrs. Samuel Boyd Ball of 4559 McPherson avenue, in honor of Miss Jane Whiteside, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Whiteside. Mrs. Whiteside, Mrs. W. N. Bemis and Mrs. John T. Dyer, each the mother of a debutante, completed the guest list.

PRINCE GOING HOME AFTER ONE MORE HUNTING PARTY IN U. S.

Wales to Ride Saucy Desert Queen at Hamilton, Mass., and Dance a Big Tumbrow.

HAMILTON, Mass., Oct. 22.—The Prince of Wales will ride a saucy little chestnut mare, Desert Queen, from the stables of his hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman Jr., when he goes out with the Myopia Hunt Club pack on a drag hunt here tomorrow afternoon. It will be a renewal of an old acquaintance, because the Prince was Desert Queen on the hunting fields of England when Mr. and Mrs. Tuckerman went across for a season and Cottesmore a year ago. The acquaintance began at the time of the invitation which is bringing the Prince here for his last visit in this country before returning home.

The Prince of Wales' visit, postponed until tomorrow because of a slight chill developed at Montreal, will be a short one. Arriving tomorrow forenoon, he will leave about midnight for New York to take the steamer Olympic for home. In consequence Mr. and Mrs. Tuckerman had to change their plans. There will be a drag hunt and dancing in the Prince's day as originally planned but a two-day program has been contracted into one.

PUBLIC LEADERS LACK COURAGE, SAYS DR. BUTLER

Declares This Is One of Greatest Evils of the Day—Importance of Public Opinion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—"We are entitled to know the real opinions of people in public life and not their carefully prepared and qualified statements," President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University said yesterday in his annual address to the Columbia School of Journalism, founded by Joseph Pulitzer.

"One of the greatest evils of today is the abuse of courage on the part of the men who are our acknowledged leaders," he said. "There are a number of persons who are afraid to tell you what they really think for fear you will differ from them, and man after man in public life looks over his shoulder before he says anything, in order to see what the papers are going to say about him."

President Butler's topic was "Public Opinion." He stressed the fact that his hearers would play a great part in forming it in future years and then urged them to remember the importance of developing it along proper lines.

"You will be a great trust," he said, "and you should guard it jealously. It is your duty to bear in mind always that at no time is the success of any great public purpose possible unless public opinion is properly behind it."

"Few people know how public opinion is formed, how it acts on the affairs of life or the manner in which it is controlled. Few realize the tremendous influence that it exerts."

President Butler deplored the lack of interest taken in politics by Americans, asserting that "not half of use have voted in the last election."

EMPEROR DOWAGER DISPUTES CYRIL'S CLAIM TO THRONE

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The recent manifesto issued at Berlin by Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, declaring himself Emperor of all the Russians, is disputed by former Dowager Empress of Russia, Maria Feodorovna, in a letter to Grand Duke Nicholasievich, who now is living in France.

Cyril's action was premature since he still hopes that the Russian royal family is not dead. She addresses Nicholas as "the eldest member of the House of Romanoff" and says "your future Emperor will be designated by our fundamental laws in union with the Orthodox Church and the Russian people."

Grand Duke Nicholasievich, in publishing the letter, disapproves Cyril's attitude and appeals to all Russian people to carry on in the holy task of liberation of Russia.

BUTLER SEES MUCH WORK BEFORE VICTORY FOR G. O. P.

Accuses Other Candidates of "Double Shift," Including Abandonment of Coast Trip.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Democratic and Independent nominees, "after abandoning the East" as a battle ground, are now executing a double shift, and both candidates are abandoning the West. William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, declared in a statement issued here last night.

Declaring that the "great region known as Middle America" for Coolidge and maintaining Coolidge will be elected on the election thrown into Congress, Butler said that the latter contingency is not probable, "but we do know the work still to be done to insure victory. The vote must be gotten out."

"But it is interesting," the statement continued, "that the Democratic and Socialist third party nominees, having spent nearly two weeks in the Mississippi Valley, are going back once more to the territory in the East they had already abandoned. The Democratic nominee did not make his trip to the Pacific Coast, as he had been proposed early in the campaign. The Socialist third party nominee, after a few speeches, cancels his trip to the Pacific Coast and he, too, retraces his steps."

COOLIDGE SENDS MESSAGE TO CHURCH

Praises Lutheran Contribution to American Life and Services During World War.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—President Coolidge, in a greeting read here today praised the contribution of Lutherans to the development of the original American colonies in the struggle for American independence. He congratulated the United Lutheran Church in America, which is in its biennial convention, and its related bodies because "they are nurturing" among newcomers from Europe the American ideals of the early Lutheran colonists.

His letter, which was read at the convention, follows:
"I extend my greetings to the fourth biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America."

"Made up in such large degree of the descendants of that sturdy Lutheran stock which played such an important part in the development of the colonies and in the success of the Revolutionary War, the United Lutheran Church has a proud heritage."

"As I study the three great movements of humanity into the American continent, the Puritans into New England, the Lutherans and Quakers into Pennsylvania, and the Cavaliers into Virginia, and examine the history of their amalgamation in blood and unity in spirit, I realize that this amalgamation and union form one of the foundations of America's greatness."

"Muhlenberg and his men from Pennsylvania and the Lutheran soldiers from Western Maryland, the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, western North Carolina and South Carolina made glorious history for the patriotic cause in the Revolutionary War. Their descendants, spreading out over the Mississippi Valley, had a leading role in the development of that great granary of the world."

"During the Civil War such organizations as the Iron Brigade were on every battlefield, upholding the unity of the states."

"It is little wonder that with such traditions to inspire their sons and grandsons, 6 per cent of the Lutherans in America were in the service of their country during the World War, as compared with 4 per cent for the general population."

"The sons of Scandinavia who have come to America in more recent times have shown the same sturdy spirit and represent a contribution of vast value to the human assets of our country's future."

"I am happy to recognize that the United Lutheran Church and its related bodies, all partaking of the Americanism implanted in their ancestry and traditions, are nurturing the same in the hearts of those of their faith who now leave Europe and cast their fortunes with our people."

MARTIAL LAW AT CANTON ENDS; CITY GATES WRECKED

Loosely Held at Auction—Sikh Troops Arrive to Protect Foreigners.

By the Associated Press.
CANTON, Oct. 22.—Martial law here has been lifted and soldiers ordered to the outskirts of the city. The city gates have been demolished.

Further fighting is feared owing to dissension over control of the city. Thousands are leaving daily. Auction sales of loot are being held. Soldiers are whispering rumors of low prices for valuable articles. British Sikh troops have arrived from Hong Kong to protect foreign concessions and citizens.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Oct. 22.—Hsu Shu-Tung, known as "Little Hsu," who attempted to revive the defeated Chekiang army at Shanghai to renew the fighting against the Kiangsu central government forces, arrived today at Nagasaki on his way to Tokyo.

"Little Hsu," who has been a spectacular opponent of the Peking Government of China for a number of years, was reported in Shanghai dispatches yesterday as having escaped from the international settlement there aboard a vessel bound for Vancouver, B. C., with England as his destination.

ROBBER HOLDS UP DRUG STORE
"Who owns this joint?" demanded an armed robber, who entered the drug store of Gilbert Alderson at 2118 Decatur street at 9:40 o'clock last night and ordered Alderson, Mrs. Alderson and two men customers behind the prescription counter to hold up their hands.

Alderson announced he was the proprietor. He was then compelled to open the safe. The robber escaped with $150 from the safe and $50 from the register.

WHY LA FOLLETTE IS MAKING FINAL

Impossible without a new party division. They do not believe a third party would meet the need. La Follette does not believe in third parties. He thinks the two-party system is the only practicable one in a republic.

Hence the dominating and actual thought underlying the entire La Follette campaign from now until Nov. 4 will be this: "Win it our way, but if we can't let Coolidge win, and then we are sure to win in 1938."

Davis Says Republicans Reward Campaign Donors

ment—he owes it to them to leave on the page of history a vote of condemnation that cannot be misunderstood."

Again His Mellon.
Davis again lashed mercilessly at Secretary Mellon and the American Aluminum Co., which he declared was levying tribute on every kitchen in the United States.

He said that when he first met Mellon, some weeks ago, "a gentleman high in the Government service rose and putting on the cap as if it fitted him said 'that is my aluminum and I take responsibility for those facts.'"

Davis called upon the President to state whether or not he favored the continuation of the high rates on aluminum were in the Fordney-McCumber act.

"And I should like to ask," he added, "whether the present nominee of the Republican party favors the continuation of the existing duties on sugar, the highest for 34 years, for the reduction of which a report has lain on his desk since the 21st day of July without action."

"We were told that the power to reduce those duties would be judicially and not politically exercised. We learn now from the chairman of the Tariff Commission that the President wants more information that he cannot get until after the election."

"As a lawyer, I think if I knew a Judge who could make no better progress than that, I would find some sort of a motion to stir him into activity."

"And I suggest to you that the 4th day of November, 1934, would be a very appropriate motion day."

Davis referred to the "Elysian fields of normalcy" that were promised in 1921. He reminded the audience that among the promises was one that the "best minds" of the country would get together and frame an association of nations.

"What Step on Peace Road?"
"And 31 gentlemen, among whom was the present Secretary of State," he said, "underwrote that promise with the personal signature and the seal of the United States."

He then made an indignant effort has been made for its payment? What step has been taken to set the American people forward on the road to peace and restore to them again the moral leadership of mankind that they enjoyed in 1919?"

"Ah, in the language of the prophet of old, we have had 'in Washington a voice of trembling and of fear, and not of peace.'"

Davis spoke derisively of the speech recently made in Louisville by Charles G. Dawes. He quoted Dawes as having said that the only issue of the campaign was the issue in keeping Senator La Follette out of the White House.

"The cool Republicans on the one side and the hot Republicans on the other," he said, "are a little lacking in what Secretary Hughes professes to possess—a sense of humor. I should like to poll this audience and find how many seriously believe that Senator La Follette will be elected."

There was loud applause, many of the audience rising, when Davis declared that he was against any proposal that would endanger "the holy and sacred right of religious faith and practice."

The program of the Democratic party was described as founded upon a "sane and progressive liberalism that is willing to listen to the complaints of men and within the limits of human wisdom and governmental power to give them the relief of which they are entitled before their revenge and their resentment breaks all proper bounds."

"We ask the people of America," he concluded, "to turn back to the ancient landmarks of governmental policy, to be guided once more by the simple rules of moral right and wrong, to advance with hope in a liberal and progressive fashion, and above all to recall that it is righteousness and righteousness alone that can exalt ours or any other nation."

Perfect autumn weather and friendly crowds at every stop smiled on Davis yesterday in Kentucky. Enroute to Louisville, the candidate spoke from the rear platform of his train to large audiences at Franklin, Bowling Green and Elizabethtown. The Bowling Green crowd numbered about 5000, was the largest that has greeted him at any railroad station on the present trip.

In his speeches Davis expressed gratification at yesterday's decision of the United States Supreme Court upholding the right of trial by jury in certain contempt cases. This is the right granted by the Clayton act, which Davis, while in Congress, helped to draft.

Green mentioned the decision in the course of a statement of the Democratic party's services to labor. He asked again whether any Labor party could have done more for labor than the Democracy did in the Wilson administration.

At Bowling Green he addressed a special appeal to women to perform their duty at the polls.

"It is in the ballot of this country, and the ballots alone," he said, "that its destiny resides, and we are false by abstention, by carelessness, or by worse, if we are false to that great duty, we cannot wonder if the ship of state wallows helpless in the sea, and we cannot criticize the shortcomings of those who take public office; we cannot complain in the years to come if disaster comes to visit us."

"I beg you to perform, each and all of you, this great and solemn service to your country."

Cause of Farm Bloc.
Davis said the farm bloc in Congress was nothing more than the farmers' answer to the industrial bloc by which the country had been ruled for years. He put the farmers' plight in a nutshell.

"The great trouble with agriculture in this country is that for years the farmers have been compelled against their will to pay tribute to others of their fellow citizens; they have been compelled to sell their products in a market open to the entire civilized world and to buy in a market which was closed against them by unfavorable and unjust laws. They have been compelled to pay monopoly prices on the one hand and to accept prices made in foreign markets on the other."

Davis reiterated his St. Louis pledge that the Democrats, if given power, would effect a fair revision of the taxation and tariff laws. They would not be guided, he said, by the Republican formula of "taking care of the producers and letting the consumers take care of themselves."

Davis made a vigorous plea for the election of Senator Stanley, who is running for another term against active Republican opposition.

WOMAN SHOOTS SELF TO DEATH ON STREET

Mrs. Myrtle Schaze, Divorced,
Had Been Brooding Over Domestic Troubles.

Mrs. Myrtle Schaze, 31 years old, of 4717A LeDuc street, a divorcee, ended her life about 5:45 p. m. yesterday by shooting herself in the head on the sidewalk in front of 3711 Palm street.

Her body was found a few minutes later by two boys who stumbled upon it in the darkness and summoned neighbors. A physician pronounced the woman dead and the police took the body to the city hospital and later to the morgue to await identification.

Persons living in the vicinity said they had heard a shot at 5:45 but had believed it to be the backfiring of an automobile.

Relatives who identified the body at the morgue about 7:30 p. m. attributed Mrs. Schaze's action to melancholia, to which she had been subject, and brooding over domestic troubles. She was separated from her husband, Charles Schaze, eight years ago, they said, and since then had lived with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Hudson at the LeDuc street address.

She was divorced about three years ago. On Sept. 23 she attempted suicide by shooting herself while visiting friends in DuPont.

She was treated at the Lutheran Hospital here and released about two weeks ago. Since that time relatives had feared she might end her life, and were searching for her at the time she fired the fatal shot.

The body already had been taken to the morgue and the police were trying to identify it when Mrs. Hudson, the mother, entered the Deer Street station, about 7 p. m., and asked the police to help her look for Mrs. Schaze.

Her daughter had visited a sister, Mrs. Anna Freinheagen, 5412 Claxton avenue, during the afternoon, Mrs. Hudson said, and after her departure Mrs. Freinheagen had discovered that a .35-caliber revolver was missing from a dresser drawer.

Informing that a woman had been found shot to death an hour earlier, Mrs. Hudson summoned another daughter, Mrs. Mary Fellers, who visited the morgue and identified the body as that of Mrs. Schaze.

A third sister, Mrs. S. L. Langdale, of 1408 McCausland avenue, today expressed a belief that Mrs. Schaze was the temporarily deranged woman who had attempted to commit suicide, she said, Mrs. Schaze had discussed her own action and declared she could not explain it. She was said to have been in a fearful frame of mind yesterday when she visited Mrs. Freinheagen.

Mrs. Schaze was the mother of two children, Marvel, an 8-year-old son, lives with Mrs. Hudson, June, 3, resides with relatives of her father.

MATTHEWS LAND CO. SUIT TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT
Action Seeks Appointment of Receiver for Southwest Missouri Corporation.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
CAPE GIRARD, Mo., Oct. 22.—Federal Judge Faries yesterday took under advisement the suit to put the A. J. Matthews Land Corporation, which controls 30,000 acres of southeast Missouri land, in receivership.

The suit, instituted by a minority creditor, charges that the $3,000,000 corporation and St. Louis creditors, mainly leading banks, were conspiring to defraud smaller interests involved. Casper N. Edwards, attorney of Malden, and State Representative from Dunklin County, was linked with others in testimony when it was charged by the petitioning creditor—W. L. Holt of Vincennes, Ind.—that Edwards was retained by the corporation as attorney while the directors were getting a bill through the Legislature to amend the mortgage law to allow disposition of funds in a manner not then provided by statute.

The amendment was passed at the last session of the Legislature. W. C. Connelly, a vice president of the Liberty Central Trust Co. of St. Louis, one of the largest creditors of the corporation, and head of its board of directors, testified today that no "attempt" is being made to defraud any creditor, and that all will share alike in the final disposition of the suit. "The suit asks for, in addition to the appointment of a receiver, an accounting of the actions of the corporation directors."

Morosoff Says Saint Basil Was True Christ, and Was Tied to Tree for Punishment.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Oct. 22.—St. Basil the Great was the real Christ, according to Prof. Nicholas Morosoff, Russian scientist and philosopher, who has just completed a sensational work entitled "Christ," which is to appear in seven volumes.

Prof. Morosoff was imprisoned by the Czar for 10 years because of his alleged connection with the secret organization which assassinated Alexander II. He says it is not true that St. Basil, or Christ, was crucified. He asserts that he was only punished by being tied to a tree, and he fixes the date of this event as March 21, in the year 368 of the present era.

SUPREME COURT ASKED TO FREE TESSMER ON BOND

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain the release on bond of Ben Tessmer, awaiting trial in St. Louis on a charge of first-degree murder, was filed in Supreme Court today by Thomas J. Rowe Jr., attorney for Tessmer. The application was taken under advisement.

Rowe stated that Circuit Judge Ittner had refused to grant bond for Tessmer when application was made recently unless Circuit Attorney Sidener would make a written recommendation to the judge for bond. Sidener declined to do this, Rowe said.

Tessmer was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder, in connection with the killing of Nathan Rabbitt, proprietor of a soft-drink saloon, who was shot and fatally wounded on Feb. 25 last, at Twenty-second street and Cass avenue. The writ of habeas corpus

Liberals Suspect That in

(Copyright, 1936.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Loys are offering three to two that there will be a Tory majority in the next House of Commons, to be elected Oct. 29. The odds are three to one that the Tories will have more seats than Labor and one big bookmaker advertises 300 to 1 against a Labor majority over all other parties.

The swing of odds in favor of the Tories mirrors the growing Tory confidence which is causing the Libs and the Tory rank and file to repudiate talk of a coalition with the Tories headed by Lord Birkenhead, Winston Churchill, Austen Chamberlain, Sir Robert Horne and possibly Lloyd George. Not so long ago they welcomed such talk, but now they discuss installing the Tory Cabinet as they had last time, headed by Stanley Baldwin.

Even, however, points out that the banks and stock brokers were strong last December in giving odds against Labor and they claim a Labor gain of from 30 to 60 seats.

As the campaign progresses the personal attacks by speakers have intensified and more and more disorder is noticeable. In Liverpool, British Fascist attacked Labor speakers during a Labor rally and in the fierce noise which followed six men were injured. Labor sympathizers have also broken up several meetings of Tories and Liberals in Glasgow and West Scotland, the extremist Labor stronghold.

Liberals Not Enthusiastic About Alliance With Conservatives.
The Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 22.—Traditional Tory and their dread of another coalition seem to be intensified by the opposition to the "pact" between the Liberals and Conservatives on the part of the more extreme members of the parties. Distrust and suspicion find loud voice among the Liberals, notwithstanding that Mr. Asquith, their leader, has given his blessing to the reciprocal arrangement.

Many Liberal or Conservative candidates in some constituencies are standing aside so as to avert three-cornered contests which might work for the benefit of the Tories.

Mr. Asquith declares: "I can see nothing which dilates the most religious code of public honor and political consistency in the two old political parties making reciprocal pledges in the face of a common danger," but many members of the party find their leaders' dictum extremely distasteful and are not hesitating to show their dissent.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—The Montreal Star is informed in London that Osman Digna has just been released after 22 years of solitary confinement in a cell at Wady Hal-fa and is now on a pilgrimage to Mecca, though nearly 100 years old.For nearly a quarter of a century he has been kept in a cell by himself, guarded day and night by Egyptian soldiers and given occasional exercise in a compound surrounded by high mud walls.
The Star's informant added that the prisoner had been forgotten by the Foreign Office until the question was raised at the last session of Parliament. His release was the result of efforts on his behalf in England.

"Fuzzy Wuzzy" Himself.

When Rudyard Kipling was writing his "Barrack Room Ballads," Fuzzy Wuzzy was one of Great Britain's most troublesome problems and Fuzzy's leader, Osman Digna, Emir and principal Lieutenant of the Mahdi, was one of the main reasons why the Sudan had become a death trap for thousands of British soldiers and a challenge to British military government prestige.But now, when it is announced that the old warrior had been set free, it is necessary to inform the present generation who Osman Digna is.A little over 40 years ago Osman Digna's name was known everywhere and carried with it the thrill of savage scrimmages and the setting of the white-hot Sudan. But even then little was known about the man himself and many and diverse were the origins assigned to him. The most generally credited tale was that his ancestors were Turks from Constantinople who had settled in Suakin on the Red Sea and had intermarried with the Hadendowa.Another report of his parentage had him the son of a Scotch engineer and a Hadendowa woman, and still another credited him with being born in France. The Century Encyclopedia of names says his real name was George Nisbee and that he was born at Rouen, France, in 1838.He was a dealer in European goods and ostrich feathers—otensibly. The real source of his wealth was the slaves he supplied surreptitiously to Turks and Arabs on the other side of the Red Sea. He got into trouble with the authorities over the "black ivory" branch of his business, and in 1871 his brother, Ali Digna, was caught by a British gunboat with 96 slaves in his possession, the seizure meaning a loss of about £1000 to the Digna family.Osman apparently determined that a Government with such ideas on the subject of his stock in trade was no Government for him, and when in 1882 Mohammed Ahmed, heating to say so. Some of them hint that he takes a roseate view because the Conservatives not said in that message about the noted prisoner's release.The "Mahdi," proclaimed a holy war, Osman and his two nephews, Ahmet and Figma Digna, began to rouse the tribesmen along the coast in the name of the Mahdi, who shortly made him Emir of the Eastern Sudan.They broke a British square.

Then began the fighting that made Fuzzy Wuzzy famous. The Hadendowa, mostly camel drivers, were among the fiercest and hardest of the rebel tribes. They wore their woolly hair standing straight up on the crown of the head, whence the British Tommy's nickname for them. They cared nothing to death in the service of the Mahdi, and armed only with their spears, they rushed straight into the face of annihilating fire and hurled themselves on the bayonets of the British soldiers.This fanatical bravery, at the battle of Tamai, March 13, 1884,
"broke the British square." The exploit caught the British imagination and put Fuzzy Wuzzy into literature.Osman Digna was a formidable foe for many years. He was often officially reported dead, only to bob up again in some inconvenientplace, from which he must be dislodged with difficulty and losses.
Once Kitchener almost captured him, being himself wounded in the fight.Osman's tribe, the Hadendowa, has long since been reconciled with the Government and resumed its old trade of caravan leading.
It was the treachery of his former followers that led to Osman Digna's capture at last in January, 1900.He was in hiding in the hills near Suakin, waiting for an opportunity to escape across the Red Sea to Arabia, when some Sheikhs guided the officers to him. He was sent to Roetta, in Egypt, to join the other Dervish prisoners, and remained there to the end of 1902. He was then transported to the Damietta prison, and subsequently to Wady Haifa, where he has since been imprisoned.WHY

Dwight Queen Louise Weaker.
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—The general condition and strength of Dwight Queen Louise of Denmark, who has been ill for some time, are less satisfactory, it is officially stated today. Her respiration is weaker.

Chafed, irritated skin quickly relieved

BATHE freely with Resinol Soap and warm water to thoroughly cleanse the skin. Dry by patting lightly—then apply Resinol Ointment gently with the finger tips. This treatment was prescribed nearly thirty years ago by a physician and has been used by physicians ever since to clear away eczema, rashes, blotches, chafing and other forms of skin trouble. There is nothing better to promptly relieve itching and burning.

Resinol Soap is unsurpassed for the complexion, bath and hair. An ideal soap for babies.

BULGARIA IN FINANCIAL STRESS
SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 22.—Bulgaria's financial distress as presented officially to the Ministers of three great Powers, was admitted by Foreign Minister Kailfof today. On the initiative of the Bulgarian Economic Society, a movement has been started for modification of the financial features of the Treaty of Neuilly.

The danger of the economic collapse of Bulgaria is pointed out by M. Popoff, president of the society and chief statistician for the Ministry of Finance. The amount thus far paid in cash and kind is 23,000,000,000 leva. But a beginning only has been made. The Bulgarian Commissioner of Reparations showed official figures confirming Popoff's estimates.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 "ONLY WAY" TO COMPLETE ROADS

State Highway Commission Issues Statement Declaring Work Will Cease Unless Measure Is Carried.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—An appeal for adoption of Initiative Proposition No. 5 in the Nov. 4 election, to enable completion of the 7640-mile State highway system—a goal declared impossible of attainment—was made in a statement issued here today over the signatures of the four members of the State Highway Commission.

The Commissioners asserted it would be impossible to complete the system with the present bond issue money and Federal aid money that will be available, and that Proposition No. 5 was the only solution. The statement was issued as the Commission's final survey of the road situation.

Members of the Commission are Chairman Theodore Gary of Kansas City and C. D. Matthews of Sikeston, Republicans; S. S. Connett of Fayette and Murray Carleton of St. Louis, Democrats.

"Frequent inquiries have been made as to what will happen if Proposition No. 5 fails," the commission stated, "and the best answer is that nobody can tell. All funds available until 1925 have been put under contracts. Present revenues will provide for retirement of the bonds already issued, but no new contracts can be let in 1925 unless additional revenue is provided."

Without this additional revenue "construction work virtually will be stopped early in 1925," it was stated.

Only Plan to Complete System.

"Proposition No. 5 is the first and only plan for completing the system," the commission statement continued. "It looks after immediate and future needs. Experts of every kind and leaders in the road movement have co-operated in its formulation. Every angle, financial and legal, was regarded. Every alternative was carefully weighed and rejected for sufficient reasons. In our opinion it is a sound, honest, equitable, adequate measure for finishing and maintaining the State highway system as laid out by law, without extra bonds or a direct property tax."

Adoption of Proposition No. 5 would not permanently impose a proposed 2-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax and 50 per cent increase in State motor vehicle license fees, as a law adopted by the initiative is subject to amendment by the Legislature in the same manner as any other law. It was further pointed out that persons not owning automobiles are not affected, except to benefit from the good roads, as the entire cost of building and maintaining the roads is borne by automobilists.

It was recalled that the original system for which the $60,000,000 road bond issue was passed, comprised approximately 3500 miles of roads. However, the Legislature later passed a road law in 1921 that more than doubled the mileage, but provided no additional funds for the added mileage.

The Legislature not only doubled the mileage, but wrote into the law a provision that work must proceed simultaneously in all of the 114 counties. Under the law no contract can be let for completion of a route primary or secondary, unless funds are in sight for completion of every other route in the system.

"Patchwork" Construction. Resulting "patchwork" construction all over the State has caused complaints from some of the rural sections of Missouri that no roads have been completed, but that very "patchwork" resulted from the unwillingness of legislators from those sections to agree to legislation permitting continuous construction on roads until completed, for fear their counties might not get their roads at the same time as other counties.

On Oct. 1, last, a total of 1390 miles of State road had been graded, bridged and hard-surfaced, and 1690 miles more had been graded and bridged ready for hard-surfacing. In addition $82 miles were under contract for hard-surfacing and $86 miles under contract for grading and bridging. The completed work represents an expenditure of $40,000,000, of which $15,000,000 was derived from bond issue proceeds and the remainder from Federal aid, county bond issue proceeds spent on State roads, State aid under the McCullough-Morgan law and Federal aid under that law. Contracts let up to Oct. 1 totaled $55,000,000.

The system, as outlined, includes 12 cross-state hard-surfaced roads east and west, and 11 such roads north and south. Would Disorganize Work. Should Proposition No. 5 fail, the Commission stated, the construction forces built by the Highway Department would be disorganized, contractors attracted to the State would withdraw to other fields, and the momentum of large scale operations would be lost, resulting in increased costs in building when work is resumed.

"Nor can the Commission conjecture where the General Assembly would find the additional revenue essential either for speeding up or completion of the program." Three-fourths of the states impose a tax on users of roads, through a gasoline tax. The average State license fee on motor vehicles is 30 cents a year higher than Proposition No. 5 would impose in Missouri. There is a solemn pledge not to levy a direct property tax. Voting additional bonds would mean devising some immediate increase of revenue for new interest and new sinking fund, and a long interruption of road construction.

Economy has been practiced in work thus far and the percentage of overhead expense has been low, the Commissioners said. No surplus employees have been carried on the payroll. It was said, and many men had been employed at salaries less than they would receive in private business, due to their desire to establish professional reputations.

Political Move Deplorable.

"We deeply deplore that any persons should attempt to turn what is strictly a business matter into a subject of partisan discussion or division," the commission added. It was asserted that politics had not entered into the employment or discharge of any employee of the department, or in the letting of a contract. It was recalled that the commission last summer ordered its employees not to participate in political activities in connection with the primary campaign.

"The users of the State highway system cannot get dividends on their investment until the roads can be used," the statement concluded. A "yes" vote on Proposition No. 5 means speeding up, finishing and maintaining the entire State road system, as laid out by law. A negative vote means indifference and a substitution of doubt and delay with the possibility of general chaos for a long time."

Not all cream cheese is "Philadelphia"

Look for the name "Philadelphia" on the wrapper—even your grocer is sometimes mistaken

The only "Philadelphia" Cream Cheese is made by Phenix

MANY people have got into the way of calling any cream cheese "Philadelphia." But as a matter of fact, "Philadelphia" is the exclusive name of a special brand of cream cheese.

It was first made 40 years ago by an expert cheesemaker who wanted to make a richer, better cheese than any that had been made before.

To a special rich milk he added heavy cream and from it made this sweet, delicate cheese with a creamy smoothness. To this day only this richest, most delicate cream cheese made is rightly called "Philadelphia."

To make sure of the remarkable smoothness, freshness and delicacy of flavor of this choice cheese, look for the name "Philadelphia" on the wrapper of the next cream cheese you buy. Phenix Cheese Corporation, 218 W. Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

GERMAN ELECTION MAY BRING ABOUT ECONOMIC STRIFE

Capitalists Said to Be Using Dawes Plan as Excuse for Abolition of Eight-Hour Day.

WAGES NOW LOWER THAN BEFORE WAR

Chancellor Marx, on Verge of Nervous Breakdown, Opposes Reactionary Movement.

By SAMUEL SPEWACK.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1924, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.
BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The general election for a new Reichstag to replace the one dissolved Monday will be an economic rather than a political war.

From conferences of leading industrialists in this city and Dresden it developed that big business wants to give Germany a reign of such capitalistic reaction as would be the envy of exponents of the 12-hour day. The Dawes plan will be used as the excuse, and the elections as an opportunity for reducing German workmen to virtual serfdom.

This is the real issue of the campaign, and as usual it is camouflaged in meaningless political phrases and the personalities of petty politicians.

In so many words the industrialists have told leaders of the German National and People's parties —the reactionary groups—that they must agree to abolition of the eight-hour day and of unemployment doles or receive no campaign funds. The leaders agreed.

Monarchy Is Advocated.

The moving spirit against the trade unions is Heinrich Leopold director of the Rubeck Mining Co., one of the greatest of the Stinnes concerns. Leopold once posed as a proletarian and was known in the Ruhr Valley as "Comrade Leopold."

Now he believes he can insure a supply of cheap German labor.

The catch phrase of the reactionaries will be that the Dawes plan so impoverishes capital that lower wages and longer hours must be borne as a patriotic duty. At the same time the industrialists want an unadulterated reactionary government, free from all liberal taint. This party issued a proclamation tonight saying it advocates a monarchy. The people's party's official proclamation also includes this statement. It is simply an appeal to political reactionaries who on economic grounds would side with the liberals.

Chancellor Marx is bitterly opposing such a reactionary government. He is on the verge of a nervous breakdown as the result of the strain of the recent Cabinet crisis, which caused the dissolution.
He insists he will not remain at the head of the Government unless the elections give a clear Liberal majority.

Wages Lower Than Before War.

The Socialists are arming for the deciding battle of their existence. They believe they will get votes from both Communists and Democrats. Many, however, will be with the People's and Nationalist parties and they will cut the widest swath in what promises to be a bitter campaign.

But the economic war has been begun at a time when German workmen are being paid 20 per cent less than pre-war wages, while prices are 20 per cent above the pre-war rate.

The Communists are facing the possibility of having their leaders wage their campaign from jail.
Every one of the 62 Deputies of this party will be arrested—if they can be found. Warrants were issued for them tonight, as well as for every other red leader, big and small.

This unprecedented raid has been instituted as the result of a police investigation into a communist factory for forging passports. The police say every communist of note has been traveling under a forged passport, German, American, British and French.

Deprived of Immunity.

Ruth Fischer, the communist Joan of Arc and leader of the party in the Reichstag, had four which she used on her travels outside the country on propaganda work.

The dissolution of the Reichstag deprives the Deputies of their Parliamentary immunity from arrest, but, warned by their secret agents, all but one—Helfin, who did not get away in time—have disappeared. Communists in the Prussian State Legislature, which has not been dissolved, are free from arrest, but warrants for them have been prepared for service as soon as this immunity can be lifted, which will be on election day.

The police evidence seems to be sound, but the authorities are not so much actuated by fear of the use to which forged passports might be put as by a desire to crush the party by jailing or exiling the leaders.

FOR the first time in the history of St. Louis a large sum of money is being raised for charitable purposes through the medium of endowment insurance.
Five-year endowment policies are being issued, payable to the Sisters of St. Mary.
This will lift the heavy debt of the Sisters in carrying on their work of charity, and endow the new St. Mary's Hospital.

For more than half a century the Sisters of St. Mary have been Good Samaritans in St. Louis, faithfully caring for the sick and poor. By self-denial and personal sacrifices they have built three great institutions to carry on their humanitarian work—St. Mary's Infirmary, Mount St. Rose Sanatorium for tuberculosis, and St.
Mary's Hospital.

How You Can Help

You can make a contribution to this worthy charity by taking out a five-year endowment policy for $500 or more on your life, or the life of any member of your family, or a friend, payable to the Sisters of St. Mary. In five years the face value of the policy, with earned dividends, is paid to the Sisters. In case of your death within five years all payments cease and the face value of the policy is paid to the Sisters. There will be no further installments for your estate to pay.

This plan enables you to make a substantial contribution to the Sisters with the least personal sacrifice. You make the payments in easy installments. The insurance company assumes all cost of solicitation and collection, and makes monthly reports to the Sisters. This eliminates the heavy expense of creating an organization for collecting and protecting such a fund, and assures the payment of the entire amount to the Sisters of St. Mary.

The Sisters have consecrated their lives to labor for the afflicted. They deserve your support.

The Endowment Insurance Plan

Five-year endowment policies are being issued in amounts of $500 or more by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to persons between the ages of 10 and 65 years, payable to the Sisters of St. Mary.

Each man or woman taking out a policy for $1000 or more is entitled to free hospital service at St. Mary's Infirmary during periods of sickness for the rest of his or her life.

The premiums are payable annually, semi-annually or quarterly. At the end of five years the face value of the policy with earned dividends, will be paid to the Sisters of St. Mary.

If the insured dies within five years, all payments cease and the face value of the policy will be paid to the Sisters of St. Mary at once.

Insurance is selected as the means by which this fund shall be raised. It is a practical, businesslike method for endowing your hospital.

BUILDING OPERATIONS
SHOW LARGE INCREASE

Building operations in Missouri during September showed an increase of 13 per cent over August and 57 per cent over September of last year.

Now is an opportune time for builders of new homes to select furniture. Sample suites and odd pieces are generously reduced this week at the Pruffrock-Litton Furniture Company, Fourth and St. Charles. Savings of 15% to 40%.

Honduras Election Nov. 16.

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—Honduras will hold its presidential election Nov. 16. It was announced here today. It is stated that Tiburcio Carías, one of Gen. Tosta's right-hand men in the dictatorship, probably would be a candidate on the Nationalist ticket.

on Taxis

Did you know that when there's no Brown Cab or Yellow Cab at a street stand, you can open the telephone box and call for one?

And when you've run out of gas, or your own car is stalled for any reason, perhaps late at night, or in a spot where there's no phone handy, did you ever think to watch passing cars for a taxi?

Much of the time taxis are empty. They have delivered their loads and are returning to their stands. Hail an empty Brown Cab or Yellow Cab anywhere...anytime.

on cloudy teeth

Modern science, by perfecting a new way of combating the stubborn film that covers teeth, now opens the road to whiter teeth, safely.

THAT cloudy teeth, yellowish, discolored teeth can be made whiter is now an accepted fact. Foremost dentists of the world are widely urging this new method. You can have cleaner, prettier teeth if you will start today.

This is accomplished by combating a viscous film that covers teeth. A stubborn, hard to remove film that old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel this film. Under it are the clear, attractive teeth you envy in others. Combat it, and your teeth become many shades whiter—more glowing. This offers you a 10-day test free. Mail the coupon.

ASSOCIATED PRESS
ORDER TO BE TESTED

Chicago Tribune to Seek Court Ruling on Broadcasting of Election Returns.

Special to the Post-Dispatch:
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Chicago Tribune has decided to defy the Associated Press edict against the radio broadcasting of election returns. On its first page today the Tribune says:

A notice from the Associated Press, the leading national news-gathering organization, was received yesterday by the Tribune. In part the notice read:

"You are requested to co-operate in enforcement of the established rules governing the display of bulletins and preventing the utilization for radio broadcasting of Associated Press returns from your territory to which the Associated Press exclusively is entitled. Attention is here called to former special privileges to members relating to election service." Signed, "The Associated Press."

"The instructions contained in the foregoing notice embody an interesting issue which is made acute by the rapid growth and almost universal use of the radio. By this notice the Associated Press seeks to prevent the radio dissemination of news by member newspapers—in this case the results of the national election—into the homes of the people. The Tribune will test the validity of the rule."

"Clash of 'Old and New.'"

"The issue is regarded as in effect a clash between the Old and the New."

"It would forbid the broadcasting of any Cook County election result by the Tribune for example, no matter if gathered by this paper's own reporters."

"Under this rule the Tribune could not inform the public over the radio on election night that Coolidge had carried Chicago or that La Follette had won Evanston, or that Small was running neck and neck with Jones, or that Crowe was 15,000 ahead of Igone for State's Attorney, or vice versa."

"Like Monopolistic Control."

"This rule appears to take on the aspect of monopolistic control. It is a direct attempt to prevent the Tribune to circulate important news by radio on the night before its morning issue appears with the identical news. Perhaps it would seem more canny to preserve in darkness the news that Coolidge has been elected or that there is a deadlock over the presidency until it could be revealed to the interested public at the newsstands on the morning after."

"But this is the era of the radio. Like other papers, the Tribune is recognizing this fact, has established a broadcasting bureau—at considerable expense and with no tangible compensatory return. The people have installed radios in their homes, they listen to public addresses, they want and expect the quick announcement of election results."

"Accordingly, before yielding to the ruling of the Associated Press, this newspaper proposes to consult lawyers and seek a ruling in the courts—even to the highest court—on the question of the rights of a news gathering organization to monopolize news and prevent its dissemination by means of radio."

MAN, 62, HELD FOR BEATING WIFE IN ROW OVER NOODLES
William Clemons is Alleged to Have Used Washtub and Pitcher as Weapons.
A washtub, a bowl of noodles, and an earthen pitcher figured prominently in the beating William Clemons, 62 years old, administered to his wife, Minnie, 42 years old, at noon yesterday, according to the wife's story to police.
Clemons objected to the noodles as part of the luncheon menu, his wife said, and, when she "talked back," he broke the bowl over her head. He then struck her several blows with the washtub and, when this failed to knock her down, delivered the coup de grace with the pitcher. Neighbors, attracted by the disturbance, called police, who found Mrs. Clemons on the kitchen floor with a badly lacerated head. She was treated at City Hospital, and a policeman returned with her to the Clemons' home, 4255 Nebraska avenue, to await the husband, who ran from the house when police arrived. Clemons returned late yesterday afternoon, and is being held on a charge of assault to kill.

AUTO DRIVER IS ROBBED
Armed Man Stops Machine and Takes $58 and Watch.
Harry Hathaway of Kenwood Springs was driving his automobile in Walton avenue, just north of Delmar boulevard, at 2 o'clock last night when a man with a revolver jumped on the running board and forced Hathaway to drive into an alley. The robber took $58 and a watch and departed, warning Hathaway he would be shot if he cried for help.

$9,500 Bank Lost Recovered.
By the Associated Press.
GLASGOW, Ky., Oct. 22.—Fred Lloyd and a man from Illinois were taken into custody at Lafayette, Tenn., yesterday and admitted, according to police, that they participated in the robbery of the Gamaliel (Ky.) State Bank yesterday morning. The loot, reported at between $2500 and $10,000, is said to have been recovered.

Women's Minor Ills
come from one cause

Chronic constipation is the plague of their lives, but thousands keep healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

WOMEN are so accustomed to finding themselves constipated that they are apt to make matters worse by indifference. Unfortunately many seem to think that it is easier to give the appearance of health with cosmetics, or stifle a headache with an opiate, than to remove the real cause by taking a good laxative.

The pill habit, of course, is not to be recommended, but any woman can take such a mild laxative as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with assurance that the dose can gradually be decreased and that there will be no shock or weakening of the system.

As is generally known, Syrup Pepsin is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. A spoonful will clean out the impacted matter and make you feel well by morning.

You should take a dose when you feel the slightest symptom of constipation, such as biliousness, flatulency, lassitude, loss of appetite, restlessness, sleep, bad breath, dull eyes, salivary skin, and to stop fevers and colds. Many do not wait for these symptoms, but take Syrup Pepsin regularly once a week. Mrs. Mary J. White, 122 Cedar Ave., Camden, N. J., and Mrs. L. H. Edwards, Palisade, Colo., say that much of their excellent health can be ascribed to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The other members of the family also use it as, being free from opiates and narcotics, it is perfectly safe, even for infants.

More than ten million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sold annually, the largest sale in the world. If you have been in the habit of using strong cathartic pills, salt waters or "candy cathartics," which contain a coal-tar drug called phenolphthalein, we especially urge you to try this milder method. You will have a better, freer passage and without strain or gripe. A bottle can be had at any drug store and the average cost is less than a cent a dose.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Pepsin Syrup Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not inclose postage. It is free.

The Road to Tire Satisfaction
Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords

Because of their unusual qualities and remarkable performance, Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords rank second to none. These super-grade tires are noted the world over for their great strength, long life and ability to meet any grueling test.

You can depend upon Gum-Dipped Cords where others fail. They stand grinding wear—heat and cold—terrific friction. Famous race drivers use them exclusively.

With the exclusive Gum-Dipping process every strand of cord is impregnated with tough, lively rubber, adding strength to stand the hardest use. No moisture can penetrate through cut or gash and rot the plies—ideal protection for Winter driving.

Gum-Dipped Cords cost no more than average Tires—their long mileage makes the ultimate cost much less. Our sale prices were never so low. Make this your Tire service headquarters. You will save time and money.

Sherwood Steel Racers Free During October

IN Sherwood sidewalk Steel Racers all of the time-tested features of standard construction have been retained, while weak points and faults have been eliminated.

Built of finest quality steel throughout, wheels specially designed for free rolling, minimum friction and longest possible wear.

The reinforcing ridge, embossed on top and bottom of bridge between heel and toe plate, gives firmness and rigidity, prevents sagging or bulging and doubles the strength of the Racer without adding weight.

All bearing points are hardened and ground to prevent wear. The four-point contact of wheel bearings insures free and easy rolling against strain at any angle; balls cannot bind or pile up in ball race, thus minimizing ball breakage. Rubber cushions under the bolster absorb shock, provide easy running, and a short turning radius.

WALTER JOHNSON IN $425,000 DEAL FOR OAKLAND (CAL.) TEAM BACK OF

Famous Pitcher Has $200,000 to Invest in Club

Told Washington Friends Affair Was Practically Certain to Go Through.

TO MANAGE AND PITCH

Johnson Deaf to Pleading of Griffith to Remain Two More Years.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—When Walter Johnson left this city for his home on the Pacific Coast he departed with the expectation of purchasing the Oakland (Cal.) club of the Pacific Coast League and devoting the remainder of his baseball life as owner, manager and pitcher of that league, he told intimate friends here.

While he has several propositions under consideration for the purchase of a club within a night's ride of his home at Reno, Nev., he has practically decided upon the Oakland deal.

This deal involves a consideration of $425,000. Walter has $200,000 in cash at present, and his friend, George Weiss, owner of the New Haven club of the Eastern League, will raise the balance necessary. This will necessitate the sale of the New Haven club, in which Johnson is a stockholder to the extent of $5000.

Made Up Mind to Quit.

Last spring Johnson made up his mind that he would pitch just one more year in the major leagues. He opened negotiations with the Vernon club owners at that time. Since then, after publicity was given Johnson's plans to become an owner on the Coast, other propositions were made to him. The Oakland club's offer appealed the most.

Before departing for his home in Reno, Johnson held a conference with Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, in which Griffith pleaded with his star hurler to remain a couple more years, but Johnson did not change his mind.

WILLIE KAISER TO MAKE DEBUT AT AMATEUR SHOW OF SOUTH BROADWAY

Willie Kaiser, a younger brother of Johnny "Peck" Kaiser, will make his debut as a contender for amateur boxing laurels in one of the preliminary events of a tournament to be held tomorrow night at the South Broadway A. C. Young Kaiser has filed his entry for the bantamweight division, and his opponent will be a local amateur named Ray Palmer. Kaiser, who has been acting as a sparring partner for his brother Johnny and Eddie Kaiser, another brother, who has achieved considerable prestige in amateur competition.

The preliminary events of the South Broadway tournament have drawn in entries, according to Fred Gilmaster, the bantam, who will draw for pairings along with young Kaiser, are Billy Cox, Paul Lang, Tom Derby, Roman Kremnitz, Ray Palmer, and Ed Gray.

Efforts are being made to match Jimmy Dugan, the Minn. state champion, for a special bout with Benny Moore of the South Broadway club.

WEST VIRGINIA TACKLE SUFFERS FRACTURED LEG IN SCRIMMAGE SESSION

By the Associated Press.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 22.—West Virginia University's football team, already crippled by death and grizzly accidents, suffered another blow when Joe Rangelley, a tackle, joined Julian Murrin, a halfback, and Charles Howard, tackle, on the hospital list. Rangelley suffered a broken leg yesterday during a scrimmage. Murrin is out of the game with a broken nose and Howard suffered a fractured leg earlier in the season.

The death of Gordon McMillan a week ago was a severe blow to the Mountaineers. In addition to playing quarterback he was considered the best punter on the team.

Murrin's nose first was broken two weeks ago. He returned to practice again this week and was struck in the face by a bouncing ball, breaking the member again.

Additional shifts in the Mountaineer lineup for the game Saturday at New York with Centre College will be made necessary by the accidents.

Five Members of Mackmen Have Had Tonsils Removed

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Five members of the Philadelphia Athletics have submitted within the last few days or will in the near future submit to the surgeon's knife, at the request of Manager Connie Mack, for the removal of their tonsils.

Mack said that five men, Baumgartner, Harris, Rommel, Heimach and Bishop, had been laid up several times during the past season with minor ailments which physicians attributed to their tonsils.

Three County Grid Contests Are Scheduled

Clayton vs. Maplewood in Feature Contest—Game at Webster Friday.

All of the county high school teams meet this week in championship battles. Ritenour, whose previous games were canceled by the withdrawal of Kirkwood and Normandy, will open its schedule against Webster, on the Webster field, Friday. Saturday afternoon Maplewood plays Clayton on Maplewood's field, and University City invades Ferguson. All the games start at 2 o'clock.

Perhaps the most interesting of these games will be the one between Clayton and Maplewood. Clayton sprang a big surprise last week when they beat the Ferguson team badly. Coach Hall's boys will find, however, Waldrick's Maplewood team a hard one to trim. Maplewood seems to have the edge on Clayton since University City beat Clayton 17-8 and Maplewood tied University City 12-12.

By using similar comparisons University City is seen to have an advantage over Ferguson. University City won from Clayton and tied Maplewood, whereas Ferguson lost to both those teams. But last week Coach Russell had to start without either Capt. Sheridan or Skidmore, both backfield stars, and if either of this pair is able to play Saturday, Ferguson may hand Markley's team a trimming.

Blanchard's Team Strong.

Little is known of Ritenour except that they held the strong Kirkwood outfit to a 7-0 score, then they played, a week ago, Coach Blanchard has worked hard with his boys and his team is a peppy one. Webster's team has made a good showing up to date and Coach Roberts is constantly improving the team.

The probable lineups:

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Willie Hoppe, world's 182 balkline billiards champion, and Augie Kieckhefer, former three-cushion champion, met today in the third and fourth blocks of their 400-point match. Hoppe led Kieckhefer 100 to 57 in the first two blocks yesterday, consuming 87 innings with a high run of 8, while his opponent's best was 5.

SIX METER YACHT RACE AT GLASGOW IN 1925

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Six-meter yacht race in 1925 at Glasgow, Scotland, between Scottish and American yachts is announced by Philip J. Roosevelt of the Seawanhauk Corinthian Yacht Club of Oyster Bay. The Americans will attempt to win back the trophy captured at Marblehead in September, 1923, by the Scotch six-meter yacht, Colla III.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Why Not Harry Frazee?

OVER there in the Barbare East, in the satrapy of J. P. Morgan, known otherwise as New York and situated just about the 12-mile limit, the natives seem to have a very high order of repartee, hitched to a very low grade of comprehension.

At least, we so assume after reading certain critical baseball blab-blahs of recent date, wherein one Tillingshast L'Hommiedieu Huston, formerly part owner of the Yankees, is placed in nomination to succeed Byron Bancroft Johnson as president of the American League.

Mr. Huston is just as welcome in the American League as a shark in a bathing pool. He has just the same chance to succeed Johnson that Jimmy O'Connell has to inherit Judge Landis' job.

Even former sparring partner, Jake Ruppert, of the Yankees, has just said: "Ban Johnson has a life job with the American League."

It's All Wrong.

SPEED mania is knocking the very hoots off of our American thoroughbreds. Numberless instances of the wrecking of famous horses by pasteboard tracks are on record.

Two years ago the great 3-year-old, Busy American, dark horse of the Kentucky Derby, broke down in the big race.

In preparation for this year's Preakness stake the fine 3-year-old St. James so badly hurt his foot that he had to be retired. Vice Counselor, Ladkin, Epineard Ordinance and other great ones have been crippled this season.

It's all because our racing methods are based on the clock. Time comparisons and the desire of track promoters to have new records hung up have forced the construction of tracks for speed purposes purely. That means hard tracks and hard tracks mean cracked quarters.

No Hard Tracks Abroad.

ENGLAND does it better, perhaps through long experience, more likely because over there racing is not promoted purely for money-making.

In England they have no official timing. Horses are not prepared against the watch. And they run on TURF!

In this country, under existing racing promotion conditions, turf tracks are about as feasible as banana-raising at the North Pole. That's because we have racing methods of from two weeks' to three months' duration and grass would not stand up under even the two weeks continuous pounding.

In England racing meets last two or three days only, at one track, and then move on.

The only remedy for American courses is to soften them up save the horses' feet and let the time take care of itself. After all, it's the courage and stamina that are desirable, not the second or two of time made possible by hard surface courses.

The Amazing Mr. Hoppe.

Normandy Beats Cleveland, 24-3

Van Reen, Quarterback, Scores Three of Victors' Touchdowns.

By the Associated Press.

Normandy High School football team, which has withdrawn from the county high school league because of disapproval of the eligibility rules adopted, yesterday administered a severe beating to the Cleveland High School team of St. Louis, winning 24 to 3.

Van Reen, one of the players who would have been ineligible under the new county high school code, was the bright star of the game.

Van Reen scored three touchdowns for his team. Not one touchdown was followed by a successful try for point. Cleveland's only score was a drop kick in the second quarter.

Billikens Give More Attention To Offensive

Assistant Coach Harvey Brown Drills Varsity for Solid Hour.

The St. Louis University backfield took advantage of the crisp air yesterday afternoon and went through an hour of offensive scrimmage on plays through tackle. As a result, the ends, who are the victims to be boxed and "taken out," were pretty well "strawberried" this morning.

Assistant Coach Brown, in the absence of Head Coach Savage, kept at the heels of the backs and pointed out flaws in the interference and on the whole, the men showed a decided improvement.

At the end of the session the varsity was put on the defense for a short period and stopped the charges of the freshmen who were using the pet plays of the University of Detroit squad which plays the Billikens here Saturday.

Pikers Lose Three Stars as Struggle With Rolla Impends

"Red" Ingram, Halfback, Ineligible, Webster and Levy Injured — Freshmen Run Over Varsity but Lose Practice Scrimmage.

Injuries and ineligibility, the two scourges of college football camps, have made their appearance on the Pikeaway, just a few days before Washington must resist the invasion of the Missouri School of Mines eleven.

The most serious blow to Washington's 1924 gridiron ambitions is the ineligibility of Glenn "Red" Ingram, former East St. Louis High School star and ace of the freshman backfield last year. Ingram was expected to become a mainstay of the Pike offense this season. He worked out regularly with the varsity until the eve of the Drury game when it was discovered that he was deficient in his scholastic credits. Howe existed that he might become eligible later in the season, but it was definitely announced yesterday that he is out for the year. His brother, Jim Ingram, is a regular halfback.

Injuries sustained in the Grinnell game and in scrimmages last week will probably keep three regulars out of the lineup that faces Rolla Saturday. Fred Webster, center, is almost sure to be on the sidelines when the game starts, and Charley Levy and Sammy Floun are suffering from injuries likely to keep them out of the backfield.

Fresh Outplay Varsity.

With Levy, Floun and Webster out of the lineup, the regulars made a rather sluggish appearance against the fighting freshmen in yesterday's scrimmage. The regulars scored two touchdowns, both the result of lucky breaks.

The freshmen outplayed the varsity, making frequent gains on forward passes and on runs, with Mahan and Rawden carrying the ball. Al Hayes made several good end runs for the varsity, but the regulars still seem unable to make dependable interference for the backs.

Coach Wimberly will send the Pikers through another scrimmage this afternoon, probably against the Scott Field Aviators, who are expected to call at Francis Field for a little rough work.

Clayton Is Victor Over Maplewood in Tennis Tournament

The first round of the boys' doubles tennis matches was played off in the County High School League at Clayton yesterday. Although it was too cold for fine tennis, both matches were interesting. The feature game resulted in the defeat of Prather and Row of Maplewood by Pillsbury and Talbot of Clayton in straight sets, 7-5, 7-5. Webster emerged victor when McMillan and Dickman won from Budde and Granville of University City, 6-2, 6-4. The finals will be played off tomorrow.

Prather and Budde will meet Thursday on the Trip A courts to decide the championship in singles. The cold weather yesterday did not seem to agree with either of the finalists and they both hoped to have warm weather later in the week.

The first round of the girls' doubles tournament will be played today on the Clayton courts.

EDMONTON, Alberta, Oct. 22.—Commercial graduates ladies' basketball team of this city last night defeated the Chicago "Stars" in the first game of a two-game series for possession of the Underwood Trophy, emblematic of the ladies' international basketball championship. The score was 26 to 12.

Boston Soccer Club Asks for Fight by Board, Dates in St. Louis Not Available

May Come Here for Hall Games — Player Transferred to Vesper Club.

It is probable that the Boston Soccer Club, tied for the lead in the American Soccer League, considered one of the strongest teams that has ever played in the country, will appear in a soccer exhibition game here, it was announced today by Winton B. Brown, president of the St. Louis Soccer Club.

"G. A. G. Woods, president of the Boston club, which is composed exclusively of foreign born players, has expressed an eagerness to have the team out here," Brown said. "He is glad to give the New Year's holidays. The game will appear here at Clayton time."

The immediate visit of the Boston team has been abandoned because the local league representatives provided a park for Saturday afternoon after the conclusion of the day. However, it is understood that the Steelmen will be given a poor shape as a result of the long trip.

Bill Stockstock, has informed the board of representatives of the Boston Soccer Club that the team will appear here at Clayton time.

United States Football Association, the national governing body of soccer, has advised Barker that the use of player Raphael by the Vesper-Bucks has been dismissed. Tracy, Brown has decided, is the legal property of Vesper club.

By Dent McKimming.

Saturday, the day of opening of the local league season, has drawn near, the question of a playing field grows acute. It was learned yesterday that the efforts of the Board of Education to obtain the use of the Sportsman's Park for the league have met with a refusal by Phil Ball, owner of the Browns. The board representatives told the board of representatives that they would be glad to accommodate the league but for the fact that the Sportsman's Park is in such a poor shape as a result of the long trip.

May Stadium Has Plans.

The lack of a field has resulted in the Board of Education's re-neging its lease on Handlan's stadium at Laclede avenue and Grand. The board had in mind early completion of a school building on a plot of ground recently purchased at Natural Bridge and Kingshighway. The situation will probably result in an early start on the stadium front line which has been games, scoring eight goals. Heberberger, injured center, may be played at Francis field on Saturday mornings or on Sunday afternoons. The stadium may be played at Francis field on Saturday mornings or on Sunday afternoons. There are no stands about field.

Times past the high school has played their games on the car while working on an automobile, are so serious that they will never again play on the field. His absence will greatly hamper the chances of the Scullin field on morning affairs. One none of the team's greatest morning games reached.

Other Contenders Will Compete in an Elimination Tourney

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Rules which contenders for the world's heavyweight boxing crown every day in the quest for the title left by the resignation of John Dundee, were defined by the Athletic Commission yesterday.

Six most logical contenders, the opinion of the commission, will be in an elimination tournament boxing on the same card three 16-round exhibitions. The winners will then meet and the champion be determined by the process of elimination. The pairings are determined by a draw. This will be put into operation as a promoter can be obtained to hold the tournament.

A triangle which has developed since Paul Bernbach became contender failed to show any material despite rumors to the effect that the managers of Turner and Bernbach had agreed to allow Bernbach to be Mike McTigue's challenger with the stipulation that Bernbach be allowed to meet the champion.

Proposition was placed before the commission, but this body refused to discuss such an arrangement and signed by the managers of the three principal contenders will appear before the board on Friday with written agreement for the approval of the commission.

May Come Here for Holiday Games — Player Tracy Awarded to Vesper.

It is probable that the Boston Soccer Club, tied for the lead in the American Soccer League race, considered one of the strongest teams that has ever played in the country, will appear in a series of exhibition games here, it was announced today by Winton Barker, president of the St. Louis league. "G. A. G. Woods, president of the Boston club, which is composed of exclusively of foreign born players, has expressed an eagerness to play his team out here," Barker said. "We will probably book them for the New Year's holidays. Fall games will appear here at Christmas time."

The immediate visit of the Boston team has been abandoned because the local league cannot provide a park for Saturday games until after the conclusion of the college football season. Thanksgiving day, however, it is understood that the Steelmen will be given a day in December.

Andrew Brown, secretary of the United States Football Association, the national governing body of soccer, has advised Barker that the protest of the Italian club against the use of player Raphael Tracy by the Vesper-Bucks has been dismissed. Tracy, Brown has said, is the legal property of the Vesper club.

With Ribby Murphy and Jim Nolan added to the halfback line and Jim Burke at center forward, with Leo Dill in goal, the Steelmen will present a much stronger team in their battle with the new players in Sunday. Manager Barker has not yet signed Jim Dunn, center forward, and will use the same front line which has won the games, scoring eight goals. Heberberger, injured, center, will be back, will return to the lineup. White and Fitzgerald will also be available.

Tom Harris, formerly center forward of the Vespers, is on the Boston club's forward line and who starred for Gillespie last season, is playing inside left on the Providence team of the American League, a club managed by Fletcher, former Bethlehem player.

Joe Hennessy's injuries, sustained when he was struck by a car while working on an automobile, are so serious that he probably will never again play football. His absence will greatly hurt the chances of the Steelmen for he has been none of the team's greatest assets.

Famous Winning Football Plays—No. 15

HARLOW'S COLGATE REVERSE FORWARD PASS.

THIS clever play by Coach Dick Harlow, a reverse forward pass, is one reason why Colgate eleven score numerous victories.

As shown in the accompanying diagram, the ball comes direct to left halfback No. 1, who starts on an end run and gives ball to No. 2, who comes back and makes the pass to either end.

Fullback No. 4, after faking on end run, blocks defensive right tackle.

With the snap of the ball left end No. 5 goes deep beyond defensive halfback.

Right end No. 6 cuts across into territory halfback has left. Pass is made to the end uncovered.

Linemen all block their opponents—staying solid.

To Make Public Dolan Testimony In Bribery Case

W. J. Fallon, Player's Attorney, to Sue Landis for Slander.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Startling developments in the Dolan-Landis controversy were promised today by William J. Fallon, Dolan's legal adviser, who said that he would make public this afternoon copies of Dolan's testimony before Commissioner Landis.

Fallon, well-known criminal lawyer, recently acquitted on a charge of bribing Charles W. Rendigs, a juror in the Durrelle-Gregory mail fraud case, admitted yesterday that he has been retained by Dolan to bring an action against Landis for slander, and demanding his share of the world's series receipts and his restoration in good standing to his club.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, refused today to comment on the threatened suit for slander which Cozy Dolan, expelled New York coach, plans to bring against Landis and organized baseball.

Fallon, who was the subject of a 1921 suit for slander by the American League, "Dolan," Johnson said, "has retained Andy Fallon. He has a lawyer who represented Arnold Rothstein after the 1919 scandal." He also represented Babe Ruth, who was in the time in which we tried to extradite the man who was said to be the go-between in fixing the White Sox players. Fallon has been close to John McGraw. It all seems to work out in a cycle."

Landis May Listen to Dreyfus.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 22.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, and Barney Dreyfus, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who were at odds concerning the manner in which the investigation of the recent baseball scandal was conducted, will meet at the festive board here in event the former judge can cancel a previous engagement, according to the committee arranging for the Dreyfus testimonial dinner next Saturday. The committee invited Commissioner Landis to attend as a guest of honor, and a telegram received yesterday from the commissioner said he would be on hand if he succeeded in breaking a previous date.

With Landis and Dreyfus at the same table, followers of baseball are inclined to believe that the controversy between the commissioner and the magnate may be revived.

SHADE OFFERED BOUT WITH MICKY WALKER

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 22.—Babe Cullen, National Sportsman's Club promoter, yesterday announced that he had wired Leo Flynn, manager of Dave Shaw, an offer of $10,000 to have Shade fight Micky Walker, welterweight champion, at the Newark Armory, Nov. 24.

Pittsburg Man Opposes Layton

National 3-Cushion Billiard League Opens Here Today.

Johnny Layton, who has held the world's championship at pocket and three-cushion billiards, will open the national three-cushion league season here today when he opposes William Greenwood of Pittsburg. An afternoon match will be played at the Rogers Recreation Parlor, downtown, and this evening's match will be played at the Layton-McEniry rooms at Grand and Olive. The same arrangement of a division of matches will be followed all season.

Greenwood has been defeated in four matches thus far, losing to Pierre Maupome at Chicago and Tiff Denton at Kansas City. Denton defeated him yesterday, 50 to 46 and 50 to 34. The first game went 47 innings and the evening match 60 innings. Denton had a high run of 8 and Greenwood one of 6.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Gus Copulos of Detroit won one of two matches played here yesterday with Bob Canefax, the three-cushion champion. The scores: Canefax, 50-46; Copulos, 45-43.

Epinaud's Owner May Send Another Star To Race in America

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—If his stables produce another horse of the quality of Epinaud he will bring it to America for another test of international racing. Pierre Wertheimer, owner of the French colt, which was beaten in four starts here, said today before sailing for home on the Paris.

"Perhaps one of Epinaud's sons will be capable of taking the measure of your best," he said. "Assuredly, it will then be a pleasure to return to a country where I had so many courtesies shown me." Epinaud will be shipped about Nov. 5 to the Wertheimer establishment in France to be retired to the stud.

INCREASED ACTIVITY IN STOCK LIST

Strength Shown by Securities and Foreign Exchanges — Bonds Also Active and Better.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Active and strong security markets and foreign exchanges and different commodity trading were had today. Perhaps the feature of activities on the Stock Exchange was the sharp increase in the volume of transactions, the turnover exceeding 1,000,000 shares, for the first time in a week. In fact, it was just a week ago that the market broke rather sharply under heavy selling by shorts and general liquidation, much of which was attributed to 'election scare.' Since then Wall Street's nerves have become quieter and the present rally may be an attempt on the part of the professional traders to anticipate a favorable outcome at the polls. At any rate, short covering was active and 'election scare' while low-priced rallies rallied in sympathy with stocks.

Foreign Exchanges Strong.
"Foreign exchanges continued strong with sterling again the feature of the trading. A large business was transacted, with heavy buying by local banks, particularly of sterling. Strength in European exchanges at this time is especially noteworthy, in view of the unusually heavy buying of grain and cotton here in recent weeks. On the other hand, large credits have been established on this side during the autumn by several European countries, the natural tendency of which is to ease pressure of the exchange. Sterling sold up 1/4 of a cent to $1.50 and French franc gained 2 1/2 points at 5.25 cents, but in the latter trading slight recessions occurred. Swiss franc advanced 7 points closer to parity and other European currencies moved moderately. Indian rupee higher with sterling.

Little Change in Steel.
"News from the steel industry is heartless. Lead-to-mouth buying which has characterized the attitude of consumers for so long, is, if anything, accentuated. The iron Age attributes to conservatism in advance of the election and predicts that quiescence is likely to continue for another two weeks. On the other hand, the mills appear to be maintaining their September rate of production, and the comparatively low stocks in consumers' hands lend some weight to the view that a fillip to buying will come once political uncertainties are removed. Prices meanwhile are changing little, although the tendency is toward weakness, which is but natural in view of the shrunken competition incident to the new price basis."

IRENE DALTON HELD ON MANN ACT CHARGE

Screen Actress Indicted With John R. Owens, Wealthy Toledo Man.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 22.—A bitter court fight is expected in Los Angeles by John Raymond Owens, son of the late Michael Owens, glass manufacturer, and Irene Dalton, movie actress and sister of Dorothy Dalton in opposing their extradition to Toledo to face charges of violating the Mann act.

Both the wealthy Toledoan and the actress gave themselves up to Los Angeles authorities Monday on advice of Owens' Toledo attorneys. Judge Killits asked the California court to hold Owens on $10,000 bond and Miss Dalton on $20,000. This was done. Judge Killits has ordered that they be brought to trial here Nov. 3.

The indictments were returned against Owens and Miss Dalton by the Federal grand jury in Toledo Oct. 10. Both indictments were kept secret.

In the first indictment, Owens and the motion picture actress were charged jointly with violating the Mann act in a trip the two are alleged to have taken from Los Angeles to Detroit by way of Chicago and Toledo. The trip was made between Dec. 15 and 28, 1921, the indictment charged.

Three counts are cited in this indictment. It is charged that the two traveled by way of the Missouri Pacific and the New York Central Railroads from Los Angeles to Toledo, and then traveled from this city to Detroit.

Owens is named alone in the second indictment. This charges him with a trip from Los Angeles to Toledo and with a trip from Chicago to Toledo.

Information which led to the returning of the indictments, was obtained in the affidavits which Owens made when he was served with subpoenas in his wife's divorce suit, it was learned in the District Attorney's office.

Mrs. Owens filed suit for divorce here in April, 1923. She charged her husband with infidelity and named Miss Dalton. At the time of the divorce suit Owens was living in California and authorities were unable to get service on him. The case was held up for more than a year in his absence.

Soon after the death of Michael Owens, attorneys for Mrs. Owens obtained an injunction here restraining the payment of the son's share of the estate pending settlement of the divorce proceedings. It is estimated that the young man's share amounts to at least $500,000. The Owens estate, was estimated at approximately $2,000,000.

Both Deny Charges.

Both Owens and Miss Dalton made vigorous denials of the charge. "This is simply an attempt by my wife and her advisers to frighten me into agreeing to pay a large money settlement that they have demanded in connection with the divorce suit instituted by my wife," Owens said at Los Angeles. "The suit is pending chiefly because I have refused to agree to the exorbitant demands made by my wife."

"There is absolutely no truth in the charges made against Miss Dalton and myself. We never went to Toledo together, and there is no foundation in fact for this indictment. The whole matter was investigated at the instigation of my wife's attorneys in 1922, and it was decided then that there was no basis for an indictment."

An unusual feature of the case is that Miss Dalton is named as a defendant in the action.

HOWARD PRAISES DAWES PLAN

More Hope in Europe Than in 10 Years, Ambassador Says.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Although the Dawes reparation plan has been in operation but a short time, there is "more hope, more good will and more charity in Europe than there has been for 10 years at least," it is almost from time immemorial, Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, declared in an address here today at a luncheon of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation.

Speaking on the general subject of economics in international politics and international trade as a factor for peace, the Ambassador also referred to past activities of certain hunters and company promoters in world fields, which sometimes have threatened the peace of the world. He declared that there is "only one way to eliminate this possible danger to peace and good will, and that is by the strict application of the American doctrine of the 'open door'."

Maud Adams Forms Movie Concern

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Formation of the Maud Adams Co., Inc., under a Delaware charter, with a capital of $3,500,000, to film pictures, was announced last night. Miss Adams several years ago evolved a new process of color photography. The first picture is expected to be Kipling's "Kim."

Falls 5 Stories, Lands on Feet.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Harry Wright, 24 years old, a buller cleaner, yesterday fell five stories from the side of a Chicago skyscraper when he lost his balance, but landed on his feet and suffered no worse injuries than two broken ankles and a dislocated right arm.

THE "WALKINGEST" MAN

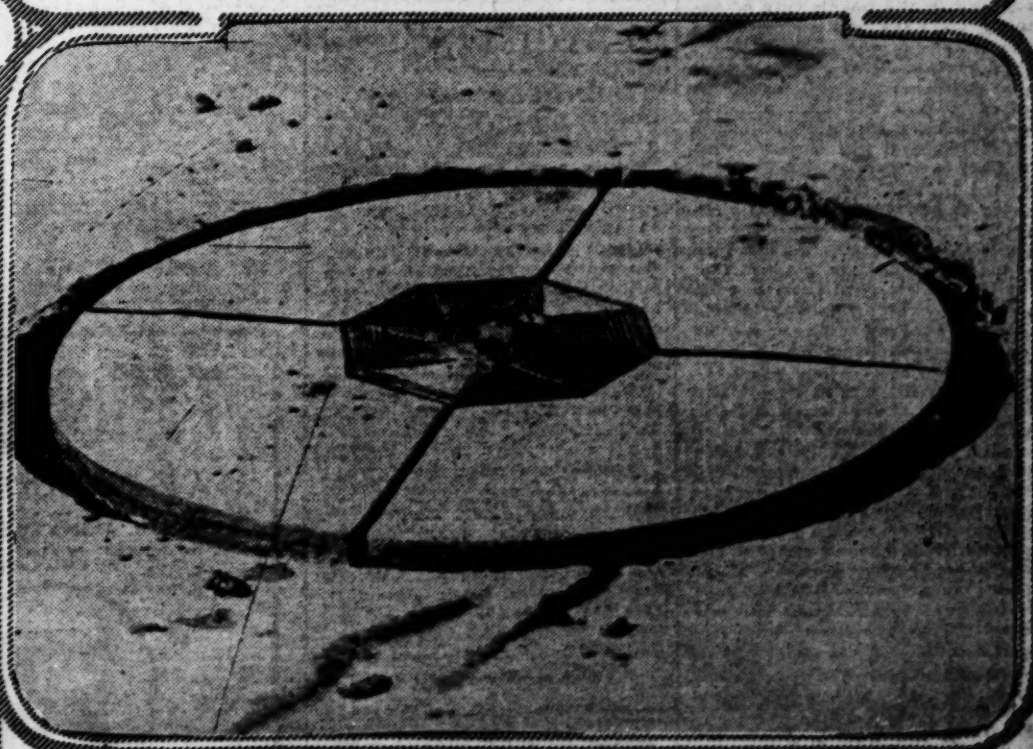

James Diviny, railroad police officer in the Southern Pacific R. R. Co. San Francisco, who claims that title. His duties compel him to walk about 18 miles every night, opening doors and inspecting corridors in the building. As he has been working there 23 years, and there are 250 office doors, he has figured he has already walked 125,000 miles and opened 1,845,760 doors.

The Man on the Sandbox

THE REVUE.

I N dear Urbana, Illinois,
There is a superhuman boy, Whose famous name is seen to flame
In story and in headline.
When, on the ball he gets a grip, Straight down the field he makes a trip
And never stops until he plops
The ball behind the deadline.

The coaches have to rearrange
Their well-laid plans, for Harold Grange Breaks up their plays and in a daze,
He shortly has them blowing.
By doing unexpected things,
He has them going round in rings;
They never know where he will go
But only know he's going.

The Senate will investigate
The Democrats' financial state;
They must account for the amount
Down to the final penny.
To which they say: "Please let us know
If you discover any dough;
From town to town we shook 'em down
But found no signs of any."

And Cautious Cal and Charley Dawes
Now grab at literary straws
To keep afloat and get the vote
That hasn't any meaning;
They'll never be elected by The straws from either wheat or rye
They do not count though the amount
Is fabulous they're gleaming.

IN ALTON.
A spreading adder was recently killed in Alton, Ill. When found

It was adding up a column in an old newspaper.

It is reported that a hunter of Alton, while gunning for rabbits the other day, flushed a covey of lyre birds.

Illinois may not have a one-man team but she has a ten-man half-back.

"Democratic Fund Will Be Probed Next."
Boy, fetch a microscope!

Coolidge, Davis and La Follette are claiming this State and the other state state anyone of the
the state of anxiety.

It was Epinard's hoof, not his heart, that cracked under the strain, although he did have some heart-breaking finishes.

Looks like by the time our citizens agree on a site for the new Courthouse, Kingshighway will be the business center of the city.

Due to the abolition of street parades, the minstrel boys now have to high-hat the public in busses.

The man on the sandbox says it looks as though "Red" Grange had cinched his job on the All-America football team for another year.

Yean Gregg was an important factor in helping Seattle win the pennant in the Pacific Coast League. Yean Gregg will be remembered as the young fellow who pitched for the Indians at the battle of Wounded Knee, back in the days when Indians wore feathers and the war dance was the popular form of amusement with the younger set.

THRILLING VOYAGE THROUGH MOUNTAINS

Lights of Arizona Copper

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 22.—The Shenandoah passed over Pecos, Tex., at 2:10. She was flying fast and apparently was getting the benefit of a strong wind.

By the Associated Press.
EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 22.—The dirigible Shenandoah "sailed over El Paso at 7:30 a. m. today on her way from San Diego to Fort Worth.

The big ship was not moving more than 20 miles an hour, according to estimates of air officers from Fort Bliss, and apparently had all motors going in an effort to gain speed.

She got badly off her course early today and dipped into Mexico, according to reports received at Douglas, Ariz., before she was set right by wires from Fort Huachuca.

As darkness settled on the Shenandoah above the Arizona plains the gas in the great bag was contracted by chilling "breath" and became heavier with every drop in the temperature, so that the aircraft was forced to jettison 1400 pounds of gasoline and release one of the tanks after having discharged all water ballast to acquire an even keel. With all ma-tors running full speed, she had settled to an angle of 14 degrees.

She is due in Fort Worth about 4 p. m. There she will take on 200,000 cubic feet of helium tonight and cast off for Lakehurst, N. J., her home station, tomorrow morning.

The Shenandoah passed over
Van Horn, Tex., at 11:40 a. m.
Van Horn is 125 miles east of here.

Thrilling Voyage Through Mountain Passes.

ABOARD THE U. S. S. SHEN-ANDOAH, Oct. 22, via Fort Bliss, Tex.—The last of the Rocky Mountain barriers was passed by the U.
S. S. Shenandoah early today.

The big ship had groaned and strained as it drove into the eddies whirling over the peaks. The wind currents rushed through the mountain passes like millraces.

Along the shaft houses of the copper mines of Bisbee, Ariz., were illuminated like a summer amusement park when the big dirigible unexpectedly found herself in a bowl of the Mule Mountains over the city at 12:34 a. m. Peaks of mountains seemed to tower around it on all sides except the single pass through which it had entered the pocket in the Rockies.

The ship sped at 50 miles an hour over the ranges of Arizona at an altitude of 6500 feet.

Another 175-pound tank of gasoline was dropped through the silk-net bottom to lighten the load.

Along the 600 feet of the Shenandoah's strutting body on either side of the 1-inch cat walk, the big gas bags seemed ready to burst against the network of cord as the helium expanded in the rarified atmosphere.

In the navigating car, Lieutenant-Commander Lansdowne, Captain of the Shenandoah, Lieutenant-Commander Hancock, the executive officer, and the officers on watch were straining their eyes into the darkness, guiding the ship as it sped on its uncharted course of the air.

In each of the motor gondolas engines were roaring and men on duty were eager to respond like a flash to the signals which might mean the difference between succession and safety. Wary men off duty were sleeping in their bunks. The deafening roar of ma-tors lulled the exhausted to sleep and drowned the voices of those awake.
